Ottawa, December 8th, 1947.

Dear Sir,

I have for acknowledgment your letter of November 24th and note that it is the Indian Reserve situated at Sambro, Halifax County, Nova Scotia, in which you are interested.

Our records simply disclose that the said Reserve was transferred to the Dominion by the Provincial Government at the date of Confederation and if you have not already done so, I would suggest that you enquire at the Crown Lands Department, Province of Nova Scotia, as to the origin of the Reserve.

Yours truly,

D. J. Allan,
Superintendent,
Reserves and Trusts.
