Mr. Courtwright describes the Beile River fire as a terrible ordeal, rendered more trying by the presence of six women and seven children. There were sixty people in all there when the fire attacked the town. For days bush fires have raged, with black curtains of smoke hiding the sun by day, while the night was illuminated by flames, but the Belle River folks stayed with their possessions and homes, hoping that the fire would pass them by.

Be prepared for another hot spell. It is coming to-day. The weather man told The World last night that today may be a scorcher, probably on a par with Dominion Day for excessive heat. This fresh-outbreak has come from the southwest, which has been boiling at 90 to 100 and more for a day or two. The warmest yesterday was 86, which was comparatively mild, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The coolest was 58 in the early morning. It is expected that the mercury will crawl several notches above 86 to-day, but it may not last long, as some cooling thunderstorms are scheduled for tonight.

A re-cord number of southern European immigrants are among those who passed thru the city.

The 24 hours which the Bulgarian Government accorded to Greece and Servia to cease operations, have expired. During the same period Bulgaria undertook to abstain from hostilities in order to give Russia time to intervene in favor of peace.
