Napoleon Said: "The Tools to Those Who Know How to Handle Them"

HE knew that when right hands take hold of the right tools the result is something above the ordinary.

OUR Made-to-Measure Suits and Overcoats are the best proof of this we have ever seen. They show that British All-Wool Fabrics put into the hands of skilled Tailors can be—and are—made into fashionable garments at a price that appeals to every man.

Almost every "Liner" arriving at the Port of Montreal during the past month has brought us large consignments of the latest in British Woollens and wovens have a "marvellous" variety of fabrics for Fall ready for your inspection. We say "marvellous" because they speak for themselves in value and because, owing to the unprecedented National demand made upon the Mills in the Old Country, it is not by any means an easy matter to procure British Woollens. Our Agents in Great Britain, however, have done wonders for us and the results are the extraordinary display of pale tans to be seen in our stores.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

At the meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held last week, at which Mrs. Kahring presided, Mrs. Richard O'Brien gave a report of the fund for prisoners of war in Germany, stating that $125 had been sent to the Duchess of Connaught and gratefully acknowledged, with her thanks to the women of St. John and friends from whom it came.

It was decided to make it as widely known as possible that the shilling a week being forwarded by the government to each prisoner in Germany does not make it possible for them to be provided with more than bare sustenance of life. As many of them are recovering from wounds, and all have much to endure, the Club have decided to continue their urgent appeal to friends in St. John in behalf of these men. A cable received at Ottawa from Sir George Perley begs the women of Canada not to let this good work drop. Mrs. O'Brien will therefore continue to receive all donations to this fund.

Some plans for the coming season were spoken of, and a report received from Mrs. Lawrence of prizes sent to the institution for the Deaf and Dumb. Mrs. Powell reported on the meeting held this month to hear an address by Miss Arnoldi, on the work of the Soldiers' Comforts' Association, and the amount of $22 collected on that occasion was voted to the St. John Soldiers' Comforts Association.

The special feature of the meeting was a visit from Lt. Col. Walker of the Dominion Hospital Commission. He came, because he believed the Canadian Club were willing to undertake such work, to ask them to assume certain duties connected with the Home for Convalescent Soldiers soon to be equipped and opened by the government in the city of St. John, in the house offered by Mrs. Parks. After making a clear statement of the plans of the commission, and the help required, Dr. Walker withdrew and the ladies discussed the matter; after which the president waited on Dr. Walker to say that the ladies of the executive thanked him for his confidence and for the opportunity he had given them for such useful service; and to say she felt they could speak for the whole membership in saying that abundance of help would be forthcoming from the women of St. John whenever he wanted it; also, that the names of the committees suggested by him would be forwarded in the near future.

Everyone can help! $50,000 in a week from the patriotic auction!

Although the original stock of shad of the Pacific Coast was brought from the Connecticut River, George H. Graham of Springfield has filed a request with the California Fish and Game Commission for a shipment of shad fry in the spring to replenish the New England supply.

Give the slogan to your neighbor—$50,000 in a week!

Arthur Mulligan, aged 45 years, in a fit of despondency at Hopewell Hill, N. B., yesterday, committed suicide by strangling himself with a rope.

YOUNG HEIRESS FALLS TO DEATH

Throws Herself From Roof Of a New York Building
A FALL OF 120 FEET

Suicide of Louisville Woman Follows Nervous Attack After Society Season — Sent to New York For Special Treatment

New York, Sept. 17.—Miss Elizabeth Fenley, daughter of Oscar Fenley, president of the National Bank of Kentucky, of Louisville, Ky., and prominent socially throughout the state, killed herself by leaping from the roof of an eight story loft building at 89 West 8th street into the thirty-foot excavation for a new building. Her fall was really ten floors, a distance of about 120 feet. She died before reaching St. Vincent's Hospital.

Miss Fenley, who was thirty-one years old and of attractive appearance, had suffered a nervous attack following an active season in society last winter. Treatment in Louisville not improving her condition, her physician sent her to this city two months ago to be attended by Dr. William Fritchard.

She took a suite of rooms at the Majestic Hotel and Dr. Fritchard assigned Miss Edith Hebb, a nurse, to be Miss Fenley's constant attendant. Miss Hebb lived with Miss Fenley thereafter at the hotel.

Recently an aunt of Miss Fenley, Miss Short of Louisville, came to this city, and she also stopped at the Majestic. Miss Fenley improved, and when Miss Short started back for Louisville, Miss Fenley insisted upon accompanying her aunt to the Pennsylvania Station without the escort of her nurse.

For her sojourn in this city Miss Fenley had engaged a touring automobile and a chauffeur. Unaccompanied by the nurse she and her aunt drove to the station where Miss Fenley saw Miss Short off on a train for Louisville.

Miss Fenley's movements thereafter are uncertain until she ended her life, except that she had told Miss Hebb she wished to do some shopping. She was driven to a large store in the downtown section, where she directed the chauffeur that he could return to the garage.

Hundreds of persons were passing through 8th street at 5.20 p. m., while many factories were being emptied of their employees. The factories in the loft building at 89 West 8th street were dismissing their men and women employees when Miss Fenley made her way to the roof. The elevator attendants said they did not take her up, and it is believed she walked up the stairs and was not observed by the scores descending in the elevators.

The screams of a woman from the roof of the building attracted the attention of hundreds in the street, and they looked up in time to see Miss Fenley cable received at Ottawa from Sir George Perley begs the women of Canada not to let this good work drop. Mrs. O'Brien will therefore continue to receive all donations to this fund.

Henry Meyberg, living at 35 West 8th street, on the other side of the excavation, heard the screams of those in the street, and from his window he could see the young woman down in the excavation. By means of a ladder he descended, and his mother lowered water and a towel to him. He was endeavoring to assist her when the police arrived. A sheet-iron billboard serving as a fence in front of the excavation had to be torn down before the police could lower ladders. Then Miss Fenley was

A Beauty Hint

To reduce conspicuous nose pores

O remove that very common skin trouble—conspicuous nose pores—which ruins so many otherwise flawless complexions, begin the following treatment tonight.

Wring a cloth from very hot water and hold it to your face. Do this several times. When the heat has expanded the pores, lather your cloth freely with Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub this into the skin very gently with an upward and outward motion. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stepping at once if the nose feels sensitive. Rinse the face thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold—the colder the better. Then—finish by rubbing the nose for a few minutes with a piece of ice. Always be particular to dry the skin well.

You will feel the difference in your skin the first time you use this treatment. Woodbury's cleanses the pores. This treatment with it strengthens the small muscular fibres so that they can contract properly. But do not expect to entirely neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores until they are inconspicuous, and will bring to your complexion that greater clearness, freshness and charm you have longed for.

A 25c cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap is sufficient for a month or six weeks of this treatment. Get a cake today. It is made in Canada and is for sale by Canadian druggists from coast to coast.

Well—that was "some" shave!

I would never have believed it

"I was told that it would pay me to throw away my old shaving powder and stick, and the rest of them and try this new Mennen's Shaving Cream. It seemed to me that all shaving soaps were pretty much alike, but, after this, Mennen's is my one best bet.

"I am converted—I am a 'Mennen booster' from now on. I did everything I could to make Mennen's Shaving Cream fail—using cold water and a dull razor blade. I thought it couldn't soften the beard without rubbing in—it didn't. I didn't think it would make a lather that wouldn't dry. The lather stayed fresh, and my face stayed moist. It was the easiest, quickest and most satisfactory shave I ever had."

MENNEN'S SHAVING CREAM

Mennen's Differs from Others

- 1—Absorbs an unusual amount of water, thus you need only 1/4 inch for every shave.
- 2—Lather remains moist for at least ten minutes, therefore no relathering.
- 3—The creamy lather will soften the beard itself. No rubbing in.
- 4—An indifferent razor makes good with Mennen's.
- 5—No "free" caustic, but ingredients soothing to the skin.
