PASTORALS FAVOR THE IRISH TREATY

Words of Primate and Archbishop of Dublin.

De Valera, in Limerick Address, Says Point Reached is Only Oasis in Desert, and Calls on People to Reject Free State.

Dublin, Feb. 27.—The Lenten pastorals read in the Catholic church throughout Ireland yesterday referred approvingly to the Anglo-Irish treaty. The Archbishop of Dublin said:—
“For the first time in many centuries our people have, to a great extent in the framing of their destinies in their own hands. In the place of the unympathetic, wasteful and unintelligent rule of men alien to us in blood and traditions, we see in process of being evolved an Irish government which will have knowledge of our people's needs. The Irish nation has reached a turning point in its existence.”
Amhgh, Ireland, Feb. 28.—Cardinal Logue, Primate of Ireland, yesterday read last night from Rome, in a Lenten pastoral letter written in Rome, says: “Our people should be pleased to learn that the new Pope has a warm place in his heart for Ireland. At my farewell audience His Holiness said: ‘I send special blessings to Ireland.’” The cardinal adds that he was deeply pained to learn that the benefits of the new regime had been endangered and a return to real peace impeded by divisions among the Irish people.

De Valera in Limerick. Limerick, Feb. 27.—Eamon de Valera, accompanied by Liam Mellows and Harry J. Boland, continued his campaign here today. “We are like a party set out to cross a desert; we have reached a green oasis, and there some would tell us to lie down and rest. But we must go on. We are walking you to treat to the narrow ways of sacrifice. Don't allow yourselves to be tempted by the fishy bait of the free state. Hold on and in the end you will get something you can be proud of.”
Resolutions supporting the De Valera view were carried by acclamation.

WOULD PROHIBIT THE IMPORTATION BY INDIVIDUALS

B. C. Attorney General Desires That Province Have Liquor Monopoly.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—An amendment to the Canada Temperance Act, which would be of concern to every province that has control of the liquor trade, is sought by Attorney General Manson of British Columbia, who is now in Ottawa. He asks that where any individual controls the sale of liquor, importation by individuals shall be prohibited. It is contended that in British Columbia the success of the local act is threatened by the fact that the government lacks a complete monopoly. If such were the case it is asserted that conditions would be greatly bettered.

The amendment is also put forth that the right of monopoly of the Quebec government is open to question if anyone else is permitted to sell liquor in the interests of that province also if the amendments sought were enacted.

The Passionist Fathers are members of the Congregation of Discalced Clerks of the Most Holy Cross and Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ. They were founded by St. Paul of the Cross, who was called to the world Paul Francis Danti, and who was born on Jan. 8, 1694, at Ovada, in the then republic of Genoa. He started writing the rules of the order in 1720, while still a layman. These rules were approved by Pope Benedict XIV. on May 15, 1743, and confirmed in 1769 by Pope Clement XIV, who later gave to St. Paul and his companions the name of Passionist Fathers. They are now established in Mexico and Chile.

The vows taken by members of the congregation are simple, not solemn, but they are perpetual. They spend five hours daily in chanting and meditation and abstain from flesh meat three days a week throughout the year and every day in Lent and Advent, except in the northern climate where a dispensation for two days a week is given. They dress in rough woolen clothing and wear only sandals on their feet.

In Rhode Island the state board of mediation and conciliation has asked manufacturers and strike leaders of the Pawtucket and Blackstone Valleys to reply by Tuesday afternoon to a proposition that its chairman, Judge J. Jerome Hahn, be appointed sole mediator of the wage dispute. This would involve the return of the operatives to the mills as once a rate of wages to be determined by Judge Hahn and to be effective until his final decision and at the hours of labor that prevailed before the strike. He would make no decision in regard to working hours which the board considers a matter for the legislature to determine. No mediation move is pending in New Hampshire.

The door was opened in about ten minutes by the defendant and the two inspectors followed him through.

Trousseau of Royal Bride of Tomorrow.

Simplicity Striking Note in Contrast to Magnificence of the Bridal Gown—Love of Flowers Shown in Selections.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Feb. 27.—Princess Mary's trousseau is described as ‘youthful looking and the last word in smartness.’ In contrast with her magnificent bridal gown of cloth and silver, with pommee overdress embroidered with pearls and gold and court train of white duchess satin, the remainder of her trousseau is of marked simplicity. Most of the frocks are seven or eight inches off the ground, and they reflect the new notes in early Spring fashions, the low waist, the girle, the Grecian straight shoulder to shoulder neck and the round neck, the belt sleeves, the short sleeve and the three-quarter, adapted to the various times of wearing, and many other fancies that will be seen in flood wide presently when Spring is really here.
