RETAIL DRY GOODS.

The Popular House of Edward McKeown,

One of the best known retail dry goods houses in the city is that of Edward McKeown at 182 Yonge street. McKeown has been established for years, and by fair and honorable dealing has won the confidence of the public, which is the keynote of a business man's success. Good goods at reasonable prices is his motto and he never departs from it.

In order to do a large trade merchant must have a large stock. Mr. McKeown recently enlarged his establishment and is now able accommodate his army of customers and the public generally with greater facility than public generally with greater previously. Just now he has an especially fine stock of goods for the fall and winter. His November sales are away up, which is ample proof of his being able to sell fashionable and reliable goods at lower rices than any competitor.

It is impossible in this notice to give an adequate idea of the immense and varied stook on Mr. McKeown's shelves, but a tew of the leading lines may be mentioned.
Special bargains are offered in winter dress tew of the leading lines may be mentioned. Special bargains are offered in winter dress goods, which are unsurpassed for variety, style and price, among them being new plain fabrics, pin-head and invisible checks, Beige, illuminated and heather mixtures, Beige, illuminated and heather mixtures, and courtauld's waters, camelettas, etc., etc. The black dress department embraces French orepes, drap d'almas, cashmeres, camelettas, etc., and Courtauld's waterprof crapes. In silks, satins and velvets the showing is very fine, while all the novelties of the season are offered in trimmings, buttons, neckwear, ribbons, gloves and all those little fineries with which ladies adorn themselves. The latest styles are to be seen in cloths and cloakings, tinsil, heather, beaver and Welsh heather, being the most stylishivarieties. These are very nobby and suitable for old and young. It is unnecessary to mention any of the lines to be found in the staple department; suffice it to say that it is replete with all goods required for housekeeping purposes at unapproachable bargains. But why go on, when every lady can see the stock for herself. Ladies you are invited to visit 182 Yonge street. Mr. McKeown will be glad to see you whether you purchase or not. Weigh 164 pounds, am strong, can work as well as ever I could, and feel first rate. My lungs are alright and cleared out completely. My doctor says in astonishment, "by jove, the air goes to the bottom of that lung." I can tell you for a fact the chauge in me is wonde ful and incredible. No per son would believe except those who saw me I was bad just one year, my friends expected my death at any time. Now I am restored to my family, a wife aud six children. No one else has ever attempted to cure cateria in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured cateria. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D. M C. P. S. O., CATARRH.

There is no disease with which the human family is afflicted so deleterious in its effects, so loathsome to the sufferer, and so fatal in its consequences, and yet so neglected as cafarrh. The danger of disregarding the first and earlier symptoms of the disease is realized by few, and still less are they aware of the many diseases entailed upon them, and of which catarrh and catarrh alone is the exciting cause. Foremost among them stards consumption, the destroyer of millions, while prevailant to an alarming extent is bronchitis, laryngitis, aphonia, asthmia, and other dangerous affections of the throat and chest. You may think githat we give u due importance to these trifles, but go to those among your friends who are now in the last stage of consumption in dask them how their disease begin. They will in almost ever, instance tell you of a slight co'd, a backing cough, or a little soreness in the throat, which were treated as coarcely worthy of notice a few months ago, and will add their cough grew worse. The name 'f consumption woul have awakened them to a consciousness of their true state. notice a few months ago, and will add their cough grew worse. The name of consumption woul have awakeued them to a consciousness of their true state. That name was withheld, and in fancied security they have journeyed onward to the brink of the grave, now waiting to receive them. There is one point to which we would advert—that is the unwillingness of those suffering from diseases of the head, throat and chest to acknowledge themselves in any danger until the disease has reached an advanced stage. Many lose their lives by waiting to see what will become of their cold and catarrh. Nothing is almost by fearing you cannot be cured. Nover yive way to dispair or listen to the bad advice of a narrow-minded person who has but one routine, never cured a case, never saw a case cured, never knew of any other treatment but his, has but one idea, and who would discourage you from ever trying to get well. Those who desire treatment should spend no time in writing; if you can come to the Institute this month or this week it may be of the greatest possible value to you; it may the turning point of your disease for fatality or recovery. Consultation, tree, and prices of the Institute within the reach of all. The very best of seferences given from those already cured.
