THE GREAT CANADIAN WEST!

DEAD FLIES STAY WHERE LIVE MEN ARE ALWAYS ON THE LOOKOUT

A go-aheadative country.

Prof. Tanner, the English agricultural chemist, says Western Canada has the richest soil in the world.

Canada's wheat yield for the last ten years averaged 18 bushels per acre. Wheat yield in the United States for same period, 13 bushels per acre. Manitoba's average wheat yield for ten years, 21 bushels per acre. Minnesota's yield for same period, 14; Kansas, 12; Missouri, 11. Canadian No. 1 hard wheat is the highest priced wheat in the world.

There are 293 flour mills in the Canadian Northwest, with a daily capacity of 18,500 barrels of flour.

There are 1025 elevators in the Canadian Northwest, storage capacity of 45 million bushels.

Canada has the largest elevator in the world at Port Arthur-capacity 7 million Canadian crop of 1905 will bring over 100 million dollars.

Horace Greely, if alive to-day, would amend that advice of his to read: "Go northwest, young man; go northwest into Canada."

The Canadian Northwest is Growing Faster on a Firmer Foundation Than Any Other Portion of America.

Take Manitoba, for example: Population in 1901, 255,500; to-day, over 400,000. The reason is: Good soil, good climate and good citizens.
