Poles Injunction Is Refused Company By Chief Justice

Surprised That There was No Answer to the Wilson Letter.

Sir Douglas Hazen's Findings re City's Lighting System.

The application of the New Brunswick Power Company for an interim injunction restraining the City of St. John from erecting the poles of their distribution system projecting through the Power Company's trees within three feet of them, and for the removal of such wires that have been erected in close proximity to the company's primary and secondary wires, was refused this morning, with costs as to cause, by Chief Justice Sir J. Douglas Hazen. The Chief Justice, in summing up the evidence placed before him in the affidavits, said that he was surprised that the Power Company had not answered the letter of J. Barry Wilson, engineer of the City Power Commission, in which he had offered to insulate the plaintiff's wires, and thus eliminate all danger. He thought that this might have proved a very satisfactory manner of settling the whole difficulty.

In view of the contradictory nature of the affidavits, he said that he could not see how he or any other judge could make a final decision without recourse to the advice of an expert electrician. Of the local experts, he said it would be rather hard to find one that was non-partisan, as the contention had existed for so long that all had taken one side or the other. To bring an expert from the outside, and have him go over the system, would mean that a report could not be submitted to him much before the time set for the hearing of the case, on August 21.

Taking into consideration also the assertion of the city to stand behind the Power Commission in the matter of damages and injuries should any occur, the city could continue its work at its own risk, and he would refuse the application.

NO SIGN OF THE LITTLE GIRL

Considerable excitement was caused this morning on the arrival of the steamer Governor Dingley from Boston, when a little girl who was expected in the care of the stewardess, did not arrive. A young lady called at the boat and a policeman accompanied her on board. He questioned the stewardess and learned that only two children, a boy and a girl, brother and sister, had been on the boat. As neither of the children answered the description, and as both were in charge of an uncle, the search was given up. Inquiries from the office of the Eastern Steamships Company elicited the information that a middle-aged woman had been inquiring last week about a girl of about twelve years with fair hair, supposed to have been sent on Saturday's boat in care of the stewardess. The young lady this morning was asking for a girl of the same description, and it is supposed that the child expected was the same one. The names of the ladies could not be learned, but the little girl's name was Harvey. It is thought that her parents failed to send her.

POKIOK PRODUCES 4-LEGGED CHICK

A freak of nature is reported from Pokiook road from the henry of Mrs. S. Coddell. A batch of chicks came into the world there yesterday among them was a Plymouth Rock with four legs.

The new arrival was able to move about, though not in quite the usual manner, and rather to the mystification of the staid father and mother in the coop.

AUTO TOUR OF PROVINCE

Mrs. Miles, who drove the car, reports that the roads were in excellent condition. While away they visited Campbellton, Newcastle, Bathurst, the Caracot coast, Fredericton and Moncton.

As Hiram Sees It

"I see they been hevin' a lot o' talk in the papers 'bout London about dance-in'," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter. "It seems the gals over there has gone jist about crazy over dance-in'. They want to dance every night an' keep at it till mornin'. When I was a young feller the gals didn't like bein' hugged in public. They didn't mind it down by the gate on a dark evenin' nor in the shadder o' the porch—o' afore the lamps was lit in the settin' room—but they didn't go in fer these here huggin' dances. That minds me o' old Pheby Wart, out to The Settlement. She was near ninety year old, when the young folks had a dance an' a supper at midnight. Aunt Pheby sot up an' seen it all through. In her time they didn't hev even what you call square dances, an' when she was ast next day what she thought o' the party she pitched into the quoddlies an' waltzes—as mad as a hornet. 'Why,' says she, 'the very idee o' them gals lettin' fellers git so close to 'em an' go chasin' round like that. It was awful. We wouldn't never think o' sich doin's when I was young. Why, when we went to a dance when I was young we knowed how to behave ourselves. We jist picked up our petticoats an' danced like ladies."

AUTO CRASH MAY GET INTO COURTS

Two Cars Damaged in Collision at Haymarket Sq. This Morning.

The new traffic regulations may get a very thorough exposition if a mishap which occurred at the corner of Haymarket Square and City Road gets into the courts, which one of the interested parties avers it will in the near future.

Bruce A. Kingston of 10 Haymarket Square, a garage proprietor, was proceeding in his McLaughlin roadster from the western side of Haymarket Square and about to turn to the left of City Road when the car was struck by a Chevrolet driven by Mr. Gordon, local dealer on Main street. The accident occurred almost in the middle of the turning area and naturally an exhaustive argument ensued as to where the blame lay.

Kingston said he was observing the new traffic law in making the outside sweeping turn to the right and that before he proceeded far he was checked by a draft team traveling to the right from Haymarket Square and another such vehicle out of Gilbert's Lane. He said he promptly checked his car and stood still until the traffic cleared.

The McLaughlin car had been stalled but a moment, he said, when it was struck by the Gordon auto, traveling down City Road. The heavier car was badly damaged, running board, a dented body and a general straining which its owner says will cost him heavily to get the right front wheels of the Chevrolet were twisted, radiator damaged and the car was otherwise badly mangled.

As both parties to the accident are disinclined to accept responsibility for the crash, on the other hand, Kingston having the matter settled in the courts. To some who saw the accident it appeared as if the new traffic regulations should receive a very thorough explanation in the evidence in this case may adduce.

THEY VOTE TO BUY MUSQUASH LIGHT

People of Apohaqui, Norton and Millstream Vote in Favor.

At a largely attended meeting of the residents of the Apohaqui, Norton and Millstream district, held last evening at Apohaqui, it was decided to proceed with the canvassing of the people for signatures for Musquash light, and if the necessary number of contracts were secured to ask the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to go ahead with the installation of the line.

S. R. Weston, chief engineer of the commission, and Gordon Krebs laid the proposition of the commission before the meeting and answered questions. The vote to carry on the campaign for the current was by a majority, only six voting against it. At the rate which has been quoted it will be necessary for at least 65 per cent. of the possible users to sign contracts before the work is undertaken. Should the proposition go through, the district will be served from the Sussex sub-station.
