Three Daughters Practically Disinherited - No Valid Contest of Succession

- Belgium Mourns,

BRUSSELS, Dec. 17 .- A contest over ne succession to the throne of Bel-um is possible. The Vatican is reported to have confirmed the marriage a year ago of King Leopold and Baroness Vaughan. Two sons are said to have been born from this union and both survive. The elder is Lucian, five years old. It is reported that he will claim the throne.

It is pointed out by Senator Winer that if there was only a religious ceremony the laws of the kingdom would prevent the accession of a child of such a union. The senator, however, does not believe there was a religious marriage.

If it is established that the Barone Vaughan is of foreign birth she pro-bably will be expelled from Belgium like the favorite of Leopold I., the Baroness Mayer, whose house was at-tacked and destroyed by a mob after Senator Winer, the king's friend and confidential legal advisor, told the Associated Press to day that Leopold had turned over a considerable portion of it to the Baroness Vaughan and her chi'dren, and had created a stock Switzerland, which was anticipated in by the representatives of sixty governments, fully persuaded that by the time the postal union meets in Madrid, turned over a considerable portion of it to the Baroness Vaughan and her chi'dren, and had created a stock company of its estates in order to forestall a possible raid upon them by the Princess: Louise and Stephanie, or their creditors. The New Monarch. Prince Albert, the heir presumptive. who will take the cath to the throne next Thursday, is a nephew of Leopold II, being a son of Prince Philip, Count of Fianders, Leopold's younger bro-ther. Prince Albert married in 1900 Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. They have three children, theseldest of whom Prince Leopold, is eight years old.

Prince Albert has traveled and studied in America, and is a great student of economies and politics, is splendid horseman, and is interested in aviation and motoring. He has even made a flight in a dirigible.

Prince Afbert is a tall, soldierly looking man, more than six feet in height. He wears glasses and bears an extra-ordinary likeness to his uncle, King Leopold II., when he was of the same age, and also to his grandfather, King Leopold I., for they are all tall, finely built men in the Belgian royal family.

Prince Baldwin, Prince Albert's eller brother, who died suddenly in 1891, was the handsomest officer in the Belgian army. Prince Albert was equally popular in the army, never allowing any difference to exist between himself and his brother officers, again showing his resemblance to King Leopold by this democratic trait.

Both Fond of Sports. Many were the European princesses whom rumor assigned as the possible bride of Prince Albert. When in Vienna, whence he had been sent in 1898 on a mission by King Leopold, Prince Affort met his future wife. One evening at a court reception he was par-ticularly struck by the beauty and sweetness of Princess Elizabeth Valerle of Bavaria. When he returned to Brussels he expressed a desire to see her again. They met later and their acquaintance ripened into love. Princess Elizabeth was unable to conceal her pleasure when she learned that Prince Albert was really fond of her. Both Prince Albert and his wife are Prince Albert was ream?

Both Prince Albert and his wife are very devoted to sports. Prince Albert was passionately fond of the bicycle, so much so that the colonel of the cavalry regiment in which he served for a gouple of years at one time began to entertain fears for the horsemanship of his royal charge. He has been an extensive traveler and has visited not only every court in Europe, but also most of the great centres of industry in the old world. Last spring he visited the Congo and South Africa.

Princess Elizabeth is an excellent rider, a good cyclist and a daring automobilist. She has a bright, sunny disposition and possesses a great deal

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 17.—(Special.)—It became known to-night that Mrs. Caroline Martin, aunt of Mrs. cial.)—It became known to-night that Mrs. Caroline Martin, aunt of Mrs. Osey W. H. Snead, the East Orange. N. J., bath victim, paid a mysterious four days' visit to this city last June and was closeted back of locked doors with Fletcher W. Snead, the husband of the dead woman, much of the time. The woman came here on Sunday, June 13, and left the afternoon of June 14. When she reached the hotel the woman was dressed eftirely in black and was heavily vefled. She registered as Mrs. Ball. Cleveland. Ohio. and was assigned to a room n the second floor. Returning to the desk she said that she would prefer a much cheaper room, adding that she had private reasons for stepping at the New Murray. She was assigned to a room on the roop floor, and then in an undertone asked Clerk Richard G. Smith if there was a man working there by the name of John Lucas. Receiving an affirmative answer, she said that as son as he could be allowed to leave his duties she would like to see him in her room. "I am his ount," she eplained.

From this time until she left the following Thursday afternoon Mrs. Ball and Lucas spent much time together in the former's room.

One f the hotel attaches to-day snowed Snead a picture of Mrs. Martin and eclaimed, 'that's a good picture of your aunt, isn't it?" The Largest and Best

The Sunday World to-night will have a decidedly Christmas flavor from beginning to end. The first page of the Editorial Section will bear a handsone design in colors, which will reflect the real Christmas spirit. A feature of the issue will be two pages of reviews of the literary production of Canadian writers during the past year, accompanied by cuts of prominent and new Canadian writers. This feature will be the most comprehensive of the kind attempted by any Canadian publication.

The editorial this week will be found on page three of this section Christmas cheer is the outstanding thought, and the subject is appropriately illustrated. Read it.

The regular literary and musical departments will have special interest, and this section will be enlivened by a number of seasonable poems and sketches by capable writers.

Featured in the Illustrated Section will appear a number of pictures of Irish and Scottish scenes

Featured in the Illustrated Section will appear a number of pictures of Irish and Scottish scenes recently photographed and reproduced by special arrangement.

The Sunday World's special cable service will give all the news of the old world up to the time of going to press, and the paper will also give its readers the benefit of a special telegraphic service from Canadian and United States points, in addition to the regular telegraphic services.

The Sunday World has been carotully following the civic election situation, so look for readable gossip from the city hall.

A lady of the staff will furnish her second instalment treating with life in the Toronto underworld. She will reveal some startling facts pertaining to the registering of the vital statistics.
