BY THE

REV. JOSEPH KINGSMILL, M. A.,
Chaplain of the Government Model Prison, London.

Chapters on Prisons and Prisoners, AND THE PREVENTION OF CRIME.

Third Edition, in full-sized Octavo, Gilt Lettered, price 10s. 6d.

The THIRD EDITION contains the following New Matter:—The Home Ticket-of-leave System—Appointment of Roman Catholic Chaplains to Gaols—Suggestions to Magistrates on the Selection of Prison Officers—Suggestions to Governors and Chaplains on their Duties and Relation to each other—Excessive proportion of Roman Catholic Prisoners in England—Reformatory Schools at Home and Abroad compared—Value of District Pauper Schools, exemplified in the North Surrey District School, &c.—Changes of Discipline in Pentonville Prison, &c., &c.

“One of the most amusing as well as instructive volumes that ever came into our hands. From Gay and Fielding to Dickens, various writers of fiction have given us glimpses of the race of thieves; but the creations of these writers are imaginary; Mr. Kingsmill gives the reality, which far exceeds anything that has ever yet been presented in fictitious narrative.”—London Standard.

“This is a book of almost priceless worth. It claims the attention of the Christian, the Philanthropist, and the Statesman.”—Naval and Military Gazette.

“A volume as interesting as it is unpretending, and worth a whole ship-load of those plethoric volumes, the Reports of the Inspectors of Prisons.”—Morning Post.

By the same, Second Edition, Uniform, price 10s. 6d.

Missions and Missionaries, APOSTOLIC, JESUIT, AND PROTESTANT.

This Edition contains an Analysis of the relative proportion of Clergy and Laity supporting the Gospel Propagation and Church Missionary Societies, the proportion of Clerical supporters in each diocese, &c.

“May be read with advantage in Christian families.”—Christian Observer.

“This is a most able work on a most interesting subject. It is in every way calculated to raise the previously high reputation of the author; and we have no doubt that it will command an extensive amount of popularity.”—Morning Post.

“A singularly interesting and valuable work, by an able and catholic-spirited man. His information in regard to Jesuit missions is peculiarly valuable to those who are studying the Popish controversy.”—Bulwark.
