

Wha's to be our Mayor now?

AIR—"Castles in the Air,"

Wha's to be our Mayor now?

Wha's to be our Mayor?

Wha's to be the honor'd man will fill our civic chair?
Geordie Mills and Charlton hae filled it weel before,
And gin we ne'er get waur than them our troubles will be o'er.
I'm finding faut wi' naebody, but this I here declare,
I'd like to see a worthy man get in to be our Mayor.

Wha's to be our Mayor now?

Wha's to be our Mayor?

Wha is puin' at the wires to fill our civic chair?
Will it be O'Reilly, or will it Waddell be?
Or aiblins Johnnie Eastwood, the chief amang the three?
There's Lister, Peirce, and Chisholm, too, a' men that's fair
and square,
But wha's amang us that can tell which o' them will be Mayor?

Wha's to be our Mayor now?

Wha's to be our Mayor?

Wha's to be the lucky man to fill our civic chair?
McCarthy or Fitzpatrick would answer vera weel,
Or Johnnie I. Mackenzie, for he's a clever chiel;
