Goes to Church in Invalid Chair Mail Box "Maw" Kindly Presented

MAW SURELY will be gratified to know how much happiness and comfort T. L. L., a helpless invalid, is deriving from the invalid chair she so generously presented. As boxites will remember, T. L. Is a woman advanced in years, who has been tied to the house, unable to get out to enjoy the summertime beauties she so much loves, all because there was no chair in which to take her.

A fund was started by the boxites to purchase a chair, but it was accumulating so slowly, it looked as if the summer would be past, the harvest time and autumn glories all over and winter here again before anything like enough was realized to get that chair for the shut-in circleite. The Maw, generous, big-hearted, thoughtful Maw came to the rescue and sent along the chair.

A question arose, what should be done with the money on hand for the chair? Cynthia Grey had an idea it might appropriately go to the W. M. C. H. cot fund, provided the contributors did not object and T. L. L. was willing.

Here is T. L. L.'s official mail-box "thank you," which springs right from her heart, and with it sanction for use of the money, so far as she is concerned, for another purpose.

Dear Miss Grey,-Please convey my thanks to Maw for chair. I am very glad to be the possessor of it and I am sure "Maw" will be pleased to know that I have already been out twice in it, also en to church, and when the weather permits, I hope to enjoy its

Yes, dear Miss Grey, make whatever use you like of money from fund commenced on my behalf. I am sure you will put it to good account. My sincere thanks to all boxites who interested themselves on my behalf.

LITTLE HELP FROM HUSBAND. Dear Miss Grey,—I am a constant reader of your interesting page, and get many helpful hints. I am a poor with three small children, and my baby was just two years old this month. He has been a very delicate baby all his life, and I have very poor health myself. I get but very little support from my husband, and I see where many get help, so I would be very grateful to anyone for any clothing they wish to give away. I would pay postage on them. I see where Lancashire Lass wanted a few flannelette flags. If you would a few flannelette flags. If you would please, send me her address I will send her the flags, as I have a number she may have. Anyone wishing my address will find it with Miss Grey. Also find self-addressed envelope for Real Lancashire Lass. Wishing all the Boxites the best of luck, I am, WORRIED MOTHER NO. 2. Your cross certainly is a heavy one. Worried Mother, in ill-health yourself with your baby boy delicate, and seeing your other little ones in need of things which you cannot provide them. It certainly isn't fair that your husband does not do his share to support the woman he is pledged to "love, honor and cherish," and the children that are his responsibility as much as the mother's. What's the trouble? Isn't he able to work, or can't he get employment? It is good of you to think of others when you have so much worry of your own you have so much worry of your own, and to offer to give the flags for Lancashire Lass. She must have the required number now, but some other Boxite may be glad to get yours. Am forwarding the address of Real Lancashire Lass, whose last letter is a real treat. Am calling you Worried Mother No. 2, as we already have a Worried Mother on our list.

WAR BRIDE FROM BERKSHIRE. Dear Miss Grey,—I have been reading the letters in the paper for a very long time, and at last I have plucked up enough courage to write to you and see if I can be spared little corner in the Mall-Box. Aren't we having nice weather, but how different from the English climate! I have been in your lovely country three years next Thursday, July 20, and I don't think I would ever go back again to England If I had no relations there. I suppose you have no Boxite that comes from Berkor even London. I know pretty well all over London, as I have traveled a great deal, going also to Scotland, Ireland and South Wales. I must tell you I am a war bride, and have three little children, two girls,  $4\frac{1}{2}$  and  $2\frac{1}{2}$ , and a little son I0 months. Dear Miss Grey, can I 10 months. Dear Miss Grey, can I ask if any of your Boxites send me a pattern of little creepers for my son? I should be very grateful for same, and can you tell me if I can send money (coins, I mean) through the mail for S. C. H.? I am a long way from a postoffice, and it would be a long way and the mail for S. C. H.? I am a long way from a postoffice, and it would be a long way. inconvenience me to go a long way off with the children. let me know, please, and I will send you something for your good work for the S. C. H. Please forgive writing—the youngsters are running around.

BERKSHIRE LASS.

STILL AWAITS BLESSINGS. Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please forward inclosed letter to Real Lancashire Lass, as I understond her address is with you.

How are you keeping, this hot weather? It must be rather fatiguing in town; it is bad enough out in the country, but one does get the breeze and get out under the shade trees, which helps to lessen it quite a bit. My husband is still working; is not gaining much, though. His cough keeps him back, and I think his lungs are affected. Last week he met with an accident and hurt his met with an accident and nurt his hand pretty badly, but he is able to do a few light jobs at his work, so still gets his pay. We are trying to get our doctor's bills paid off. It will take quite a while, but with good health and perseverance we will make it, I hope.

I am always cheerful, hoping that the is our unjucky year, and that this is our unlucky year, and that It will bring a brighter future. The doctor told my husband he didn't know how I could keep so bright and cheerful under such circumstances as we were in last win-ter, but, dear Miss Grey, believe me, many a time I carried a heavy heart, although I had a cheerful face, and I can never forget that had it not been for the generosity of yourself and the Mall-Box friends, we would have fared pretty badly.

My two little boys have had a few cents given to them, and they are saving them until they get enough to send to the fund. My enough to send to the fund. My eldest boy says it will be a little return for all the good we received. Now I will close, with all best wishes, and thanking you. Hope it will not be giving you too much trouble for forward the inclosed letter. Yours very gratefully, THIRTY-SEVEN. Dear Thirty-seven, it is always a great pleasure to hear from you, first because your undaunted courage is such an inspiration, and secondly, because you are one of the rare people who ever forget a kindness done. And you are inculcating the same spirit in those nice laddies of yours. Some day they are going to make things very easy for the best mother in the world, their own, and because they have faced hardship so early without being crushed or warped, they are going to be very tender and considerate for others. won't you be proud and happy to know that your faith was justified, that the clouds would turn inside out and show a silver lining! I've a kind of premonition the lining of yours is going to be shining gold. When the gift for the hospital comes in it surely will be "twice blessed." Do hope your husband's hand will recover quickly. Am

Ontario Women's Institute President Thinks Citizenship For Service Needs Impressing.

WITH MRS. BECKER

INCLINED TO AGREE

Mrs. G. F. Edwards of Komoka, president of the Ontario Provincial Women's Institute, is inclined to approve of the suggestion of Mrs. W. H. Becker, reported in Thursday's Advertiser with regard to official recognition annually by municipalities of the new voters.

"I read the interview with Mrs. Becker this morning," she said Thursday to the Women's Department of The Advertiser. "The idea was not altogether new to me, because Mrs. Becker had expressed her view to me on the subject when we rode together on the train from Hamllton to Toronto one day recently. "I think welcoming of the new Canadians into their citizenship by the municipality would have the effect of impressing upon them that they had actually become a part of the national life, and were expected to cherish thereafter the best interests of the country of their adoption. It seems to me it would be a fine step in the direction of Canadianiza-

"So far as our own young people. born in Canada, are concerned, the war has changed many things. Probably before the war I would not have given the question of such a ceremony a second thought. But, with memories we have of the years between 1914 and 1918, I feel it is incumbent upon our young men and young women to take very seriously the obligations of a citizenship which has been saved free for them at a great price. Possibly this idea is more prominent in my mind than today, because only yesterday I attended the unveiling of the monument erected by the Granton Women's Institute in memory of the boys of the district who laid down Gordon. their lives in service, lads who died before they had a chance to live to erve as citizens and leaders.

"I admit the inauguration of such chieving of majority ceremonies isn't just as easy to rally young men and young women of 21 for a celebration like that as it is to get the ounger boys and girls. Like Mrs. Becker, I feel strongly the importance of beginning early thorough training or citizenship.
