British Fleet Did All Possible to Save Host of Refugees.

LONDON, Sept. 15 .- A despatch to Reuter's from Athens says: "The British legation today told representative of The Hestia that the British fleet undoubtedly did everything possible with a view to saving the military and refugees from Kavala They saved as many soldiers as desired to leave and also a quantity of war material.

"It is stated that all the forts near Kavala, excepting those exposed to the fire of the allied fleet, are occupied by Bulgars." Another Athen's despatch under yesterday's date says: "The news of the recent events at Kavala has just been permitted to be printed here and created the most profound resentment. The Hestia, organ of former Premier Venizelos, prints a sensational story to the effect that the ministry of Premier Zaimis asked the intervention of Germany to prevent the Bulgarian occupation of Kavala, in conformance with a written pledge of the Germans and Bulgarians that Kavala, Drama and Seres would not be occupied.
