

SCISSORSINGS.

COURT SCENE.—"Sir" said a fierce lawyer, "do you on your solemn oath, swear that this is not your hand writing?" "I reckon not," was the cool reply. "Does it resemble your writing?" "Yes, sir, I think it don't." "You do swear that it doesn't resemble your writing?" "Well I do, old head."

PUN FOR TYPO.—" * of my existence give me an —," said a Printer to his sweet-heart. She immediately made a — at him, and planting her "between his I, nearly put a. to his existence. "Such an outrage, was the ! of Faust, looking † † at her, is probably without a | in this § of the country, and is a good subject for a ¶."

THE SMALLEST SONG IN THE WORD. We three Brothers — In one cause — Bill puffs, I snuffs, John chaws. "Don't rob yourself," as the farmer said to the lawyer who called him hard names.

A fellow in Bradford jumped so high the other day, that he says he saw the dog-star over his tail. WATSON.—A youth went to a barber's shop the other day to be scraped. The barber having adjusted the cloth, and sponged the smooth skin, left him, and went looking for a "gent" saw him sauntering, he impatiently called out, "Well, what are you leaving me all this time for?" "Sir, I am waiting until your beard grows."

A REASON FOR MARRYING.—"How could you do so imprudent a thing?" said a curate to a very good parson. "What reason could you have for marrying a girl as completely in poverty as yourself, and both without the slightest prospect of provision?" "Why, sir, replied the parson, "we had a very good reason. We had a blanket-piece, and as the cold weather was coming on, we thought that putting them together would be warmer."

"I KNEW HE OWED THE PRINTER." In youth I saw him first, Hale, hearty, and well dressed; With a look that told you plainly, His conscience was at rest.

GOING TO THE OTHER EXTREME. He published everywhere; Who he was—what he had, Price, and place of store. Being a reading age, People saw his name; And wanting what he had, To his counter came. Being a talking age, People spread his fame; Custom grew—money flew, His safe received the same.

The following is the commencement of a speech of a lawyer in New Jersey:—"Your honours do not sit here like marble statues to be wafted about like every windy breeze."

EXTRACT FROM THE ARGUMENT OF A YOUNG LAWYER BEFORE A MISSISSIPPI JURY.—"May it please the Court: I would rather live for thirteen hundred centuries on the small side of a thunderbolt—chew the ragged end of a flash of lightning, swallow the corners of a Virginia worm fence, and have my bowels torn out by a green brier, than to be thus bamboozled by these gentlemen."

THE SUBSCRIBER finding that the longer he allows parties to stand indebted to him, professionally, the longer they are likely to do so, takes the method of informing ALL PARTIES, that unless the debts due him are at once paid up, a requisition on the latter form will be made without delay.

THE VIENNA GAZETTE has breathed its last! Hopkings! the would-be grandeur of Vienna, that shone into the shade since the appearance of the Phoenix—Ombus.

THE PHOENIX.—We have received the first number of a new paper published at Vienna, C. W., by Mr. Richard Abbott, formerly of this Office. The "Phoenix" is a paper of the right stamp, and we wish it every success.—Orange Lily.

THE PHOENIX.—We have received the second number of a bearing this name, published at Vienna C. W., by Mr. Richard Abbott, formerly of this Office. It is a well got up sheet, and is a paper of the right stamp, and we wish it every success.—Galt Reporter.

AT THE Montreal and New York Store, AT A CLEVER, who has had considerable experience as a Salesman. None need make application who cannot produce satisfactory testimonials as to character and ability to fill the situation. SUFFEL & PATTON, Vienna, June 23, 1853.

Opinions of the Press.

THE PHOENIX, AND ELGIN COUNTY CONSERVATIVE.—We have received the first number of a new little paper, hailing from Vienna, W., and rejoicing in the above expressive title, whose motto is—"The Protestant religion and the Liberties of England," Mr. Richard Abbott, Editor and Publisher. From our personal knowledge of Mr. Abbott's principles and the school to which he belongs, we are confident that, in the political and religious views, we may confidently expect to find in the Phoenix an able and energetic ally in the cause of truth and loyalty. The Phoenix is a paper of the right sort. Success to it.—Cornwall Constitutional.

A new paper has just been started at Vienna, U. C., called The Phoenix and Elgin County Conservative. It is a neatly got up sheet, and is a paper of the right stamp, and we wish it every success.—Orange Lily.

PROSPERITY OF THE PHOENIX.

THE SUBSCRIBER, at the earnest request of several influential gentlemen of the County of Elgin, and impressed with the importance of such an undertaking to the inhabitants of the flourishing Town of Vienna—and its neighbouring sister, Port Burwell—intends shortly to commence the publication of a Journal, in this place, bearing the above appellation. The well-known principles which have guided him in his former connexion with the Canadian Press, shall be by him firmly and uncompromisingly maintained in the conducting of The Phoenix; and while the enemy or opponent of those principles shall ever receive at his hands that justice which an enlightened age demands, the great and leading Political questions of the day shall be dealt with in a fearless, decided, and consistent manner, consonant with the spirit of True Conservatism. In a word, The Phoenix will be—in Politics, CONSERVATIVE; in Religious matters, PROTESTANT; in Opposition, Honest; and in all things Consistent.

Believing that on our connexion with the glorious Empire of Britain depends our future prosperity, as a Colony, The Phoenix will be found the ready opponent of every attempt to weaken British influence, or tarnish the glowing lustre of the Imperial Crown. Great care will be taken in the selection of choice literary matters, and no pains spared to make The Phoenix a welcome visitor in the family circle.

Due attention will be paid to Commercial matters, and proper means employed to obtain at all times the latest and most correct Market Prices, Arrivals, &c., &c. The Agriculturist and the Mechanic will find in The Phoenix a faithful guardian to their interests—too long neglected by the press generally. The proper encouragement of Manufacturers, and the advocacy of those healthy measures of Protection, calculated to ensure the prosperity of Canadian enterprises, shall ever be the study of the publisher.

The columns of The Phoenix will always be open to the discussion of every question—either local or general—calculated to benefit the community, when such discussion is carried on in a decorous manner, compatible with strict morality and decency. As a medium for Advertising, The Phoenix will be found a valuable auxiliary, as a very wide circulation is anticipated. The mechanical department will be tastefully conducted, and personally superintended by the Publisher—being a practical Printer himself; and nothing shall be wanting, on his part, to render it a respectable sheet, in size and appearance.

Scrupulously discarding everything having a tendency to pragmatic or acrimonious contentions, the Editor of The Phoenix relies on the intelligent portion of the inhabitants of this and neighbouring Counties, for that support and patronage, requisite for the carrying out of his present undertaking. The Phoenix will be printed on a double-Demy sheet, at $5. 6d. Currency per annum.
