Many of the residents of the north part of the city are by no means satisfied with the action of the City Council in stopping the proposed new sewer at St. James street. They point to the fact that there is a large and growing residential section of the city north of that street which is absolutely without sewer accommodation of any kind, not because the residents are unwilling to pay their share of the cost but because the Council seems unwilling to grant them the sewerage facilities. A petition will be circulated in a few days, demanding that the aldermen authorize the extension of the proposed new sewer so as to serve all that portion of the city, and the petition promises to be largely signed. It is thought hardly likely that the Council will refuse the residents' entirely reasonable request. Question for the Underwriters.

City Clerk Edwards has forwarded an important letter to the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, in compliance with the instructions of the City Council. The letter makes three inquiries of the Association, asking what reduction in the new "key rate" of the city they will be prepared to grant in event of com-pliance with the regulations of the Association, what reduction will be granted in the event of the city purchasing a new fire engine in addition to the two about to be delivered, and to the two about to be granted in the event of the city constructing an additional water main.

CINE, NEW DRUG STORE OPENED

Messrs. Meek & Vining Open Handsomely Appointed Establishment at Corner Wellington and Dundas Streets.

An important addition to the drug stores of the city is the fine establishment just opened at the corner of Dundas and Wellington streets by Messrs. Meek & Vining. Both proprietors are honor graduates of the Ontario College of Pharmacy, and have been awarded the degree of Phm. B. from the University of Toronto, which, together with their extended connection with the firm of Cairneross & Lawrence, of this city, ensures that they are in a position to meet with especial efficiency the demands of the trade. In addition, both are well known, and so may reasonably expect the support of a portion of the ex-clusive trade of the city. A feature of the new establishment will be that none but the very best and newest goods will be kept in stock, while in every other respect the stock will be such as to invite the custom of those who are fastidious in their purchase of toilet accessories.
