Introduction of New Wool Blankets

THESE ARE BLANKETS OF PEDIGREE.

We give to buying and selling blankets the careful attention that such intimate articles of household economy deserve. Consider the service that one expects from good blankets, and helter skelter buying or selling seems unwise.

Our advance showing of Wool Blankets, critically examined, will demonstrate our point. The soft surface of true wool blankets which leaves no doubt of quality is an assurance not to be misunderstood.

There is satisfaction in buying in the early season, when stocks are fresh from the looms, and one has the unlimited choice that only early buying assures.

A RIPE STRAWBERRY
The Times has received from Miss Zella Harrison of Jerusalem, Queens County, a ripe strawberry, plucked on October 7th, on the farm of her father, Samuel Harrison, of that place.

INTERFERED WITH RACES
Charles O'Neil and Charles McInerney, twenty-four and twenty-eight respectively, were before Judge Ricketts this morning on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct near the Marsh Bridge when the road race was being run yesterday. Policeman Gosselin testified that the men were intoxicated and had been endeavoring to interfere with the racers. The men were remanded pending investigation, but were released on payment of a deposit.

BURIED TODAY
Archdeacon Raymond officiated at the funeral of the late Richard J. Sullivan this afternoon. After a short service at the house, the body was taken to St. Mary's church, where service was held, and thence to the Church of England burial ground. There was a very large attendance, and the procession was a long one. The Feasterville Union was represented by a very large delegation. The Union also sent a large floral piece, and the steem in which Mr. Sullivan was held was shown by many other beautiful floral tributes.

GREAT INTEREST HERE IN THE WORLD'S SERIES

Crowds Impatient to Hear Results—Bettings on the Game—Some Large Wagers

The intense interest shown by St. John fans in the world's baseball series is evident by the crowd around the various bill boards in the city where the scores are put up as soon as received, and by the heavy betting.

It is reported that one well-known man, not unconnected with the hotel business, won $500 on yesterday's game, while another won $200 on the first day's play and lost the same sum when the Giants won yesterday.

Betting today was more in favor of the Giants, but no odds were offered except in one instance, when a wire from John Frodham to a local man made him offer 4-5 that the Athletics would win. It was quickly snapped up.

CHARLOTTETOWN MAN NEXT PRESIDENT OF CANADIAN A. A. U.

Montreal, Oct. 9.—Though he has only held the office of president of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union since the last annual meeting of that body, held in Toronto, November 1912, Dr. Fred J. Tees of this city has given out unofficially that he will not stand for nomination this year.

As a successor to Dr. Tees, several names have been mentioned, but the man most generally favored, is apparently H. D. Johnson, of Charlottetown, P. E. I. For a long time, Mr. Johnson has been a vice-president of the union, and he has been one of the most active of its workers. He is credited with creating the strong hold that body now has on all amateur sport in the Maritime Provinces.

MISSIONARIES ARE RESCUED FROM HANDS OF CHINESE BANDITS

Peking, Oct. 9.—The foreign missionaries, American and Norwegian, who have been in the hands of the bandits at Tsoo Yang, have been rescued. According to the advices received here they have not been injured. The captives included the Rev. George Holm and the Rev. Harman Fauske and his wife and child. They were being held for ransom, but Tsoo Yang was surrounded by government forces, and an attempt by the bandits to break through the cordon, had already been repulsed.

RECHRISTEN STEAMERS AFTER NAMES OF BAYS ON ATLANTIC COAST

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The ships of the royal Mail Steam Packet Company engaged by the government are to be re-christened and named after four of the bays on the Atlantic coast, Chaleur, Chedibucto, Cobequid, and Chignecto.

The first sailing under the new arrangement will be from Halifax in November.

WEDDED AT McADAM

A Brewer, Maine, letter says:—Word has been received of the marriage of Fred Wood, the well known ball player of this city, and Miss Beulah McKay of McAdam Junction, N. B. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Stirling of McAdam Junction, took place Saturday and Mr. and Mrs. Wood left on the evening express for a wedding trip to the east. Mr. Wood is a Brewer boy for several years one of the coming amateur ball players of this city. For the past two years he has signed with the McAdam Junction ball team and has evidently made good, remaining with them for two successive seasons and, incidentally, capturing a bride in the railroad town. His many friends in Brewer, where his mother and other members of the family still live, will extend hearty congratulations and good wishes.

ONE ON THE PARSON

Skowhegan, Me., Oct. 8.—Rev. J. G. Osborn, pastor of the First Baptist church, is telling a story on himself. He is the recognized pastor of the county jail, and while in conversation with the inmates a few days ago, one of them said to him: "Mr. Osborn, we like you better than the other preachers. The others are all right, and we haven't anything against them, but you seem like one of us."

HOW CAN HALIFAX ACCOMMODATE THEM?

Two Berths For Six or Eight Steamers—Lack of Facilities There May Force Rearrangement of Sailings

Only one wharf, with two berths! That's what Halifax has, and with those two berths, according to despatches from the Nova Scotia capital, she will have to accommodate the Empresses, the Allan liners, the White Star, Dominion, the Cunard, the Canadian Northern as well as the freight vessels which make Halifax their terminus in winter.

Naturally, Halifax is worried. Rumors that the action of the C. P. R. in sending the Empresses to Halifax will mean that the Canadian Northern, Cunard and White Star Dominion boats will change their port to St. John and leave out Halifax altogether are rife.

Calculating that six lines will touch at Halifax or make their terminal at that port, these two berths will have to accommodate at least six to eight vessels every week. The Liverpool-Newfoundland service to be considered, and the Furness steamers.

The Empresses always stay in port one week to be provisioned and overhauled. Thus one berth will be continually occupied by a mail steamer, leaving only one other berth for the other five, or seven, or nine, as the case may be, which are waiting in the stream for their turn to unload!

According to this each boat should have about half a day at the berths for the purpose of unloading, loading, discharging and taking on passengers and mail, stocking, filling their bunkers and the other multitudinous duties that fall to the lot of a ship's company in port. Just twelve hours—when it can't be done in less than several days!

Added to all this the report states that neither of these two berths is big enough to accommodate either one of the Empress boats or one of the big Allan liners. Look as if Halifax will be bitten off more than she could chew!

WOODLAND NOTES
(By O. S. H.)

It is said that a race is decadent when it loses interest in good sport. History seems to agree with this statement. The love of clean sport is an evidence of the vitality of a people. It is the credit of the city of Montreal in St. John that they encourage clean amateur sport. It was a pleasant sight to see the contestants in the bicycle and running races. They passed swiftly along the road by the river made historic by the Paris and Renforth crews. Here also raced such famous amateurs as Hankins, Wallace, Ross, Brown, Harry Vall and many others. In the bicycle race most of the riders seemed new to us, but we recognized two born sportsmen—Winchester and Cochrane, two men who are in the game for the love of it, and who are on the happy side, win or lose. A speaker later said: "The success is not so much in winning as in playing the game. Thomson in his 'Seasons' says: 'Even from the body's purity the mind receives a certain sympathetic aid. True sport calls for purity of body and mind. The ideal is good. The greatest benefits are indirect. In everything we do well we get a greater benefit than we expect. In a carriage we saw Ernest Stirling, we could wish him in the contest, yet doubtless the qualities that brought him victory so many times will carry him well through life. Oulton of Amherst has proved the worth of the adage 'Try again.'"

PROBATE COURT

The probate court this morning dealt with the estate of Timothy Clark, lighthouse keeper. Deceased died intestate in 1910, his wife predeceased him and she left him surviving three sons, William L. of Boston, commercial traveler; Edwin F. of the same place, carpenter; and George H. of St. John, police officer; and one daughter, Elizabeth, wife of Robert Fawcett of St. John, laborer, and two grandchildren, Mabel and Adam, children of a daughter, Alice, wife of Albert Lockhart of San Francisco, mariner. On the petition of the children resident here, George H. Clark, the son, is sworn in as administrator. No real estate; personally, consisting of a leasehold, valued at $500. Baxter and Logan are proctors.

In the estate of Nehemiah Shepherd, laborer, Rev. Robert P. McKim, the executor, files his accounts and asks to have the same passed and decree for distribution made. Citation issued returnable on Monday, 17th November, next at 11 a. m. Messrs. Hanington and Hanington are proctors.

BUTTER AND EGG PRICES WILL JUMP

Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—According to local wholesale and retail dealers, prices of butter and eggs are about to take an upward jump. They declare that the shortage in these commodities is becoming acute, while prices this year are lower than at the same period last year. The same situation exists all over the west, and Winnipeg is asked by outside points to supply produce on urgent calls. Butter is expected to jump five cents a pound in price, and eggs the same per dozen.

ROBERT ATKINS AND CHILD

A letter from Cranberry Isles, Me., to the Bangor Commercial says, "News has come from Nova Scotia that Robert Atkins, who last August took his twelve years old daughter in a small sloop boat and left his home here, saying he was going to take the girl to Nova Scotia, is living with his people there, in Yarmouth, and that he has left the daughter with an old man who has a home on Grand Manan Island. Her relatives here are doing all they possibly can to learn some particulars of the child."

There are Johnnie Smiths and Willie Browns

Johnny is a well-dressed boy. Each season his wardrobe is carefully replenished at Oak Hall.

Willie Brown never looks nearly so well, though his mother spends just as much in fitting him out. She hasn't learned, however, that "there's a difference." The wise mother goes where she will find suits of the latest cut, most careful finish, and greatest attention to fit. She looks for materials that are both good and good looking.

In the season's fashionable Norfolk Suits are embodied all the elements which make the really good suit.

The choice may be fancy wool chevrons, or worsteds, or homespun or plain serge; it may be blue, or brown, or gray; it may have pointed, straight or slanted yoke, belt run through plaits, or stitched on—but in any case it is sure to be "just right."

Many other styles to choose from and every one "just right."
