

WOMAN'S WORLD

BY KATHERINE LESLIE

All the world goes out of its way these days to console the plain woman for her lack of beauty, and to instruct her in the various methods of becoming beautiful. But the plain woman knows her own face, and she knows that no amount of kindly-meant palaver about inner beauty compensating for outward defects of feature and complexion will ever console her for what nature has denied her. Her glass is her best friend; it never deceives her into thinking that her coarse skin with its sunken eyes and thin lips, when neither art nor nature has been transformed. It is simply because all women, plain or beautiful, have moments in which they are transformed by some inner happiness or joy, and, just as the sunset will transform the sky, so the inner light will transform the face. The plain woman looks like a sheet of pure gold for the moment, so does the radiance of happiness give to a plain woman an appearance of beauty. But it is for the moment—the light dies, the exaltation dwindles, and window glass and plain face become once more realities. The plain woman is rarely permitted to forget her glances in the newspaper and magazine in the land these days is concerned for her. They all come with recipes that are warranted to transform nature, to convert the ugly and the commonplace into the beautiful and the rare. According to some recipes, complexion may be completely changed, hair turned to living gold, features remodelled, and large hands and feet reduced to a minimum! At all these the plain woman smiles. She knows how much they are worth. Did she not in her hunger for beauty at one time spend the night hours in brushing and powdering her face, in rubbing and anointing her skin, in twisting her neck about to make it plump, and in a hundred other futilities when the time would have been much better spent in taking doses of tired nature's sweet restorer, balm of Gilead? And when she had performed nightly ablutions, and, for a year, was there any difference in her appearance? Not a whit! Her hair was just as dry and colorless, her skin as coarse and sallow as ever, while the complexion of her friend, who ate unlimited bon-bons and never gave her skin a thought, was exquisitely soft and fair, and clear as a child's.

When the recipe, instead of well-meaning, but misguided, folk for the benefit of the plain woman who are not outwardly beautiful, they are to be applied to her soul. The plain woman who is not lovely in character, more gentle, more unselfish, more sacrificing, more everything, if she would apply to the same philosophy, they are to be applied to her soul. The plain woman who is not lovely in character, more gentle, more unselfish, more sacrificing, more everything, if she would apply to the same philosophy, they are to be applied to her soul. The plain woman who is not lovely in character, more gentle, more unselfish, more sacrificing, more everything, if she would apply to the same philosophy, they are to be applied to her soul.

TO REMOVE TO YORK MILLS.
A Majority of York Township Council favor a Proposition to Remove the Township Office to York Mills.
The York Township Council has under consideration a proposal to remove the township hall and offices from Eglington to York Mills. Mr. David Birrell, of the latter place, has submitted a favorable proposition to the Council, and the latter seems disposed to accept it. Mr. Birrell claims that the removal of the township hall to York Mills will be a great benefit to the township, as it will be more centrally located, and will be more convenient for the residents of York Mills. He also claims that the removal will save the township a large sum of money, as the new building will be more economical than the old one. The Council will vote on the proposition at its next meeting.

PEOPLE WHO WORK.
The working people are the bone and sinew of the community. But hard work makes "bad backs," and no man can work well if his back aches and pains. The toilers are the great sufferers from backache and kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills are the great remedy for lame back and all kidney troubles. They cure every kidney ill from backache to Bright's disease. Mr. Wm. Anderson, a well-known carpenter, Parkhill, Ont., made the following statement: "Seven years ago I was attacked by symptoms of kidney trouble which steadily grew worse. I had pain across my back and in both sides, sometimes also between my shoulders and across my waist. The urine was high colored with a reddish, sticky sediment. I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and must say that they have done me more good than any other medicine. I am glad to say that the distress, drowsiness and tired feeling have disappeared completely."

It more than those who have it not? Only—only if the world would leave the plain woman alone, she would not mind so much—and she might occasionally be permitted to forget that she is plain.

THE HILLS O' HAME.
What tho a grey and gully sky
Looks low their hills above.
An' mist like wreaths o' memory
Trail white their sides aloof.

Free prouder peaks that higher soar,
And skies o' clear blue,
Wi' longin' hearts we turn awa'
To hills o' hame to you.

There's no a spot in the world o'er,
Beyond and Scotia's ken—
On every shore, in every clime
Her sons are hand their ain.

But, near or far, how'er they fare,
Their dream is aye the same—
The hills o' hame, the hills o' hame,
Back to the hills o' hame.

Here are some notable sayings of great men about women that we would do well to ponder:

The future of society is in the hands of the mothers. If the world was to turn a woman, she alone can save it.—Dr. Russell.

There is in the heart of a woman such a deep well of love that no age can freeze it.—Bulwer Lytton.

Woman is the most perfect when the most womanly.—The Marquis de Custine.

The choicest women are those who yield not a feather of their womanhood for the amount of manlike strength.—George Meredith.

Kindliness in women, not their beautiful looks, shall win the world.—Chapman.

No man or woman in the humblest circumstances can be really strong, gentle, pure and good without the help of being better for it.—Brooks.

Let no man value at a little price a virtuous woman's counsel.—Chapman.

O wonderful creature, a woman of reason. Never grave out of pride, never gay out of reason.—Day.

Handsome women without religion are like flowers without perfume.—Heine.

The indefatigable Mr. Crockett is out with another addition to his "works." This is a volume of short stories called "The Slickest Minister's Wooing," a collection which will, no doubt, be popular with all who are fond of the humorous. The volume is well bound and printed, and comes from the press of George N. Morang & Company, Toronto.

The warm, rich, crimson rose which we call the Meteor has only one defect—it lacks perfume. It has long been a favorite, owing to the beauty of its form and color, but the comparatively new Liberty rose promises to take the Meteor into the ranks of the roses. The Liberty is in fact, exactly the same rose as the Meteor; it has the same warm, crimson color, the same velvety petals, the same golden heart, but it is all that it adds the chief charm of a rose, perfume. It will, therefore, be surprising to find the Liberty rose of the season. One note, too, in the florists' lists of the valley, the narcissus, both white dowers of delicate fragrance, and quantities of violets, single and double. The chrysanthemum, however, is holding its own, and is still the flower for household and table decoration.

The Library Committee (Mrs. Amelia Jarvis, convener) of the Woman's Art Association meets to the gallery in the Confederation Life Building, on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

One of the newest garments for the neck requires two yards and a half of ribbon. The ribbon is wound round the neck, crossed at the back, and is then in a four-hand knot in front. From here the ends are brought down, tied in a bow at the bust line, and ends from this fall to the belt. The new neck ribbons are all handsome, and they are costly, and consequently a drain upon a girl's allowance. Soft taffeta ribbons in delicate colors and of wide width, embroidered with white silk polka dots, are much in favor, and ribbons with single color leaves in contrasting shades are very new. The Liberty satin ribbons, so soft and uncrushable, are ideal for neckwear, and white cotton ribbons simply bunched, tied twice around the neck, forming a small bow in front, and with long ends caught in at the belt, are also stylish and effective.

Another alternative to the proposed removal to York Mills is the proposition to locate the office in Deer Park. The Township Treasurer, Mr. Armstrong, has a corner lot on Yonge street which he proposes to sell to the Council as a site for the proposed new building. Mr. Armstrong has the support of Councilor Birrell, who is in favor of the removal of the office to York Mills. The Council will vote on the proposition at its next meeting.

T. R. Employees' Concert.
The Toronto Railway Employees' Union Benevolent Society are giving their annual concert at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening. This year they have made their program decidedly more attractive than in previous years, adding more variety to it than is usually heard, while having a selection of the very best artists obtainable. Including Miss Beverly Robinson, Miss Marietta Labeli, Mr. W. A. Carson, Mr. James F. MacFarlane, and in addition, they will have a quartet of four voices, consisting of the voices of the Galveston Disaster and the Capt. of Washington, the Governor-General's Band, and the Toronto Chorus. The concert will also include the singing of the hymn "The Lord is my Shepherd" by the choir, and the singing of the hymn "The Lord is my Shepherd" by the choir, and the singing of the hymn "The Lord is my Shepherd" by the choir.

Expelled from a Church.
Last August Peter E. Mackay, who works at Eaton's, was expelled from membership in the First Church of Christ (Christian Scientists), Care Howell and University Avenue, the reason given being "non-attendance." He claims the action was unwarranted and illegal. The expulsion was the result of the deliberation of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Mackay has tried to bring about a peaceful solution of the difficulty, but without avail. He has decided to submit his case to the court, and accordingly he caused a writ to be issued against John H. Stewart, Isabella Stewart, Richard S. Perry, John Campbell, J. H. Stewart, Elizabeth Lee and Georgina Mackay, as constituting the Board of Trustees. He claims a declaration from the court that his expulsion was oppressive, illegal, void and arbitrary; also damages.

Tax Sales Set Aside.
By a judgment of the court, yesterday tax sales of property owned by J. F. Ruttan of Port William and Port Arthur are set aside. They were "without notice and irregular." He bought the lots originally from J. S. Finch of Port Arthur. He will have to pay one tax sale purchaser to the judgment of the court. The court allowed for the removal of a chicken coop which the purchaser declared was a "permanent improvement."

A Liquidator Wanted.
The application for the appointment of a liquidator for the North Toronto Floral Company of Davisville was yesterday entered until Friday, upon the request of the land mortgagees.

Common Pleas' Decisions.
The Common Pleas Division of the court, consisting of Chief Justice Meredith and Mr. Justice Ferguson, handed down their judgments yesterday in the following cases:

Shaw v. Shaw. Appeal of plaintiff from order of Chief Justice Falconbridge dismissing with judgment of County Court of St. James, Dundas and Clergy streets, dismissed with costs.

This is a Remedy You Should Know About

Angier's Petroleum Emulsion

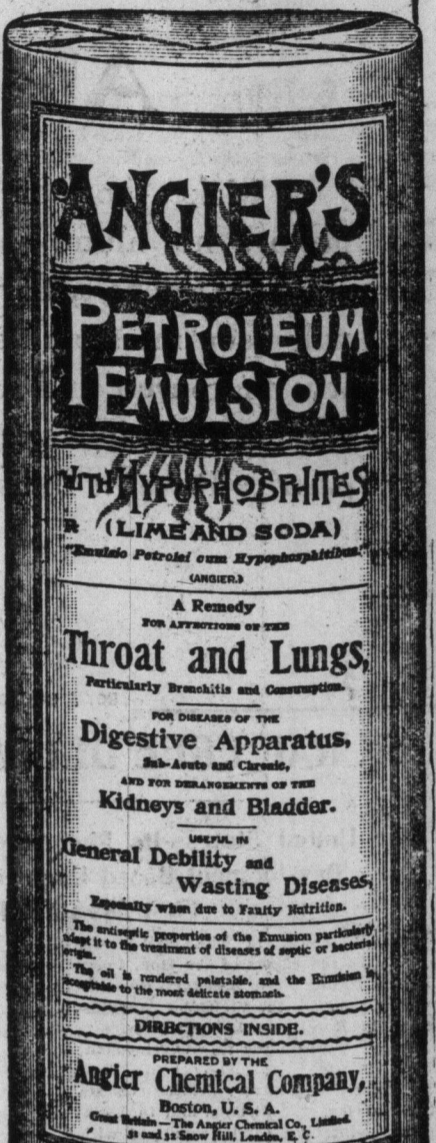

ANGIER'S PETROLEUM EMULSION combines the remarkable soothing and healing property of a specially prepared Petroleum with the well-known tonic qualities of the Hypophosphites of lime and soda. This emulsion is not a quick medicine, or even a patent medicine. It has been thoroughly tested and is largely used in hospitals. It has been prescribed by the medical profession in the United States since 1881, and in Great Britain since 1892. In advertising it we wish to avoid everything that savors of quackery and confine ourselves to simple, straight-forward statements of what our preparation is and what it will do. These statements we back up by testimonials taken from genuine bona fide letters. All our letters have come to us without solicitation, and tell how Angier's Petroleum Emulsion has cured Coughs, Weak Lungs, Faulty Digestion, Bowel Disorders, and Wasting Diseases, as well as the beneficial manner in which it acts when given to puny children, pale women and all enfeebled people.

Coughs.
"I have tried for years to cure my cough, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. I feel a new man, and I have saved my life and I have recommended it to all I know as a cure for coughs and colds."—A. J. HAYNES, "Middleton, Ont."

Lung Hemorrhage.
"I must congratulate you on your preparation. I have been suffering with my lungs. In fact, I have nearly spit them away. Nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. I feel a new man, and I have saved my life and I have recommended it to all I know as a cure for coughs and colds."—A. J. HAYNES, "Middleton, Ont."

For Bronchitis.
"For the past four years I have been troubled with a severe bronchitis, which caused me the loss of sleep and appetite. About a month ago I was advised to try Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and though I have taken only two bottles, I am entirely cured."—A. J. HAYNES, "Middleton, Ont."

Consumption.
"I contracted a bad cold which two years ago, which caused me the loss of sleep and appetite. About a month ago I was advised to try Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and though I have taken only two bottles, I am entirely cured."—A. J. HAYNES, "Middleton, Ont."

Lawyer German of Napanee Tells How He Was Slugged by the Plaintiff in a Slander Suit.

SUIT AGAINST PORT PERRY DOCTOR.
Who Now Wants Particulars of the Claim—A Church Case Before the Courts.

Charles Stevens, a fertilizer manufacturer of Napanee, is suing Dennis H. A. Daly, a prominent merchant of the same place, for $10,000 damages for loss of credit and damage to his business, caused, he alleges, by the defendant. Some excitement was caused by the case, as the defendant is a prominent merchant of the same place, and the plaintiff is a prominent merchant of the same place.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY IN OREGON.

G. W. Traynor Shot and Killed J. Hardenbrook and Then Took His Own Life.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 26.—A special to The Oregonian from Jacksonville, Ore., says: G. W. Traynor last night shot and killed J. Hardenbrook and then took his own life. Hardenbrook was engaged to be married to Traynor's daughter. Traynor, who is a prominent merchant of the same place, was found dead in his room, and Hardenbrook was found dead in the street.
