This is a magnificent series of geographical readers. The matter is of intense and compelling interest, and cannot help but engage the attention of the pupil. The narrative style is used throughout, and adds greatly to the attractiveness. The mechanical make-up, too, is excellent. Each of the books of the series is copiously illustrated with numerous full-page colored cuts, accurate and clear maps, both colored and black and white, physiographic and political, and many illustrations in the text. The style is especially clear and good.

pains have been spared to make the language perfectly plain and simple and to bring everything to the level of the comprehension of beginners in history. In the mechanical execution of this book the publishers have made a special effort to raise the very high standard for which the volumes printed at their Athenæum Press are noted.

August Magazines.

The August Atlantic Monthly contains a powerful and instructive paper on Unpunished Commercial Crime (the way of the rich man in eluding the law) by Geo. W. Alger. There are other interesting articles on current topics and literary subjects, with short stories, poems, and a lively contributor's club, making up a varied and very readable mid-summer number... The leading article in Littell's Living Age for July 30th is Count Tolstoy on the War. This is the complete text of the ten-column letter in the London Times, in which Count Tolstoy recently arraigned the Russian government and the Czar with such vehemence that the Russian Council of State had under serious consideration the punishment of the author for his plain speaking. It is in the Count's most characteristic and scathing style... In addition to entertaining fiction for leisure hours, the August Delineator contains something for each of the practical needs of woman. In dress, the latest styles are depicted, with the aid of handsome colored plates and drawings in black and white, and the movements in fashions described. The kitchen, the table, the garden, the nursery, beside the lighter interests of woman, such as her reading, her clubs, and other amusements, are treated from various standpoints. The literary features of the number are of a high order. In addition there is a most entertaining collection of stories and pastimes for children.... The August Canadian Magazine has three features. The first is five excellent short stories by well-known writers. The second is some splendid Japanese portraits and scenes. The third is a collection of pictures taken at Annapolis and St. John during the recent Champlain-de Monts celebrations. In fact, the number is an excellent one from the colored frontispiece to the last department.
