THE WORLD ON WHEELS.

There are so many wheels on the street nowadays that the rules of the road should be treated with much more respect than they are by a small percentage of the riders. It is a small percentage that are careless, but it is a small percentage that are careless, and it is a small percentage that are careless.

Another thing which most riders know, but, unfortunately, some do not, is, who has the right of way on the devil strip. For the benefit of the people who do not know, but would like to, and for the caution of those who do, it is pointed out that it can be said again that parties driving south and east on the devil strip have the right of way over those driving north and west on the same strip. Therefore, there must be a rule, and the person who does not obey that rule is either a fool or a criminal. It is a rule that is only endangering his own body but that of other people who are trying to conform to that which is conducive to mutual safety.

Ladies have just as much right to observe this rule as men. Of course, male riders will turn off the strip at the last second to avoid a collision, but it is not fair to turn out of course, and their inner thoughts of the lady would make her feel sad if she received a photograph of them.

Another point that it would be well for all riders to be carefully considered is, riding a rider ahead. Always go to the left, excepting in extreme circumstances. The rule is to go to the left, and if you do not, it will save you a smash-up that is bound to come some day if you insist on doing otherwise. These are the principles of the road, and, if you can't remember them, paste this in your hat.

A Detroit lady doctor has written a book on the diseases of the female sex, and the girls a lot of interesting things about bicycling.

There is no room for doubting that a return of prosperity is sweeping over the second half of the year. The indications of the fact are too many and too plain to need the reports of booming business as a rule. Everywhere there is a stir and bustle and an unmistakable spirit of optimism that has not been known for many years.

There is a spirit of cheerfulness, and the people are more cheerful than they have been for many years. The price of wheat has risen, and there is as much satisfaction on the part of buyers as of sellers. Those seeking wheels are finding them in abundance, and there is no need of unreasonable requests for lamps, bells and cyclometers.

A German millionaire who is the manufacturer of a widely known household commodity, has been in New York this week. While there he was seen to be very critical and exclaimed: "You break your mud guard; you lose your chain; you get your wheels out of gear; you get your brakes out of gear; and that no wheelman did the visitor was not reduced to a laughing stock, but was an indispensable part of the bicycle, as well as a most useful and no wise cost, so said without them."

American makers who have not laid in a stock of bar steel are finding much trouble in securing deliveries, sending a cyclist practically to the wall. That account, the price of iron, steel and brass, too, has soared sky-high.

There must be an Inspector Archibald, and a signboard was ordered down by the police on moral grounds because it represented an army of the "Reds."

Two of the largest insurance companies of the Empire, the largest statistics which show that, in spite of the supposedly great risks of fire, riding, due to falls while afoot, 2418 occurred on street cars, railroads and other public conveyances, and only 1727.

SIRDAR'S LONG GAMED RIDE.

Lord Kitchener Has Returned to Berber After a Trip Covering 800 Miles.

THE MAHDI RUINED THE COUNTRY. Everywhere Except on the Abyssinian Frontier Life and Property Are Secure.

Cairo, April 27.—Gen. Lord Kitchener, Sirdar of the Egyptian forces, who has just returned to Berber from an 800-mile camel ride through Eastern Sudan, telegraphs that wherever he has gone, except on the Abyssinian frontier, he has found security of life and property. The people everywhere are delighted at release from the tyranny of the dispersed dervishes.

Soudanese Ruined by Oppression. The Sirdar says that years of oppression at the hands of the Mahdi's men have practically ruined the country. The Shilluk tribe, which formerly possessed 80,000 camels, now has hardly 1000.

Sprayed Everything in Sight. Prof. Loucheud of the Ontario Agricultural Department has sprayed the nursery stock in Eastern Ontario, to prevent San Jose scale and has returned to Toronto. Fruit prospects, he says, are good.

To Stop Yankee Fishers. The Fisheries Department is going to stop poaching by Yankees. United States fishermen have been breaking the law by fishing in Canadian waters and by trying to enclose the boundary have been instructed to confiscate all poachers' boats and tackle. Those fishing in Canadian waters must pay the license.

CHRIST OR CAESAR? An Eloquent Lecture by Mrs. Mary E. Leane Last Night in Association with the Women's Work Missions.

Mrs. Mary E. Leane gave a clever address last night to a large audience in Association Hall. Her subject was "Christ or Caesar."

This age had changed the Gospel of Christ for a Gospel of cash. She graphically sketched the industrial crisis of the age, and declared the world was on the eve of a revolution. Political and religious liberty had been achieved, but industrial liberty was yet to come.

She referred to the armed preparation of the nations of Europe and predicted that the war between the Slav and Anglo-Saxon would be the most terrible the world ever witnessed. Incidentally, she said, that during the struggle came the United States would be the most terrible the world ever witnessed.

There were two forces in modern civilization, love and hate; the former exemplified by Christ, the latter by Caesar. Christ stood for love and kindness; Caesar for brute force and harshness.

Referring to the work of the churches in uplifting the masses, she gave them credit for preserving the true meaning of the doctrine of "Christ was hidden in a rubbish of theology." The present age was just awakening to the true meaning of the Lord's Prayer.

The lecturer here repeated a story told her by the late Sir John Macdonald, whom she characterized as a man who exemplified all the Christian virtues. It was by the practice of the doctrine of "Our Father," and ended with the 13th statement, "Cut that loaf quick and—"

It was by the practice of the doctrine of "Our Father," and ended with the 13th statement, "Cut that loaf quick and—"

The lecturer was frequently applauded for her wonderful diction and noble ideas. A discussion ensued after the lecture, in which Rev. S. C. Craig, Phillips Theological and Dr. Burns took part.

In reply to a vote of thanks, Mrs. Leane avowed her connection with socialism in no uncertain terms.
