

Business of the House

Mr. Speaker: Order. It being ten o'clock I propose to adjourn this house.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Fournier (Hull): I do not think this would be the time to come to some agreement, so I had better announce the business of the house for tomorrow. I hope that tomorrow everybody will be in a very good mood and we can proceed with the business of the house.

Mr. Macdonnell (Greenwood): We will.

Mr. Fournier (Hull): I know the hon. gentlemen will co-operate tomorrow perhaps more than today. There are two government notices of motion: one by the Secretary of State for External Affairs and one by the Prime Minister. We will not proceed with the motion in the name of the Secretary of State for External Affairs before dealing with Bill No. 36 to amend the Combines Investigation Act, but after that tomorrow we will take up that resolution, and then we will take up Bill No. 15, also concerning external affairs, and Bill No. 23, to amend the Government Annuities Act; the resolution in the name of the Minister of Agriculture; and if time were left, we would take up the amendment to the Public Works Act. I have not said a word during the debate today because I did not see that I could be of any help, but tomorrow anything I can do to help the house come to some agreement to pass legislation—well, I am at your disposal.

Mr. Adamson: Talk to the hon. member for Winnipeg North Centre (Mr. Knowles).

At ten o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to the order of the house passed on November 2, 1951.
