

If, therefore, you happen to have any such material as I have described, from single letters or papers to large files of correspondence and periodicals, and feel disposed to present them to the University, it would be highly appreciated; it would, of course, as in similar cases elsewhere, be subjected to such regulations and provisions for its proper and discreet use as the donor might arrange with the University.

Yours faithfully,

Principal and Vice-Chancellor