THE 26TH IN VERSE

To the Editor of the Times:

Enclosed is a song composed by a member of the 26th Battalion, now in the trenches. He has asked me to send it to you. If you have space for it, would you kindly put it in. He was a member of the St. John Soccer Club, and when the call came to join the first contingent, was involuntarily home, got well and joined the 26th. He was employed at the Maritime Glass Works, City road. The St. John club has nine members in the ranks; they were all playing members, and nine out of eleven leaves a pretty good showing for a football club. Here is the list:—President, A. Coult; Capt., R. B. 1st Con.; Pte. J. Coult; Princess Patricia (killed in action); Drum, Major Burton, 98th Battalion; Pte. D. McCrea, 26th Battalion; Pte. J. Dillon, 26th Battalion (wounded—in English hospital); Pte. G. Clements, A. S. C. France; Pte. J. Brown, bugler, 26th Battalion; Pte. G. Sparman, 104th Sussex; Corp. A. Robertson, H. L. T. Scotland.

Yours respectfully,
F. MCKENNA,
104 Britain street.

This is the song:—
Good Old 26th N. B. Reg. Canada.
The European crisis does grow more intense each day.
It is the talk of young and old now, go wherever you may.
Everybody has their pets on which their minds do rest,
And nothing will convince them that their's is not the best.
The name of my selection I'm about to make I know;
Although its members lately have had many a nasty lot,
The name of my selection is the Famed New Brunswick Lot.
Stick together 26th,
And never be dismayed;
Just show to your opponents all how the game of war is played.
In spite of slurs and slanders,
We mean to hold the way,
And prove to all the world we are "Aye, Ready for the Fray."

POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning Charles Paterson was remanded on charge of supplying liquor to soldiers in uniform.
John McAtee, arrested on a warrant charging him with assaulting Paul Randall, was also remanded. His brother is in jail charged with assaulting Randall and also hitting him with an axe. Two men arrested on drunkenness charges were fined $8 or two months in jail.
Walter Higgins, arrested by Policeman George Fuller on charges of drunkenness and interfering with pedestrians in Mill street yesterday afternoon, was warned that he was liable to nine months in jail.

REPORT BY TURKISH WAR OFFICE

Constantinople, Dec. 8.—An official statement issued by the war office says: "On the Irak front on December 4, our troops approached Kut-El-Amara. On the same night strong detachments reconnoitered on the right bank of the Tigris and, assisted by sudden firing, attacked the enemy position. On the 5th, our artillery bombarded the enemy positions and the neighborhood of Kut-El-Amara. Our columns, which had separately advanced east of Kut-El-Amara, directed their fire against three transport vessels and two monitors. One monitor was set afire, two vessels were captured, besides two more freight vessels. One of the latter carried two aeroplanes and much aerial material. Altogether six aeroplanes were captured on this front."
"On the Caucasian front, on the night of the 4th, we repulsed an enemy attack against our outposts in the district of Kuloobga, capturing some prisoners."
"On the Dardanelles front, near Anafarta, our artillery bombarded enemy troops who were throwing up fortifications. Near Arriburnu, an enemy cruiser which unsuccessfully bombarded our positions was forced by our artillery to withdraw."

RECRUITING MEETING AT MILL STREET TONIGHT

There will be another rousing recruiting meeting at the Mill street rooms this evening. John Keefe will preside and the speakers will be Rev. M. E. Fletcher and Rev. W. G. Lane, a South African veteran. An orchestra will play and there will be solos by A. G. Burnham.
Spain's New Cabinet.
Madrid, Dec. 8.—The opinion prevailing in political circles is that the new cabinet will be formed from the two sections of the liberal party, under the leadership of Count Romanones.

The Man In The Street

Well, so far Henry Ford hasn't caused any more international complications by bumping into a German torpedo.

That squirrel which a well-wisher sent on board should not lack for food on the trip; you know what squirrels eat.

If Mr. Ford falls in Europe he might find song-writers to sing here. He might, for instance, train his wireless on our evening contemporary and invite the editor to come out of the trenches from which he is trying to undermine the compilation form of government.

Or he might try to arrange a more permanent armistice between the manager of the street railway and the commissioner of public works.

Santa Claus may be strictly neutral but the youngsters are liable to notice this year that he is not handling made-in-Germany toys any more.

The season of good will towards all is approaching and we're not wishing any one harm, we are just wondering what is going to happen to any man who utters display speeches in St. John.

In his place we would just as soon be in jail as within reach of some of our sturdy loyalists.

Don't put off till tomorrow what you can do today. This applies to Christmas shopping as well as the outside windows.

It might also have applied to the street railway work in Market Square, but "what's the use?"

Another American steamer has been sunk in the Mediterranean. Those Austrians will insist on getting little notes from Uncle Sam.

Wanted Through Ride

The car was bumping along at a lively rate. It was a noisy car, and the gear underneath seemed to be humming with strange sounds. At each curve the car seemed rough, but the rough spots seemed most numerous when the car struck the hill in Indian town just about Durham street. Here, each little bump was emphasized, and the few passengers "put up and took notice." Turning to the motorman, one of them expressed the wishes of all when he shouted above the noise of the car, "Say, captain, I want to stay on the end that goes to Indian town." However, both ends "went" even though it might have felt that perhaps they wouldn't.

Could He Put It Over?

"What's the idea, trying to get a picture of the gay night life of a great city?" asked a friend of an enthusiastic amateur photographer who was found with his camera in King square on a recent evening.

"S-s-s-h, I'm going to make a lot of money out of this picture," was the answer as the camera was raised on the long line of would-be patrons along the block waiting to get into one of the theatres.

"How, going to sell it for advertising purposes?"

"No, on your life. I'm going to sell this one to the German government as a picture of the famine stricken bread line in once prosperous Canada."

GENEVIEVE BLINN, DAUGHTER OF LATE WM. NANNARY, GOES INTO THE 'MOVIES'

Genevieve Blinn, daughter of the late William Nannary of St. John, who is one of the best known actresses on the American stage, has entered the motion picture field. She will take the leading feminine role in a great drama featuring Robert Mantel. The play, which will be screened in Kingston, Jamaica, British West Indies, is entitled "Drink."

Mr. Mantel starred in the production on the stage and with the assistance of Genevieve Blinn and a talented cast expects to make as good a success of it on the screen. Genevieve Blinn sailed recently from New York to Jamaica.

AN APPEAL TO THE SOUTH END PEOPLE

Among those who were at a slimly attended recruiting meeting in the Temperance hall, St. James street, last evening was one young lady whose husband and three brothers are in khaki.

What is the explanation of poorly attended meetings in the south end? From Rev. Mr. Cody's church sixty-one men have donned the king's uniform and a large number from St. John the Baptist and Carmarthen street churches, while there are many other soldiers from the south end who are not connected with either of these churches.

If every family with a son or brother or husband or father in the ranks would send one representative to a meeting there would not be so many empty chairs.

There will be meetings in the Temperance hall again this evening and on Friday and Saturday evenings. Both men and women are invited. The people of the south end can make these meetings a success. If they think of the boys in the trenches they will think also of these meetings. Hon. R. J. Ritchie will speak tonight.

HOLY DAY TODAY

In the Catholic churches of the city today services were conducted as on Sundays, in honor of the feast of the Immaculate Conception. Large congregations attended.

The Purchasing Agent

Mother may be the purchasing agent of the home—but mother's purchases frequently follow the suggestions made by father or son or daughter.

The children especially have definite ideas of what they would like to have, particularly what they like to wear.

The force of newspaper advertising lies in its appeal to the entire family.

Everyone reads newspapers like The Telegraph and Times.

They go into the homes—give ideas and settle the question of what to get and where to get it.
