

TWO DEAD, THREE WOUNDED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

A Orpen, Jr., Held on Manslaughter Charge, After Boy Was Run Down by His Car—Aged Woman Struck by Trolley, Succumbed to Injuries.

Need for the "safety first" campaign in Toronto was again demonstrated Saturday night. In five traffic accidents a boy and an aged woman were killed and two women and a man were more or less severely hurt. Those dead are:

Samuel Book, aged 15 years, killed on Jarvis street by a motor car driven by Abe Orpen, Jr.

Mrs. Clara Burnham, 38 Ontario street, aged 60 years, struck by a street car on East Queen street and died in St. Michael's Hospital soon afterwards.

Three Injured.

Mrs. Mary E. Asher, 69 Princess street, fell from a street car at Adelaide and Bay streets at 10:40 and was taken to the General Hospital. She will recover.

John Armstrong, 750 West Queen street, fell from a street car at Queen and Ontario streets at 8:40 p.m. and was slightly injured.

John Armstrong, 439 Brunswick avenue, was struck by a bicycle at

WAR BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND SERBIA

According to the Daily Telegraph, the German ambassador at the capital of the triple entente—London, St. Petersburg and Paris—when asked to press their governments to act as a check on Austria, replied simply that they would follow Austria's lead. But that hope is still entertained there that peace may be preserved. The foreign minister, Sergius Sazonov, has made suggestions which he thinks should satisfy Austria and at the same time safeguard Serbia's sovereignty. Patriotism thrust Austria high, and the conserved messages convey the impression that the people are enthusiastic for war.

Pro-Austrian rallies are being held in Berlin and similar political activities in favor of Serbia in St. Petersburg and Paris.

Will Abandon Belgrade.

The Servians have decided not to attempt to defend Belgrade, the principal city of the kingdom, and have withdrawn, according to Vienna reports, and the seat of the government has been removed from Belgrade to Kragujevac, a strong strategic point sixty miles to the south.

Serbia's refusal to humiliate itself to the extent that its big neighbor has hated is not unexpected. The Servians have been in a warlike frame of mind since their success in the late Balkan war, and the government which yielded to submit to Serbia's conditions, even the dynasty would be imperiled. Serbia's little ally, Montenegro, seems determined to cast its lot with its cousin in war.

Chosen Time to Strike.

Servian partisans abroad advance the theory that Austria has made up her mind to dispose of her neighbor, which has long been a thorn in her side, and has chosen a moment when the nations of the Triple Entente are handicapped by home troubles—Great Britain with a threatened civil war in Ireland, Russia with a great strike, and France with a political upheaval—to strike a decisive blow.

England shows no enthusiasm over becoming embroiled in a war which might prove a great calamity to her interests. As far as opinion can be gathered, amidst the paralysis which overcomes all British political activities over Sunday, sentiment here tends toward Austria. This is based on the belief that Serbia's claims are undermining Austria by a Pan-Slav movement have been so open that no nation could tolerate them and in the present turbulent state of affairs, national pride only the sharpest and most peremptory measures could have any effect.

Ireland in Background.

One result of the sudden threat of international complications is to thrust Ireland from the centre of the stage. It may even force the British factions to a compromise, which even the king could not accomplish, and a general election under the present circumstances is out of the question. It is doubtful if even the government's bitterest enemies would want a change in the cabinet and the upheaval of a fierce political campaign while the nation needs to keep a cool head and the hands for the protection of its European position.

MONTENEGRO DELIVERED.

CETTINJE, July 26.—Public opinion here demands the abandonment of the German joint action with Serbia in these hours of fate for the two Servian kingdoms.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS AT END WAR IS REGARDED AS CERTAIN ARMIES REPORTED MOBILIZING

Austria's Announcement That Serbia's Reply is "Unsatisfactory" Was Followed by Departure of Ministers From Vienna and Belgrade—War Fever Runs High in Austrian Capital.

Canadian Press Despatch.

VIENNA, July 26.—Diplomatic relations between Austria-Hungary and Serbia were formally broken off to-night. War is regarded by the public as almost a certainty.

Martial law has been declared throughout the Austro-Hungarian empire.

A military censorship has been established in the telegraph offices here.

The Servian Government waited until the last moment left it by the terms of the note and only ten minutes before the time when the Austro-Hungarian ultimatum expired did the Servian premier appear at the legation and present his government's reply to the Austrian minister, Baron Giesl von Gieslingen.

Reply "Unsatisfactory."

No details of the tenor of the reply have been revealed here, but the terse statement was made that it was "unsatisfactory."

Immediately upon receiving the note the Austrian minister informed the foreign office and diplomatic relations were broken off.

Half an hour later the minister and his staff with their families, had boarded a train for Austrian territory.

The train was in readiness to depart, as an unfavorable reply to the Austrian demands had been expected.

According to newspaper messages received here, the mobilization of the Servian army was ordered at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. King Peter, who had hurriedly returned to Belgrade when the Austrian ultimatum was announced, left the capital this evening on a special train with the principal members of the government, in the realization that the Austrians could capture Belgrade without difficulty.

The temporary seat of the government was established at Kragujevac.

Cheering Crowds at Vienna.

The portent of Serbia's decision was made known to the public by extra editions of the evening papers, and at 8 o'clock tonight the population of the city seemed to be astir. They fought eagerly for the papers and processions were formed which marched thru all the streets cheering for Emperor Francis. Everywhere thronged the country similar demonstrations are being held.

Count Von Bechtold, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, visited last night in the afternoon and had a long audience with the emperor. Later he conferred with the minister of war, General Krobatin, and the emperor's chief military advisor, General Baron Boller von Annenbourg, and the minister of finance.

Count Von Bechtold had another audience at 7 o'clock with the emperor to whom he communicated the Servian note.

It is reported that the mobilization of the Austrian army has been ordered.

Borderers are confined to barracks to prevent the people from attacking them. A street car in which a soldier was riding was wrecked tonight, but the soldier escaped the mob. Further rioting is feared.

Among those seriously wounded in the affray is M. J. Judge, a prominent officer of the Nationalist Volunteers.

The arms were landed at noon today. The yacht from which they were taken was a sailing vessel, the name of which had been painted over.

A woman, or a man in woman's clothing, some persons say, commanded the yacht.

Volunteers Marched for Arms.

A thousand volunteers marched openly from Dublin to receive the arms. They said, however, that they were merely making a practice march. The local police and the coast guard tried to prevent the landing of the arms, but were driven off.

When the Dublin authorities learned of the landing they sent sixty police to seize the arms. These police later were reinforced by 200 others under an assistant commander.

The police were drawn up on both sides of the road along which the volunteers were returning, with the militia in the centre of the road.

When the volunteers saw the mobilization, most of them got away with their arms, scattering thru the fields. The police and soldiers tried to disarm the remainder.

Volunteers Shoot Soldiers.

In the resulting affray, several revolver shots were fired by volunteers, and a corporal and a private were wounded. The volunteers also used their rifles as clubs.

The soldiers fired and used their bayonets freely, inflicting many cuts. Then they had a running fight with the volunteers and the rapidly growing mob thru the streets to their barracks.

Policemen Suspended.

A number of policemen have been suspended for refusing to try to disarm the volunteers.

After the troops had fired into the crowd, the angry populace, in a spirit of revenge, attacked individual soldiers and beat them brutally. Members of the Scottish Borderers, who were riding bicycles along the quays, were pulled from their machines and beaten, and the bicycles were thrown into the river.

Lord Mayor Protests.

The lord mayor has issued a strong letter of protest, in which he declares that the troops were ordered out without permission having been asked of the lord mayor of the city, and he demands that the responsibility shall be fixed for the calling out of the soldiers and for supplying them with ball cartridges.

Ulster Volunteers Parade.

The Nationalists are indignant over the affair, because, they say, the troops are against the Nationalist Volunteers and never interfere with the Orangemen. Five thousand Ulster volunteers, carrying arms, paraded the Belfast streets today under the eyes of General MacReady and other officers of the regular army, and passed the Dorset Regiment, which was on parade.

FIRST SERIOUS CLASH.

LONDON, Monday Morning, July 27.—The beginning of serious trouble which has been inevitable since the country began to divide itself into armed camps was witnessed yesterday. Two thousand Nationalist volunteers, comprising the Dublin regiments, marched out to Howth. They lined up along the east pier and blocked all access to it. At the same time a yacht put into the harbor and proceeded to unload rifles which the volunteers passed along the ranks until every man was armed with a Mauser. Two vans were also filled with ammunition. Three coastguards in Howth endeavored to board the yacht, but were driven off by the threats of the armed men.

The volunteers then marched back to Dublin, carrying their rifles. At Howth road they found their way blocked by a large force of police, about 200 strong, who were supported by about 150 Royal Irish Constabulary men, armed with carbines, and also by two companies of the King's Own Scottish Borderers. The volunteers were halted and called upon to surrender their arms. They refused, and a heavy charge of police followed. The volunteers were driven back into the harbor, but their way was again blocked by the soldiers and police.

A baton charge of police was repelled by a firing of the volunteers, and the soldiers then charged with fixed bayonets. A number of volunteers were bayoneted, and several of the soldiers were shot, one being very seriously wounded.

The volunteers then retreated, and were met by a number of taxicabs, into which they stacked their rifles, and the taxicabs and motor cars, it is stated, got away with them safely by the way of Drumcondra. The injured were taken in ambulances to hospitals, and the volunteers dispersed.

Mob Attacked Soldiers.

The most serious affair was that which occurred on the quays when the King's Own Scottish Borderers were on their way to the barracks. The crowd became very violent and when it became necessary for their own protection the soldiers were halted and turned right about face. The crowd did not apparently realize the danger.

As a result of a fusillade a man, woman and boy died in Jarvis street hospital. In the same hospital at least 50 other persons were injured, and the soldiers were taken to the hospital. It is reported that 25 metropolitan police refused to take part in the charge of Clontarf and were told to stand aside.

Got Away With Rifles.

The volunteers. It is believed, got away with all their rifles. It is thought they numbered about 1000. The feeling in the city tonight as a result of the day's sensational news is very strong, and developments are extremely probable. The volunteers are at present in the military hospital, and are being treated by the military police.

The Chronicle correspondent gives the number of dead as four. Five persons are in so critical a condition that it is feared they cannot survive. Thirty are seriously wounded and thirty more are being treated in the hospital. The injured

CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS BRAKEMAN WAS KILLED

Fatal Shunting Accident at Cornwall Saturday—Inquest to Be Held.

SPECIAL TO THE TORONTO WORLD.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 26.—Edward Surridge of Santa Clara, New York, a brakeman on the O. and N. Y. R., met death from an accident in the yards on Saturday afternoon, dying in the General Hospital shortly afterwards. During some shunting the young man was caught between two freight cars, and his right arm, shoulder and chest were so badly lacerated and bruised that he had to be amputated at the shoulder. Coroner C. J. Hamilton opened an inquiry at the hospital on Saturday night, and after viewing the remains an adjournment was made until July 31. The remains will be sent to Santa Clara for interment on Monday.

WANTED AT THE FALLS.

Samuel Crossman and Samuel Snow of 110 Sheridan avenue and 118 Brunswick avenue respectively, are wanted for theft on a complaint from the authorities at Niagara-on-the-Lake. Detectives Croome and Murray made the arrests.

BIG GAIN IN CANADA'S EXPORTS BUT IMPORTS SHOW SHRINKAGE

By a Staff Reporter.

OTTAWA, July 26.—The trade figures of the Dominion for the twelve months ending April 30, show an increase of $17,000,000. The great feature is the increase in the exports by $74,000,000, while the imports decreased by $57,000,000. The customs duties consequently fell off by $10,500,000.

The large increase in exports will be taken as an indication that Canada's agricultural and manufacturing industries are becoming established on a sound and healthy basis. The exports of agricultural products increased from 155 to 193 millions and manufactures from 45 to 88 millions.

NEWS OF EARLSCOURT BUILD ON BAIN AVENUE

Six New Buildings Will Be Furnished and Rented at Reasonable Rates.

For some time the local Council of Women in Toronto have had under consideration plans for the adequate housing and accommodation of business and salaried women in the city. At first it was thought desirable to put up a large house that would meet the needs, such as is usually adopted by organized bodies. The council then approached the Toronto Housing Company with their plans and an agreement has been arrived at whereby satisfactory in every respect.

The particulars of the houses being constructed by the Toronto Housing Company for the Ladies' Aid Society of Women are as follows:

Six large buildings on Bain avenue specially constructed to meet the requirements of the Council of Women. Total accommodation supplied for over 150 women.

The accommodation will be varied to suit different requirements, and the prices to be charged will run as follows:

1. If two in each room, $3.25, $3.75, and $4.50 per month.

The houses will be divided into apartments, each having a bathroom and kitchen, and a separate entrance. Each apartment will also have a separate verandah and ample basement accommodation.

Complete Furnishings.

The prices named above include heat, and the supply of water, and the year-round. The Housing Company will also supply electric fixtures and window blinds.

The woodwork will be of Georgia pine stained, fumed oak and Circassian walnut. Some of the advantages made possible by light housekeeping where those renting the houses are not required to have a large kitchen, and the houses will be provided at a reasonable charge in one of the buildings for those who desire them.

Large living room and verandah provide desirable and attractive opportunity for meeting friends.

Different degrees of comfort are provided in keeping with varying demands and different financial resources.

It is possible that a housing committee and the council have been appointed by the Local Council of Women, the occupants of each apartment being entitled to nominate one member to this committee.

Price is Offered.

A prize will be given for the most satisfactory name or names for these houses, the competition being confined to those occupying them. The houses are expected to be completely ready for occupancy by the first of October.

Opportunities will be given for business women to form circles to lease entire apartments.

Ivy and climbing roses will be provided for each house. Just one block away is Woodrow Park, with provision for tennis courts. It is also among the possibilities that tennis courts and the provision of a swimming pool will be provided at a reasonable charge in one of the buildings for those who desire them.
