THE T. EATON Co. LIMITED

190 Yonge St. Canada's Greatest Store. Toronto.

YONGE AND QUEEN STREETS, September 26, 1896.

Store Closes Every Day at 6 O'clock.

Thorough Organization.

This store stretches out beyond local influence to a country-wide constituency. Thousands of families all over Canada have a direct interest in what we do and the goods we sell. This is particularly true of dress goods. The stock answers to every need of fashionable and super-fashionable folk, and the way we buy makes easy selling sure.

It's easy to say we never had such styles and such values, but all that has been discounted already. If you can come to the store you'll see the display. If you can't come you can send for samples. This business is built on well nigh perfect lines. There's perfect system in the buying, perfect system in the selling, and a thorough grasp of everything both before and behind the scenes. We're not amateurs by any means, and there's nothing haphazard in anything we do. With a management here that can handle men and a vital connection all the way down, there is absolutely no limit to the business this store can do.

That's the general fact. The particular emphasis just now is the overabundance of new goods and the disposition to be more generous this season than ever before. Perhaps you'll be glad to know that. Perhaps you'll be more than glad to pay these prices.

A NEW PHASE IN THE SCHOOL QUESTION

Something new, which may be fortunate or otherwise, has come Mr. Laurier's way in regard to the Manitoba school question. As usual it was first given to the public in The World of yesterday. It is that the Liberal party will meet the continued demand of the clerical party in Quebec for the restoration of Separate Schools in Manitoba with an agitation for the substitution of natural and secular schools in Quebec for the Catholic and clerical system. That is, if Archbishop Langevin persists in apealing to the Catholic bishops and clericals of Quebec to agitate in favor of Catholic schools in the Northwest, the Liberals under the auspices of Mr. Laurier will come out straight for national schools in Quebec. Mr. Tarte is said to be preparing plans now for making national schools the issue in the coming provincial campaign in Quebec. At present the Conservatives govern that province; the Liberals desire to add Quebec to their galaxy, and they think national schools the best way thereto.

Whether the agitation will immediately succeed or not we cannot say, but it will certainly give the bishops of Quebec and the M.P.'s from that province pause in their program which they have hitherto pursued. They will have to devote their energy to answering the charge now being made in some of the Quebec papers with strong facts and figures behind them that the widespread illiteracy of the people of Quebec is largely due to the clerical system; they will be on the defensive, not on the attack.

The whole incident also throws a strong side-light on the wisdom of the Catholic bishops of Ontario, in abstaining from public agitation in regard to the Manitoba schools.

There is now no longer any fear of Separate schools being foisted on Manitoba; and if this is to be the result, with the still further probable result of a revolution in the school system of Quebec, of the defeat of the Conservative party in June last, the people may think that the price was not too high to pay.

GREAT BRITAIN'S MEAT SUPPLY.

Canada, to some extent, but the United States to a greater extent, has turned the embargo placed by Great Britain upon the importation of live cattle to some account. We have not the statistics of Canada's exports at hand at the moment, but a British Parliamentary paper before us gives some interesting statistics of those of the United States—statistics which, by the way, prove that the ingenuity of our neighbors in pushing commerce is somewhat superior to our own. The paper in question states that the export of live cattle from the United States to Great Britain for the first five months of the current year was 175,000 head, as compared with 112,000 for the same period last year. If this rate per month be sustained, the year's exports will be over 400,000, or larger even than when the embargo was not in force. But our neighbors have pushed another branch of the meat trade to an astonishing extent. During the same five months the export of chilled beef was 108,759,600 lbs., as compared with 81,841,065 lbs. for the same period last year. At this rate the year's export will be some 60,000,000 lbs. greater than in 1892. It seems still a matter of doubt which of the two branches of the trade offers the larger profit. The United States Secretary of Agriculture in his report for 1895 says: "It appears to work out more profitably to transport the live cattle. They are carried on parts of the ship that would otherwise be unoccupied. They do not require such special fittings and appliances as to debar the vessel from carrying other cargo when cattle are not available." This, however, is a question that affects only the interest of the shipper. What concerns Canada is the fact that our neighbors are doing this large trade, and that with the sympathy of the people of England with us there is no good and sufficient reason why our share of it should not be a great deal larger than it is.

THE RELEASED DYNAMITERS.

If the dynamiter Whitehead was really insane, as the manner of his disappearance after his release from an English jail seemed to indicate, he recovered his senses in a marvellous manner, for we are now told he is safe and sound in America, and about to resume his ordinary avocation. There are people, however, who disbelieve all these stories of wrecked health and ruined wit, and are of opinion that the release of the prisoners was brought about in accordance with a compact made with officers of the Crown whereby the latter became possessed of useful knowledge regarding the intentions of the American-Irish physical force party. At any rate their release was followed very closely by the arrest of Tynan, Bell and their associates. It is possible that the insanity was a dodge to escape the suspicion that the men amnestied had turned informers. Whether the supposition be true or untrue the British Government officials can be trusted to keep the secret. That the laws of English prisons are rigorous is undoubted, but if all the dynamiters and that intellectual beast, Oscar Wilde, have been mentally and physically ruined during their incarceration, it is horrible to think how many poor creatures there must be like them. In fact Britain to-day would have almost as heavy an indictment to answer to as his atrocious Majesty Abdul Hamid II.

WOMEN AND THEIR FISTS.

How far the newspapers are responsible for the encouragement of what is known among its professors as the "manly art" is a moot question. They report the proceedings of its exponents just as they report anything else, either of general public import, or in which any number of people take an interest. One thing they are certainly not responsible for, namely, the development of the woman boxer. There are certain athletic pastimes in which women can take an active part not only with perfect propriety, but with much benefit to themselves and to those who come after them. There are others, however, that it is most advisable they should eschew, and among them is boxing, at least in public. Yet there are times when some knowledge of the use of their fists is of practical advantage even to women. We call to mind a case that happened only the other night. A gentleman, short of stature, but of respectable connection, when in his cups imagined he knew a woman walking on the south side of King-street. He approached her with superior confidence, and she, landing him one in the eye, knocked him into the middle of the roadway. Whether she was a female boxer or not we cannot say, but it was certainly a time when the use of a woman's fists was justifiable. The incident also seems to warrant a knowledge of the manly art by the fairer half of creation, but nothing can ever justify her appearance in public as a mauler. It is not nice to see two men try to pound each other into insensibility, and to all decent people it must be to the utmost extent repulsive to see women essay the same performance. And yet, as has been said, there are times when ability to administer a lovely black eye, such as the diminutive gentleman received on King-street the other night, is an eminently desirable accomplishment.

IN THE RAINY RIVER DISTRICT.

Mr. F. R. James Has Just Returned From an Extended Trip—A Boom Will Come Soon.

Mr. F. R. James, who has just returned from an extensive trip through the Rainy River district, is impressed with the good prospects for gold mining in this part of Ontario. He spent considerable time on the Upper Seine River section, and reports that a number of valuable finds have been made. This section has not yet been prospected, except to a very slight extent. The rocks, being covered with a thick coating of moss and the heavy underbrush, make it more difficult to discover and trace the veins; yet, in spite of these drawbacks, promising finds are numerous. About ten days ago Motley and Burritt of Rat Portage made a very rich find in the Sawbill country. Near Island Falls several important finds have been made this summer, free gold being in all cases obtained by "panning." It seems to be characteristic of the Rainy River district that the veins become richer and wider as depth is attained, and old prospectors say that so far no claim developed has proved a failure, and the fact that the gold is free milling is bound to make this country develop with great rapidity when it becomes known to the outside investor. It is expected that by next summer there will be several more stamp mills in operation. The locations are easy of access. Wood and water are convenient and labor cheaper than in British Columbia, thus offering most favorable conditions for successful mining.

Around Fort Frances and in the Wabigoon district there is plenty of room for a large number of live pushing settlers. Government grants of lands are being taken up in some cases by young men from across the line.

Rat Portage Mining Exchange.

At a meeting held at Rat Portage a few days ago for the purpose of organizing a Mining Exchange, at which were present a large and representative attendance of the leading citizens of Rat Portage, the following resolution was passed, the Mayor being in the chair: Moved by Mr. D. C. Cameron, who is President of the Ontario & Western Lumber Company, and seconded by Mr. C. W. Chadwick, "That this meeting extends its hearty congratulations to Mr. R. H. Ahn upon the success which has attended his operations in this district, and the business-like methods and ability he has shown in helping forward the development of our mineral resources." The motion was carried unanimously.

Machinery for Ontario Mines.

H. W. Petrie, machinery dealer, Front-street west, Toronto, shipped yesterday two cars of about 40 tons of machinery to the Ontario gold mines, Foley's camp, Seine River, Rat Portage. Mr. Petrie shipped up a heavy steam launch to the same address a few weeks ago. Other contracts are daily expected from the mining regions.

The price paid was $1 per share.

SASKATCHEWAN VACANCY.

T. O. Davis of Prince Albert Said to Be the Government Candidate.

A Deal Which Will Retire P. M. Barker of Regina to Make Room for Mr. Newlands, Who Was After the Nomination—Winnipeg View of Mr. McCarthy's Suggested Entry Into the Laurier Cabinet—Liberal Convention in Brandon.

Winnipeg, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—A despatch from Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, to-night says that the Laurier Government has accepted ex-Mayor T. O. Davis of Prince Albert as the Government candidate, and accorded him their support at the approaching bye-election for Saskatchewan. Mr. Newlands, who was in the race for the nomination, it is said, will receive the appointment of Inspector of Registry Offices for the Northwest, a position now worthily filled by P. M. Barker of Regina, who is to be either dismissed or superannuated. This important deal is believed to have been arranged by a well-known French Liberal officer of the Indian Department at Regina, who was here about ten days ago. T. O. Davis left yesterday for the French settlements and Battleford on a canvassing tour.

M'CARTHY AND THE CABINET.

Discussing editorially the reported entry of D'Alton McCarthy into Mr. Laurier's Cabinet, the Conservative newspaper here says: "Just how Mr. Laurier can square things with Mr. McCarthy on the school question any better than he could with Mr. Sifton or Mr. Martin it is a little difficult to understand, as Mr. McCarthy was quite as pronounced an opponent of Separate schools and Remedial Legislation." After contending that the report is most unlikely, the editorial thus concludes: "Mr. Laurier, in his criticism of Sir Charles Tupper's Government on the matter of the school question, gave the people to understand that it was a very easy matter to settle, that it would only take a few weeks or months to adjust it, and he assured the country that if the whole matter were put in his hands it would be speedily and satisfactorily settled. Instead of being settled, however, to the satisfaction of the people, it now appears to crop up, not only as a disturber of the peace in educational matters, but as a stumbling block in the way of Western Canada obtaining rightful representation in the Cabinet at Ottawa."

BRANDON.

Brandon Liberals have called a convention for Oct. 6 to select a candidate for the Commons. It is given out that Mr. Sifton will be the choice, he running as Minister of the Interior. Conservatives are urging Hon. T. M. Daly to be his opponent.

Temperance League Reunion.

A reunion of the members of the Temperance League was held at the W.C.T.U. headquarters last night. The first part of the evening was spent in discussing the best methods of conducting the work in connection with the Sunday afternoon meetings in the Pavilion. After the discussion the members mingled socially and partook of fruit and ice cream. The officers for the coming year are: J. S. Robertson, president; A. E. Parker, vice-president; J. E. Ferguson, chaplain, and John Armstrong, chairman of Platform Committee.

Builders' Laborers Concert.

A large turnout of the Builders' Laborers' Union enjoyed their first smoking concert in Richmond Hall last evening. The Committee of Management was composed of Messrs. William White, James Patterson, George Parkman, Richard Riddell, Walter Mason, Sol Fry, Stephen Archer and the president, William Walworth, who also occupied the chair. Songs, speeches and an abundance of refreshments whiled away a most pleasant evening. Mr. Charles Musgraves presided very acceptably at the piano, and Mr. Alex. Bruce, president of the Trades and Labor Council, was present.

S.O.E. Hospital Board.

The Hospital Board of the Sons of England met last evening in Shaftesbury Hall, Bro. J. F. Scott presiding. It was reported that four members were added to the list of those drawing sick benefits at the General Hospital since the last meeting, making eight in all. Two, however, have been discharged, and one has since died.

A CLERGYMAN'S PRAISE

Of Ryckman's Kootenay Cure.

Mr. S. S. Ryckman, Hamilton, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I take great pleasure in giving you a statement regarding my case of rheumatism, with which I was afflicted for over thirty years. For the past five or six years the pain had gradually approached my breast and affected me so that I could not sleep on my left side. Another trouble I had was a kind of dyspepsia, known as gastric indigestion, from which I suffered considerably. I had to be very guarded as to what I ate, otherwise I paid the penalty. At present, since taking your valuable remedy known as Ryckman's Kootenay Cure, I am able to eat my meals without any bad effects and sleep all night without any pain or bad feeling.

In addition, let me add that my rheumatism was so bad at times that I could not move myself. I am now like a different man and conscientiously recommend your medicine, Kootenay Cure, to anyone suffering from rheumatism or stomach trouble. I am glad to have found the remedy and willingly furnish you with this information that it may help others who are similarly afflicted. Wishing you success, I remain, yours truly,

CROWDS AT THE SEANCE.

A Branch of the National Spiritualist Association Established in Toronto—Last Night's Meeting.

Mrs. L. F. Prior, the missionary of the National Spiritualist Association of the United States, who was sent to Toronto to found a church of that creed, held her first meeting since its establishment with a big audience at St. George's Hall last evening. Mr. J. Anderson, president of the new Toronto church, occupied the chair. After reading a few stanzas from "The Reaper and the Flowers," Mrs. Prior followed with an eloquent prayer, which, addressed to Our God and Father, implored the enlightenment of the understanding to study the true economy of nature and obtain strength to raise humanity out of its miseries and grief. A number of texts had been placed upon the desk by members of the audience, and the speaker announced that she would take hers from one handed in by "An Ecciesiastical Friend," being, "Ye must be born again." She then took up the various interpretations of the idea of re-birth, commencing with that of the ancient Egyptians, who believed so fully in the resurrection that they embalmed their dead in order that the soul after its weary wanderings could return to the body. This view, said Mrs. Prior, introduced through the Romans, had been pressed upon Jesus, but what He meant by being born again was that every soul passed into the spiritual world, or happiness when death came. The lecturer contrasted this idea with the modern Christian view, that only a few were saved, and its terrifying effect at the death-bed. To hold the popular idea that the body was raised again from earth and ocean meant to create what would again decay. The spiritualists' creed, the speaker said, was that sin was merely the infringement of a law that brought retribution in this life, and that to work for humanity, leaving religion and death to take care of themselves, was really held by millions in the churches who were not yet strong enough to acknowledge it. The address, which was accompanied by a good deal of applause, was followed by the taking up of a collection, after which a number of clairvoyant tests were given with photo and jewelry as the starting point. From the spirits hovering about each inquirer Mrs. Prior gleaned information regarding his or her future, and also much of the past. One old lady was informed that her departed husband wished her to remain where she was until the 15th of November, and a male inquirer was told that a sick friend would die.

"LA LOIE" FULLER COMING.

She is Very Superstitious and Fears Whistling in Her Quarters.

Actresses' superstitions are proverbial. "La Loie" Fuller, who plays at the Toronto Opera House, next week, is no exception. But "La Loie" is content with only one. She is mortally afraid of whistling in her dressing room. Her dread of whistling is so keen that in one case in London, at George Edwardes' Gaiety Theatre, she absolutely refused to enter the dressing room because Mr. Edwardes was whistling as she approached the room. "La Loie" says and believes that whistling will drive her from the room before the end of her engagement and bring all sorts of bad luck besides. So great is her dread of this that she sends ahead to the managers of houses where she plays instructions to have signs placed at her dressing room door reading thus:

"Kindly refrain from whistling in this room. Sing, dance, talk, do anything but whistle. Loie Fuller."

Manager Small got a letter to that effect yesterday from La Loie. It considerably astonished him, but he immediately wired Miss Fuller that all the stage hands and the stage manager would be so instructed, and as a further precaution a man would be stationed at her dressing room door with a lemon, which he would vigorously suck all the time visitors were in there.

A Broad Statement Affecting Business Men

"It is stated by reliable statisticians, who have made a study of it, that during the past quarter of a century only three out of one hundred merchants have made themselves independent by their exertions as business men. If your wife and family have to endure bad luck with you what will they have to endure without you? Think that over long enough to make up your mind to get your life insured, and then attend to it at once."

"All praise to the man who protects his family with a life insurance policy," says an exchange. Just so, and plenty of blame for the man who does not. Let him become blameless in this respect forthwith."

The Compound Investment Policy of the North American Life Assurance Company, Toronto, is peculiarly adapted to meet the wants of business men, as it specially provides for the loan to the insured of the eleventh and subsequent premiums, and should death occur within the investment period selected (15 or 20 years, as the case may be), the full face of the policy is payable; it further provides, in the event of the death of the insured within the investment period, for the return of the eleventh and subsequent premiums paid, together with the full face of the policy.

Business men should at once investigate this advantageous system of investment insurance, by either securing an interview with one of the company's representatives, or by addressing Wm. McCabe, Managing Director, North American Life Assurance Company, 22 to 28 King-street west, Toronto.

AMONG THE BROKERS.

A Toronto Syndicate Tried to Buy the Town Site of Rossland, But the Deal is Off.

A Toronto syndicate was recently formed to take over the town site property at Rossland. A wire, however, elicited the information that there might be some difficulty in proving the title to the claim and the deal is now off.

Torontonians are negotiating through Campbell, Currie & Co. for the purchase of the Black Horse claim, which adjoins the Lily May, and was one of the properties located by Oliver Bordeau, the pioneer of the Rossland camp. Campbell, Currie & Co. have it under option and it is understood the terms of the proposed deal are rather easy.

M. O. Tibbets, secretary-treasurer of the company owning the Annie Fraction, wired Campbell, Currie & Co. yesterday that the shaft had struck ore.

W. A. Campbell left Rossland yesterday for Winnipeg, there to meet by appointment some eastern capitalists.

W. J. Harris of the Le Roi left Toronto for Rossland yesterday morning. During his four weeks' absence F. K. Kizer of Spokane will represent the Lily May and the Commander here. Mrs. and Miss Harris will reside in Hamilton during the winter. On his arrival in Trail Creek Mr. Harris will begin shipping ore from the Lily May. It is expected that all the subscription stock of this mine on the Toronto market will be disposed of by the middle of next week and that after that the price of shares will be raised.

Messrs. Moynahan, ex-superintendent of the Le Roi; W. A. Campbell and W. J. Harris will shortly examine the different veins on the St. Paul property and set men to work so that operations may be continued all winter upon it.

Mr. William Graves and Miss Graves sail for England to-day on the Cunard R.M.S. Lucania from New York.
