

Nothing of course can now be done for our boy but I would like to make the following suggestions to help those who remain.

- 1) That all orderlies and attendants both male and female should be trained nurses
- 2) That all medical men in such institutions should be big men both mentally and physically and should be examined for their mental capacity. That no appointments should be made for political reasons.

I know you will say that the medical men are usually quarous but if you could meet some of the bombastic arrogant swine masquerading
