ON MAY 1st, 1894,

We purchased and took over the stores and business lately carried on in your city under the name of the Army and Navy Stores, which were well known to you as being amongst the liveliest and most progressive establishments of the kind in your city. An act of incorporation was granted us under the Great Seal of the Province of Ontario (see Ontario Gazette, April 28, 1894). To carry on business, having headquarters in Toronto, the new company launches out into the mercantile world with the most gigantic resources and faculties for carrying on their stupendous operations ever possessed by any one institution of the kind. With their immense capital they are enabled through their buyers to search the civilized world for the best and brightest merchandise that gold will buy or human agency can devise or construct for the comfort and benefit of mankind with their superband

NEW BUSINESS METHODS

Everything connected with the internal working of their establishment has been systematized with a view only to the comfort and convenience of the purchasing public. STRAIGHT BUSINESS is the beacon light of the company, and every employe on entering the company's service has it impressed upon him that first and last and all the time he serves the company. It's STRAIGHT BUSINESS and only STRAIGHT BUSINESS that will be allowed. They purpose conducting the business in such an open-handed, above-board way that will at once give them a place in the confidence of the buying public, and intend to carry on business in such a manner that they will be entitled to have promptly honored large drafts on

THE BANK OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

They intend manufacturing every dollar's worth of Clothing they sell right here in the city and thus will give the opportunity of making an honest and honorable livelihood to many hundreds of deserving and worthy people, and leaving at least a hundred thousand dollars a year in circulation amongst ourselves, which is admittedly a benefit to everyone whether they be rich of poor.

Mr. Gladstone there has always been something of the ecclesiastic in the best sense, and a good deal of the dialectician and theological casuist. But to us, above all other characteristics of a great personality, stands out dominantly this attribute of cleanness. It is visible not only in his own life, but in the way he has abstained from quartering his family upon the nation. We remember once hearing about a relative of his who declared with strong language that, had he heen of solf-interest for the most part, whose solf-mans Salt, late President of the Bankers Institute; Sir Malcolm Fraser, gaest general in London for Western Australia, and A. J. Balfour, ex-Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Letters were reaf from Archbishop Walsof Dublin and the President of the Bank of France, regretting their inability to be present.

Prof. Shied Nicholson read a paper of "the fall in the general level of prices in relation to the appreciation of gold and the divergence in the relative value of gold and the divergence in the relative value of gold and silver."

During the discussion which followed the reading of Prof. Nicholson's paper, Dr. A. Herdt, a member of the Prussian Ditt, declared that bi-metallism was making progress in Germany, and he thought that if any international conference was the speech of Mr. Balfour.

The feature of the conference was the speech of Mr. Balfour.

He said that many who were suspicious of the dosbie standard and bi-metallic system now recognize in view of great impending dangers that the best asteguard is to rehabilitate silver as en of the great in arruments of the monetary transactions of the world.

It was absolutely necessary that the monetary functions of silver should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an international agreement suzely, this one should be settled by an internati MERCHANT TAILORS.

agreement surely this one should be so settled.

Mr. Balfoursaid there were three questions with which bi-metallism had to cope. They were these: Was a double standard possible? Was it just? Was it expedient? Scientists and economists answer these questions with an overwhelming "Yes."

Right Hon. Leonard H. Courtney and a paper on the practicability of maintaining a ratio between gold and silver under an international bi-metallic agreement and discussion on the paper followed.

A letter was read-from H. W. Cannon. Prekident of the Chase National Bank of New York, in which the writer said that the equition of the problem of bi-metallism rests with Great Britain.

The object of the Bimetallic League is tourge upon the British Government the necessity of co-operating with other leading nations for the establishment of the free coinage of gold and silver at a fixed ratio.
