BIG DOCK ST. DEAL

Frontage of 223 Feet and Five Buildings Sold

PRICE IS $75,000

Extends From R. Sullivan & Co's to Mrs. Simpson's and Takes in Fourteen Stores on Ground Floor—Bought by Thos. Nagle and Said to be Sold Again

One of the most important sales of city property which have been reported recently was completed yesterday. The property transferred is the block in Dock street owned by the B. Ferguson estate, with a frontage of 223 feet in Dock street, including some vacant land in the rear and with a rear entrance from Chipman Hill.

There are five buildings on the land, extending from that occupied by R. Sullivan & Co's to Mrs. Simpson's grocery store, inclusive, and taking in fourteen stores on the ground floors. The purchaser was Thomas Nagle, and it is understood that he has already turned it over to outside buyers. The purchase price was $75,000.

This property has engaged the attention of several purchasers for some time and there has been stiff competition in the buying. A local real estate firm is said to have had a check for the amount ready to pay over but lost it by the narrow margin of five minutes.

It was rumored around the streets that the property was purchased as a site for the C. P. R. hotel concerning which rumor has been busy for several years, but as far as is known there is no confirmation of this.

Other sales which were reported today, but which have not yet reached the stage, were details such as the given, including one of the finest residences in Wellington Row and a valuable piece of vacant land in Prince William street.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN THE WILCOX CASE

Thomas Reynolds of Royal Hotel on the Stand

The preliminary hearing in the case of James A. Wilcox, charged with obtaining money under false pretences from Thomas Reynolds, manager of the Royal Hotel, and also for attempting to obtain $800 from E. S. Crawford, manager of the Charlottetown branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, by presenting a forged draft bearing the signature of J. H. Bond, was begun in the police court this morning. The prisoner was represented by E. S. Ritchie.

Thomas Reynolds, the first witness, said on the afternoon of April 29, the prisoner went into the Royal Hotel and registered under the name of D. R. Kerr. He remained around the hotel office all afternoon, and at a quarter to seven o'clock he went to the witness and asked for some money, saying that he had deposited a check for $800 with one of the clerks. The witness got the check out of the safe and asked Wilcox to endorse it. He then gave Wilcox $20. The prisoner asked to have a check for $85 in an envelope and leave it at the office for a Mr. Kelly, whom he said, would call. In a few minutes the witness looked at the name on the back of the check, which was McReedy. He then went to the washroom, where Wilcox was, and asked him why he had endorsed the check McReedy when he was registered as D. R. Kerr. The prisoner told him that he had made a mistake, and had signed the name of a friend of his for whom he had some letters. When questioned further Wilcox admitted that the check was a forgery and he handed the witness back $20.

He then wanted to regain possession of the check, but the witness took him into the private office and telephoned for Detective Killen who came and took the prisoner away. The witness identified the check produced in court as the one which the prisoner had presented to him. It was signed Brock & Paterson, per J. M. Paterson.

The witness was asked by Counsel for Wilcox if he did not know that the firm of Brock & Paterson was a limited concern. The witness said that he did.

He was then asked why he had paid out money when he saw the check was signed Brock & Paterson. He said that he had not noticed the absence of the Ltd., at the time.

Counsel then asked the witness if he thought a check signed Raymond & Dolbey without the word limited would be cashed at the bank. The witness replied that it would not.

"As far as you know, then," asked Mr. Ritchie, "the check is not a forgery." The witness replied in the affirmative. In reply to a question from Detective Killen, the witness said that he advanced the money because he really thought at the time that it was a good check.

The case was then adjourned until Monday.

MOTHER HAD NOT HEARD FROM HIM IN SIX MONTHS

Young Man Killed Near Fernald Was Frederick Dill of Carleton

The body of the young man killed by Fernald crossing on Wednesday night, has been identified as that of Frederick Dill, son of Mrs. Dill, of Queen street, West End. Mrs. Dill called at the morgue last night and positively identified the body as that of her son. She said that he had been away from home about six months, and during that time she had never heard from him.

The young man had been working in Amherst for some time, and it is believed, was on his way back there when he was killed. He was seen going out the marsh road on Wednesday afternoon.

His young brother called at the morgue yesterday afternoon, but failed to identify the body, so badly mutilated was it, and Mrs. Dill had some difficulty in making identification. William Allen, who had been acquainted with him, also identified the body. It is still lying in the morgue, but will likely be taken by Mrs. Dill this afternoon. Coroner Berryman said this morning that he had not decided as yet when he would hold an inquest.

TWO NICE FISH FROM LILY LAKE

Two fine trout were taken out of Lily Lake last evening by Joseph Wood, who is keeping up the record he made there last year as a fisherman. The fish caught last night weighed eight and fourteen ounces. They were taken with fly from shore. In May of last year Mr. Wood caught one weighing two and a quarter pounds, and in September one that had that by a half pound. He says the Lily Lake trout are dandy and rise well to the fly, but the ducks swimming around frighten them. He thinks it would be a good thing to put down some old poles, there are many eyes in the lake and they eat the trout spawn.
