

Preparations at Home Continue

Continued from page 1

facade was sponsored by the Canadian Zinc Industry.

Also present at the ceremony were Mr. Grant Geall, president and publisher of Inside Guide Magazine Limited, Mr. Ted Hally, General Manager of Northern Telecom, Spain, Mr. Jim Law, Managing Director of Cominco, U.K., Mr. Andrew Jones, Director of Space Systems and Products, Spar Aerospace and Mr. Tom Appleton, Executive Vice-President of Jet Division, Canadair, representing Bombardier.

Meanwhile, in Canada, exhibition design companies in Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver are creating the elements of what are planned as exciting, interactive displays which will be enjoyed by over 3.2 million visitors.

Northwest Territories' officials in Yellowknife are working on plans for the restaurant/arts and crafts boutique and souvenir outlet.

The National Film Board of Canada continued production on its IMAX film which will be almost as big as all outdoors—shown on a screen 24 metres high by 33.6 metres wide.

EXPOSITIONS TRIVIA QUIZ

Fairs have been a feature of urban life since ancient times. The world's fairs, or expositions, as we now know them are a comparatively recent phenomenon.

Here is a trivia quiz to test your knowledge. See answers on page 5.

1. When was the first "world's fair" held?
2. For what three reasons is the date October 12 significant?
3. How many countries are participating in Expo '92?
4. To create a pleasant landscape at the exposition site, an ambitious tree and shrub planting program was undertaken. How many trees and shrubs were planted?
5. Name the official mascot of Expo '92.
6. Seville is the location for Expo '92. In the same year, Madrid and Barcelona are host cities for important events. What are they?
7. What are the dimensions of the Expo '92 site?
8. It is estimated that there will be 40 million visits to Expo '92. What means of transport will be used by visitors?
9. Name the governing body of international world expositions.
10. What city will be host for Expo 2000?

Canada at Expo '92 is published periodically by International Expositions Division (BKE), External Affairs and International Trade Canada (EAITC).

The project team preparing the Canada Pavilion for Expo '92 consists of personnel from EAITC and the Canadian Government's Expositions and Audio-Visual Services.

For further information, please contact International Expositions Division (BKE), External Affairs and International Trade Canada, 125 Sussex Drive, Ottawa K1A 0G2.

Daniel Marchand — Director, International Expositions Division

Natalie Lavigne — Communications Coordinator for the Canada Pavilion

Telephone: (613) 993-5745.

Fax: (613) 993-4604.