

WAR THOUGHTS OF AN OPTIMIST

UTOPIA IN AMERICA

THERE are in Canada hundreds of thousands of men who have come from the United States, a part of whom retain their United States citizenship, and a part of whom have been naturalised. Among all those people there is a practical unanimity of opinion upon Canada's course in the war, but the greatest diversity upon the question of the duties of the United States.

With one accord these people agree that this is Canada's war as much as Britain's; that, being a unit of the British Empire, Canada is attacked, and must do her part to the last man and the last dollar needed. Their sympathy with the cause of the Allies is unlimited. They feel that Germany and what she stands for must be overthrown, and that after the war there will arise a condition of economic demand which will enable Canada to utilise her resources to her lasting profit.
