DENTAL INSPECTION ADOPTED BY CITIES

All Parts of Province Respond to Hon. Dr. Cody's Plan.

Hon. Dr. Cody, minister of education, some time ago inaugurated a system by which there would be a regular dental inspection of school children throughout the province and asking the co-operation of the various local bodies. The department appointed its own supervising dentist and nurses and how well the whole scheme has worked out is shown by the following excerpts issued by Dr. Cody.

Hamilton—The dentists have consented to make a dental survey of all the school children of the city, but as the arrangement committed to the board of education passed a resolution providing for such inspection the gratuitous services will not be needed. The department of education is grateful to the Hamilton dentists for their kind offer.

Fort William—The board of education has placed in the estimates $2,000 for the establishment of a permanent system of dental inspection and treatment. The work will be developed during 1920.

Windsor—A dentist has been appointed to give free dental service for the school children of Windsor and Walkerville.

Brantford—The city has a permanent dental inspection and the work shows great promise.

Windsor—Dr. G. R. Howden has been appointed to examine the teeth of the school children of the town.

Morrisburg—Dr. W. C. Davy and Dr. G. G. G. have completed a dental inspection of the school children.

Brampton—Dr. J. L. Mackie conducted a dental clinic at Malton July 8 and 9. Forty-five children were examined and in some cases necessary operations were performed.

PLAYS, PICTURES

The Princess Theatre.
On Monday, Aug. 25, when "The Better Ole" that romance of the great war, which fairly took New York by storm after creating a furore in London, comes here direct from its recent triumph. "The Better Ole" is characterized as a comedy with music, because it portrays the humorous phases of life in the trenches during the great conflict, and it is interspersed with some catchy and infectious melodies that captivate the popular ear. Strictly speaking, "The Better Ole" has no sustained dramatic story, but it is a play of great little episodes about the small things—the everyday, occur—things—both humorous and pathetic in the experience of three trench-mirrored British soldiers. Old Bill and his two companions, Bert and Alf. Modestly and with many touches of quaint delirious whimsical humor, these three "musicals" are portrayed with unerring skill. The play, in fact, is a tribute to the humblest soldier who worked quietly, inconspicuously, marching gallantly into the dark. But they were heroes none the less. And "The Better Ole" is convincing proof that men of dauntless courage did their duty with no hope of glory or reward. The simplicity and humanity of "The Better Ole" will touch the heart of every Canadian playgoer.

"Nothing But Lies."
The farewell week of Edward H. Robbins and his Robbins Players for the present season at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, will commence Monday evening, when they will present for the first time on any stage in Canada, William Collier's latest and most successful comedy, "Nothing But Lies."

The story of the play centres about the efforts of a young business man to bring peace and harmony to the home of his business associate, who is a middle-aged man about town. The son of the partner, a young man whose hobby is telling the truth about everything and everybody, learns of some scandal that his father has been involved in. He tells his mother, who is the result of his mother's preparation to leave father and threatens a divorce. In the extremity, the young partner is called to the rescue. He has earned the reputation of being a shrewd and successful business man, but he is a simple and honest fellow. He arrives at the partner's house, where he finds the atmosphere for his quest, but the complications here better clear the atmosphere for his quest, but the complications here better clear the atmosphere for his quest, but the complications here better clear the atmosphere for his quest.

The matinee will be as usual, on Wednesday and Saturday. Wednesday being the last popular Robbins matinee for the present season. Coming direct from its return engagement at the Century Theatre, New York, "Chu Chin Chow" completely recounted and with new production, will again appear at the Royal Alexandra, opening a week's engagement on Monday, Aug. 25.

Another week's photodrama, "Mickey," has been playing to capacity houses at the Grand Opera House, and already nearly 500,000 people have seen it. Yet the public demand warrants a further extension of the engagement and commencing with a matinee on Monday, this remarkable picture will enter upon its twelfth week. This is a record to be proud of and the engagement points to the fact that the city has grown to such proportions that an offering of merit can stay for more than the customary week. Last season the Grand Opera House played several road shows for weeks' engagements and in every case the patronage justified the extension. For a picture to remain twelve weeks and still retain the public interest is an achievement seldom recorded in the history of amusements on the continent. In theatricals this engagement has placed Toronto high in the list of the big cities and has done much to advertise the Queen City in the United States. During the stay of "Mickey" at the Grand a matinee will be given every day.

The Hippodrome.
"Miss Adventure," the new William Fox production, starring pretty Peggy Hyland, will head the bill at the Hippodrome next week. It is an offering reprieve with thrills, laughter, sob and a pleasant surprise which provides a satisfactory climax. "The Girl in the Moon" is one of the most attractive acts in vaudeville today. Suspended high above the heads of the audience, a dainty maid sings the newest song successes. The act is handsomely invested scenically with harmonious lighting effects. Bill Pruitt, a monologist, not only tells good stories, but has some new songs while Martha Hamilton and company have a lively comedy sketch. Belle Meyers, a chic singing comedienne, Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, rustic comedians, J. Graham and Edwards, a "Lucky 13" Sunshine comedy complete the bill.

At Shea's Theatre.
For next week the management of Shea's Theatre has arranged another all-star show, headed by the great comedy and musical revue, "At the Girls' Club." A cast of distinguished principals are supported by some clever singing and dancing maids. Florrie Millership and Alfred Gerard return this season with plenty of material in their singing, dancing and talking revue. Emerson and Baldwin in "So This is Paris" have some amusing juggling feat, while Mason and Gwynne in "The South of Today" have a back-faced comedy act that provokes much mirth. An artistic treat is described as an imposing production with music, while Finley and Hill in "Bits of Vaudeville" have some bright, up-to-date material. Chic and Chiclets in "Fun on Wheels" is a new, provoking comedy are included in the bill.

At the Allen Next Week.
"The Love Bug," which have played so great a part in the establishing of Griffith's pre-eminence in the directorial field are chiefly responsible for the entertainment power of "True Heart Susie," which comes to the Allen next week. The direction is typical of the Griffith in his element. The story is a true heart Susie, typical small town girl, sacrifices much to send William Jenkins, her idol, thru college. He returns to be the local minister, and is captivated by Betty Hopkins, who has been to the city and acquired city manners, marrying her, and then learning her true identity. Susie protects her when she attends a rag-time party without her husband's knowledge, and Betty dies while divulging her secret. Later William learns of Susie's sacrifices and long-suffering devotion, but has loved to remain single. Then he is told of his dead wife's peridy and feels free to marry Susie.

Viola Dana, Regent Next Week.
About a week ago Viola Dana at the Regent next week. That's all. The entire motion picture public of Toronto knows right away that this story is a masterpiece. And so it is. Remember Viola Dana in "Some Bride." It was a winner. See her in "The Microbe," for that's a winner, too. Get away from the "ordinary" picture drama. Something unusual is what's wanted. Here it is, and it is said to be a real entertainer. "The Microbe" is by Henry Altman, adapted to the screen by June Mathis. It's an absorbing and enthralling drama, a side life that is not brought to the surface very often. That's why it's interesting. The story is of the rescue of a little girl by an author. There are other attractions, including the Regentette, Screen Magazine, Topics of the Day and a little more of that lovely music by the famous Regent orchestra.

"Sliding" Billy Watson has long been a real factor in burlesque comedy, but this season he is being shown in H. Heck's "Sliding" Billy Watson Show, a production which has been dressed solely to bring him to the front and make the most of his unusual comedy talents. This superior attraction will be the drawing card at the Star Theatre next week. "Sliding" Billy Watson, as almost everyone knows, has become famous for the popular slide, which is a most telling bit of his performance—a slide so peculiar that, while many comedians have tried to imitate it, none of them have succeeded in doing it in the characteristic way in which Watson does it. It is always good for a hearty laugh on the part of an audience, and Mr. Watson uses it on frequent occasions.

At Loew's Next Week.
"Hay Foot, Straw Foot," the feature picture at Loew's Theatre and Winter Garden next week, is a real rippling picture. The story deals with a patriotic farm boy, cleverly portrayed by the little fellow, Ray, who goes to a training camp and there made the butt of jokes of his more sophisticated comrades. An absorbing love story is intertwined with the patriotic comedy. An absorbing love story is intertwined with the patriotic comedy. An absorbing love story is intertwined with the patriotic comedy.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera, infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mother's best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

of household drudgery is in sight. The Electrical Era now has a significant meaning to the housewife; she has come to realize that efficiency and electric labour-saving devices go hand in hand.

Using a sewing-machine need no longer be a back-breaking process. Simply place a "Home Motor" against the hand wheel of your machine, lightly press a pedal with your foot and this willing little motor will do all the hard work while you sit at ease in a comfortable chair, directing the seams, tucks or shirring. There are no belts, screws, bolts or clamps to bother with. When not being used to drive a sewing-machine the "Home Motor" can be converted into an electric fan or will grind knives and polish silver.

C.G.E. Electric Labour Saving Devices did not reach their present state of perfection overnight. They are the product of years of earnest, painstaking, research work, and are chosen for no other reason than to give the housewife service.

Ask your dealer to show you C.G.E. Electric Labour Saving Devices.
