

PIONEERS, ENGINEERS AND NEWSPAPERMEN ALL SEE THE SIGNS

Toronto's Old Boys Likely to Have a New Building Next Year—Visiting Scientists Impressed by Canada's Greatness.

Crowds, unprecedented at this stage of good old exhibition time, filled the grounds last evening.

People who have been in regular attendance marveled at the extent of patronage and in the crowded grandstand the question was frequently put: "If it is like this the first week, what is it going to be in the next?"

While the show is a good one it was announced by Manager Orr that there will be a change of program next week, with trained elephants, trained ponies and some other new high-grade features.

While the grand stand performance is the chief attraction in the evening, it was noticed that the "piper" or "midway" or "country" or whatever other word describes that chaotic jumble of sights and sounds, was crowded and doing phenomenal business.

Some uncheduled excitement was provided before the grand stand when the Royal Canadian Dragoons were concluding their spectacular musical ride.

The boys who were working yesterday and making manual efforts to appear unconscious of the public gaze were: Roland Locke of Lansdowne, Edward Drake, King Edward, Ross Elliott and Lawrence Huggill, Boston street, and Wilfrid Clayton and John Lee, Devon-street, youngsters of 12 and 13 years of age.

Another big luncheon crowd marked the Press, Engineers and Pioneers' Day. One of the features was the speech of Herman W. Wapperman, editor of the "Maple Leaf."

Mr. Williams had received to luncheon. Formerly county editors got a 36 page.

Prof. Miller, president of the Mining Institute, the father of Cobalt, was also called upon, but he was not present.

Following the time-honored custom of Pioneers' Day, the men who knew Toronto when the city was 200,000 was in his knickerbockers, assembled at the old log cabin on the lake front during the morning and there was much renewing of old friendships.

At 12.45 p.m. they formed in parade 400 strong and headed by the Winnipeg Band, marched to the accompaniment of the "Maple Leaf" to the restaurant behind the grand stand.

Immediately following the band was the big touring car of George H. Goodenow, containing J. P. Leving, a mischievous Toronto youngster, aged 37 years; John Langstaff of Thornhill, 30, and Eli Crowe, Brampton, who has seen 32 winters.

President William Rennie of the York Pioneers presided at the dinner. Mayor Oliver, the first speaker, spoke of the debt of gratitude which the present generation owed to the founders of York, and declared himself fully in sympathy with the movement to have a new pioneer building erected near the present site for the preservation of the priceless relics which were eloquent of the times that had been.

Manager Orr said he gave the exhibition management much pleasure to do honor to the men who had endured hardships in heaving the timber and filling the soil of a new country.

Hon. Thos. Crawford and R. J. Seaton also spoke.

the exhibition grounds, given by Leonard Albert Hill under the auspices of the National Cash Register Company.

In explaining these pictures the lecturer can't have too many parks and breathing places for the working people, as civic associations and city betterment clubs are coming to realize.

From the very moment the National Cash Register Company, the pioneer in neighborhood improvement work, took up the idea of clearing out the dilapidated "Sliver Town" and converting it into a park, in conjunction with an endeavor to interest their employees in beautifying their own homes by systematic planting of flowers, they found that they secured a finer class of employees with a high standard of morality and citizenship, and an enormous increase in factory efficiency and output.

In concluding his address, Mr. Millon said, "Go to the town man, your factory and he can give an intelligent and good account of himself; go to the homes and you will find many of our citizens who are on one-time wretched shacks to veritable flower-clothed abodes."

Professor Millon delivers his 20-minute address every Monday and the attendance of beauty lovers everywhere, Mr. Spence included, is invited.

Values in automobiles have been revolutionized this year by the McLaughlin car, which means that people are only beginning to learn this, but they are learning it fast at the National Exhibition. They are seeing things at the McLaughlin car which they are seeing their eyes to the enormous, uncalculated prices that have been demanded for cars of foreign make, which are not excelled in matters of workmanship, finish and endurance qualifications, and at the same time produced prices that have not been adjusted to make allowances for prohibitive import duties.

This company are giving the greatest value ever offered the Canadian public, and next year they will be on hand with propositions that will be a revelation to the masses.

Meat Me at the Fountain. Delicious, refreshing, reviving and enlivening are the odors which spring from a bubbling fountain in the center of the luxurious booth of the Sovereign Perfumes, Limited, and are wafted thru the corridors of the manufacturer's building.
