Amatite ROOFING

THIS advertisement will bring to your attention the best and cheapest ready-roofing on the market. Here is how we prove it the best.

In the first place Amatite is made in one standard thickness, whereas other ready-roofings range from a thin, flimsy half-ply to three-ply thickness.

The three-ply thickness (which by the way is only one sheet of felt) is the only kind that can be compared with Amatite.

But right here is the point. Amatite is better made, has better waterproofing material, and weighs more per square foot than the three-ply grade of other makes, and costs much less.

These facts make Amatite the most desirable roofing made.

But in addition to its superiority in material and manufacture, Amatite has one distinction which makes it stand out above all others. It has a real mineral surface.

It is hardly necessary to state the advantages of such a mineral surface, the freedom from painting or coating, the perfect protection against all kinds of weather, the great durability.

This mineral surface is embedded in a layer of Pitch, the greatest known waterproofing material. Beneath this in turn are two layers of the best grade of wool felt—cemented together by more Pitch, making the whole a roofing that is absolutely waterproof.

No other ready-roofing can compare with this mineral surfaced, waterproof, weather-proof, durable roof. That's why we say Don't buy your roofing until you have seen Amatite.

Philip's heart was in his mouth, but he managed to answer that the boy was all right; there was no charge against him. Then he escaped into the street. The one man he had forgotten was his green-grocer friend, who had indeed acted the part of the Good Samaritan.

There was some excuse for this, but the boy's astounding good nature would admit of none. He hastened to Farrington Road with the utmost speed, and found his friend putting up the shutters of his shop.

The restaurant next door was open. Philip approached quietly.

"Good-evening, Mr. Judd," he said, holding out his hand.

"Good-evening, sir," said the green-grocer, his eyes revealing not the remotest idea of the identity of the smart, young gentleman who addressed him so familiarly.

"Don't you know me, Mr. Judd?"

"Well, sir, I can't exactly bring to mind—"

"I suppose the good fare you provided for me at Holloway has so altered my appearance that you fail to recognize me again?"

"What! You don't mean to say—'Ere, Eliza, this young gent is the lad I was well' you of. Remembered till Saturday, you was. I saw in the paper last night. Well, there, I'm done!"

By this time Philip was inside the shop, and the stout green-grocer and his equally stout spouse were gazing open-mouthed at the well-dressed youth who had supplanted the thin tatterdemalion so much discussed by them and their neighbors.

Judd and the restaurateur with the boy, who had been introduced to him by the newspapers made London gaps. Indeed, both men had been interviewed by police and reporters many times. They were living links with the marvelous, poetical of common stone for an aerial phantasm.

And now, here he was back again, dressed like a young gentleman, and hailing Judd as a valued friend. No wonder the green-grocer lost his breath and his power of speech.

"But Philip was smiling at him and talking."

"You were the one man out of many, Mr. Judd, who believed in me, and even stuck up for me when you saw me led through the street by a policeman to be imprisoned on a false charge. I did not know until an hour ago that I was in food while I was remanded in prison. I will not offer to refund you the money you spent. My gratitude will take up days. But I do want to pay you the money I borrowed."

"The manager of the restaurant to which I am staying here, but I don't say in here for a moment? Don't say I am present. I wish to avoid a crowd, you know."

Judd had time to collect his scattered ideas during this long speech.

"How the unexpected!" he cried. "What's the unexpected for the treat I've led? People I never set eyes on in my life afore ken 'ere an' bought collars, or later, or neckties a few plums, an' then they'd start. 'Mr. Judd, wasn't it you as stood a dinner to the Boy King of Diamonds? That's what they christened yer, sir. Or it's 'Mr. Judd, wasn't it yer tell us we're that young Morland lives? Surely yer know summat abt him or yer wouldn't hev said 'is bill.' Oh, it's bin a beauty. Hasn't it, Eliza?"

"But we never let on a word," put in Mrs. Judd. "We was close as wax. We told none of 'em as how Mr. Judd went to Holloway that night, did we, Willyum?"

"Not us, Ye see, I took a fancy to ye."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

DO NOT COME THIS LETTER WITHOUT CONSIDERABLE TRUBLE. The "philanthropic" purpose he had already decided upon, but he thought it was rather clever to refer to the possibilities of "future business."

Fashion Hint for Times Readers

Dress hats for late summer continue to be of the high-crowned, depressed-brim order, their trimming depending upon the climate in which they are to be worn. At the seaside ostentatious tips are prone to straighten out and look straggly, but for inland resorts there is nothing more smart than a cluster of fluffy plumes to add to the steeple effect of the modish hat crown. Neck ruffs are worn with most dress hats provided the face be not too full. Even in that event they may be worn by depressing the rows of pleated maline, ribbon or net directly below the chin.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

JOSEPH SELMAN COMPANY

"When We Were Twenty-one"—Edmond's famous masterpiece—in fact, a success on two continents, will be presented at the Opera House, Monday next by the Joseph Selman Company. This company is headed by Joseph Selman, a talented and sterling actor, who has recently completed an engagement of forty weeks at the leading man in The Road to Yesterday, and includes Eugene Du Bois, who appeared here September last—prominent in the support of R. B. Mantel. In selecting this charming comedy as the opening play Mr. Selman has made a wise decision, as no play of recent years has met with the popular approval as has this exquisite play. The role of "Dick Carter" is an exactly suited to his talents. Special care has been taken in dating the play and the production throughout of the highest standard. Indeed, such theatrical organizations visit the city far and seldom, and when one does come it ought to receive the most substantial encouragement and support. The company are just completing a successful run of four weeks in Halifax, where they broke the record for good business during the summer season.

HIBERNIAN CONVENTION

Great Preparations for the Events of Next Week in This City.

A meeting of the A. O. H. committee having in charge the preparations for the convention here which opens August 23rd, was held last night in St. Malachi's hall. This was the last meeting before the convention and there was a good attendance.

There will be twenty-seven divisions represented at the convention. Three of these are from Restigouche county, Campbellton, Dalhousie and Jacques River. Nine are from Northumberland county, Newcastle, Chatham, Nelson, Benzie Bridge, Blackville and other points. One from Moncton in Westmorland county.

Three of the divisions will be in line, followed by the visiting delegates.

The route going to the Cathedral will be Wellington Row, Union street and Waterloo. After the service they will march down Richmond, Brussels, Sydney, to the north side of King square, to Charlotte, King, Market square, Rock, Union and Peel to the Nickel theatre. Seats will be reserved in the Cathedral for the members of the ladies' auxiliaries, and others will be in attendance.

Immediately on the return to the convention hall Mayor Bailock will give an address of welcome on behalf of the city. On the platform will be the presidents of kindred societies, the C. M. B. A., the I. L. & B., and the Knights of Columbus. After dinner the serious business of the convention will be taken up at 2 o'clock, the ladies' auxiliary meeting in another part of the building.

On Tuesday night the ladies will give a reception to the delegates, commencing at 9 o'clock, and winding up with a dance. On Wednesday afternoon the whole party will be conveyed in special cars to Indiantown, where either the steamer Cathlamet or Victoria will be taken for a four hours sail on the river.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve disease—Nerve indigestion.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Restorative—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tastes like liquor, and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

MILLTOWN BABE KILLED BY HORSE

St. Stephen, N. B., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The home of B. H. Kerr in Milltown is saddened this evening by the death of his child. Mr. Kerr was unloading hay into his loft by aid of a horse and his daughter, three years old, had hold of the reins as the horse moved into the yard.

Some portion of the going caught and the horse was thrown back upon the child causing the little one's ribs to penetrate the lungs with fatal result.

ACADIAN CONVENTION

Edmundston, N. B., Aug. 20.—The national convention of the Acadians, which opened here yesterday morning, continued with great success during today, and was brought to a close late this afternoon. This morning at 8.30 o'clock, high mass of requiem, was celebrated for the repose of the souls of deceased Acadians. The service was attended by a large congregation. Later in the morning an interesting meeting was held. Rev. Father Albert and Mr. Justice Proulx, prominent Acadian, of New Orleans, who came especially to attend the convention, were the principal speakers.

The feature of the afternoon was a remarkably fine banquet at which 175 persons sat down. Rev. Mr. Dugal, of St. John, was the host. The banquet was a success in every particular. When the toast list was taken up the toast to the King was heartily responded to by the Acadians, after which the national hymn of the Acadians was sung.

The third toast, that to "Our English Speaking Kinsmen of the Provinces," was proposed by W. Comeau, M.P. of Nova Scotia, and responded to by Senator Costigan. The French Canadians were proposed by Rev. Dr. Chasson, parish priest of Edmundston (N. B.), and responded to by Rev. Mr. Mathieu, formerly rector of Laval. The toast to the French Acadians was proposed by Rev. Mr. Dugal, and responded to by Mr. Justice Proulx.

The reports of commissions, dealing with subjects were presented by Rev. Mr. Dugal, and responded to by Mr. Justice Proulx. The reports of the commissions, dealing with subjects were presented by Rev. Mr. Dugal, and responded to by Mr. Justice Proulx.

Then followed excellent addresses by Senator Poirer, Rev. Stanislaus Doucette and Rev. Philip Beliveau. Greetings were heartily extended to Rev. Mr. Proulx and thanks expressed for the assistance he had rendered in the convention. Rev. Mr. Dugal was also thanked for his efforts and suitably responded. The banquet closed the convention, and the visitors left for their homes at 8.30 o'clock this morning.

FROM WEST INDIES

The West Indian steamer Ocaso arrived from Bermuda, the Windward Islands and Demerara last evening at 8 o'clock. A fine trip is reported all the way up. The steamer has a large cargo on board for this city and Halifax, including a large consignment of sugar and molasses. Thomas Wong and Fung Kum Faw, two Chinamen, are on board the Ocaso on their way to China and will pass through Canada in bond.

Among the passengers is Mrs. James N. Tyner, widow of Postmaster-General Tyner, who was a member of each Republic administration from Lincoln to Roosevelt. She will spend a few days in the province before returning to Washington by way of Halifax and Boston. Mrs. Tyner is accompanied by her nephew, H. J. Barrett, a prominent lawyer of Montreal, and Mr. Murphy, school superintendent of New Jersey.

Col. Frewen, staff officer of the garrison in Bermuda, was also aboard. The colonel, who is accompanied by his wife, is on his way to spend a vacation in Cape Breton. Speaking to a Telegraph reporter last evening, Col. Frewen said Bermuda was not so prosperous now as could be wished. The tourist travel was not so large as usual and this counted much in the revenue of the island.

WAS SLIGHTLY MIXED

(St. Andrews Beacon.)

A lady in Massachusetts wrote a letter of enquiry to St. Andrews a few days ago, asking if it were true that at one time Timothy Warren Anglin had been a Methodist pastor here. The writer of the enquiry stated that she had been under the impression that Mr. Anglin was a leading member of the Catholic church, but having been informed by a former St. Andrews man, now a resident of Boston, that he had filled the Methodist pastorate here for a time and that he afterwards became editor of the St. John Sun and a member of the Dominion parliament, she was eager to get the facts. She would have written to Mr. Anglin, she said in her note, but she understood he was travelling on the continent with his family.

JAPS BUY LAND

Galveston, Aug. 20.—One of the biggest land deals of the year has just been effected, whereby a company of Japanese headed by Omar Tanaka, bought 20,000 acres of land in Hidalgo, Nueces, Cameron and San Patricio counties for the colonies of Japan. The consideration is not given, but is said to be about $200,000. Tanaka is a small army of his countrymen are waiting in Japan to come and settle on these lands, and the syndicate he represents is arranging to send out about 1,000 of rice growers early this winter.

William J. Glasgow, Jr., on the staff of the New Bedford Times, arrived in the city yesterday on a vacation.

A SUNRISE WEDDING

(St. Andrews Beacon.)

Doston, Aug. 12.—Warren O. Stinson of St. John, was this morning the hero of a sunrise wedding, and Miss Maude H. Bruce was the heroine. The unusual ceremony is without a parallel in Maine. The sun's first rays were just peeping over the horizon when a large crowd of the bride's friends found their way to her home. People on their way to business stopped and looked and wondered at the gathering at such an unusual hour. The minister, rubbing sleepy eyes, performed the ceremony, and then after a wedding breakfast the couple left for the St. John boat. They will live in St. John. (Mr. Stinson is a son of Thos. Stinson, of the St. Andrews customs. He was at one time a valued member of The Beacon staff; at present he holds a responsible position in the office of the
