KINGS CO. PROBATE COURT
HAMPTON, Kings Co., Oct. 24.—In the probate court of Kings county today, His Honor Judge J. M. McIntyre granted letters of administration to Mrs. Annie C. Fieveling on the estate of the late George T. Fieveling, of Westfield, blacksmith, deceased. The value was sworn at $195, all personal property and consisting of book debts $50, tools $75 and farm utensils $71. The bondsmen are the petitioner, A. W. Baird, and James N. Inch. A. W. Baird, proctor.

In the matter of the estate of the late Edward Paisley, of Greenfield, farmer, deceased, letters of administration were applied for by James N. Inch, a creditor, the value being stated at $255 realty, and $85 personal property. Of four heirs two had renounced in favor of petitioner and the case went over until the renunciation of the others is attained. The petitioner, however, was filed and John W. Inch, and Albert E. Fieveling accepted as bondsmen. Messrs. Barnhill, Ewing and Sanford, proctors.

J. Arthur Preece applied on behalf of Lee F. Corey, administrator of the estate of the late James G. Corey, Havenlock, deceased, for permission to pass his accounts, which were filed and a citation issued returnable Nov. 23rd next ensuing.

M. R. A.'s next big sale will be of goods that appeal to every member of the household—a grand October clearance of odd items of good furniture. Full particulars will be given in tomorrow night's Star. The sale starts Monday. In another part of this paper the big house tells its overcast story. It's an interesting one; read it.

Thin Hair
Yes! We had noticed that your hair was looking pretty thin, and that it lacked luster and life. But we did not like to speak of it. Of course you know that Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair-grower, makes the hair soft and smooth, gives it life and strength. This isn't the kind of hair that falls out! And, too, it keeps the scalp so clean and healthy.

LET US HEAR FROM THE DOCK.
Is it not almost time that St. John got over being afraid of the dry dock bogey which rises before those in authority every time any west side matter is under consideration? Without casting any doubt on the ultimate success of the undertaking, it would certainly be a wise move on the part of the members of the company to take the public into their confidence and give out a definite statement concerning the present condition of affairs, what is being done, and when some practical development may be expected. For three or four years the only announcement made has been to the effect that the financial arrangements were being perfected—that is if we kindly forget those promises that work would be started on many different dates long since past. For the last six months or so the expectation has been that "the contract for the dock is just about to be signed," but the final act has evidently not yet been completed. Of course, the matter of financing and preparing for the construction of a dock is no child's play; it cannot be hurried through in a few hours, but surely after these many years the directors of the company—the majority of whom seem to be keeping in the background, can come forward with an outline of their plans as rendered possible to date. Let us know if the dock is going to be built, if it will be built within the next generation. Such information would be of value to the aldermen and would do away with the ever present dread of entering into some agreement in which the interests of the city are involved, but which might possibly infringe on the rights of the Imperial Dry Dock Company.

HAVE THEY ANY RIGHTS?
Every other day men and women in advanced stages of intoxication are dragged or carried through the streets to prison. Every day we see on our pavements cripples, blind and other-wise disabled persons, endeavoring to earn their living by begging or by playing hand organs. These things offend our finer sensibilities and we clamor for patrol wagons so that the shameful spectacle of drunkenness may be hidden from our eyes. We pay little attention to the afflicted unless it be to teach children false generosity and point the Pharisaical moral of how nice it is to give to the poor. All this we do for our own benefit, but have these people themselves no rights? Is it not only justice that the unfortunate, those who are unable to stand up in the fight of life through either moral or physical weakness, should receive proper treatment and a share of those blessings enjoyed by those of us who are more happily placed? We support asylums for the mentally unsound, but we have nothing but jails for the persons of weak, though not necessarily vicious, moral tendencies. We maintain schools for the blind, but we do nothing for those sightless men and women who never had an opportunity of learning a trade or profession. They have claims upon society, for it is through society that they are now alive. In one stage of the world's history all the weak or defective children were put to death. In these days our so-called delicate sensibilities do not permit such a practice, and rightly so, but these same sensibilities seemingly do not go far enough to make us care for those afflicted ones who are kept alive. It is related of Mayor Jones, of Toledo, Golden Rule Jones he was called, that two questions were always put by him to applicants for positions on the police force. "What would you do if you saw your mother lying drunk in the gutter?" The answer of the applicant as a rule was, "Call a cab and take her home." Then came quick as a shot the second question, "What if she were someone else's mother?" In our civilization we seldom stop to think of things in this light. We expect our police to arrest, and we expect our judges to punish, all those unfortunate who come under a somewhat heathenish law, and it is only when the trouble is near at home that we are moved. We do unto ourselves as we expect others to do to us.

"I think I know what to do without any advice or interference from the papers. I have about as much brains as most men, and so have the other members."—Ald. McGoldrick.
Then why on earth doesn't he do it?

FORBID THE MARRIAGE OF DIVORCED PERSONS
American Methodist Episcopal Conference Will Proceed Against Violators of the Law

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—At the meeting last night of the Union American Methodist Episcopal conference, which is in session here, the committee on divorce brought in a report forbidding any pastor in the connection marrying divorced people. HAMPTON, N. B., Oct. 25.—The body of Mrs. Upton Fowler arrived here this morning from Williamsdale, Colchester county, N. S. Her funeral took place this morning, the service being conducted by Rev. E. E. Gardner and Elder Wm. Guthrie, Advent ministers. Interment was made in Hampton cemetery.

THE OLD DICTIONARY.
Reformer, spare that book! Touch not a single word! Some of its spellings look queer, not to say absurd; But they've been good enough For generations past.
Your movement is a blur, A fad that will not last!

That old familiar tome Whose glory and renown Are known in every home— Pray, would you turn it down? At what our fathers planned Would you presume to carp? No, stay your reckless hand, You orthographic sharp!

When but an idle boy, Its pages I would turn, Musing with reverent joy On "learn," "burn," "fern," "ad-journ."
Why aren't they spelled the same? I can't explain that quite. The old book's not to blame—I know it must be right!
The dignity of age Has hallowed it so long, Its most prosaic page Reads like a grand, sweet song! So let the old book be. Or you shall rue, I vow! In youth it bothered me, But I'll protect it now!

NOT ALWAYS WISE.
Norman Haggood, the distinguished journalist and essayist, was discussing American newspapers. "It is not enough that our papers shall tell the truth," he said. "Truth-telling in itself is not particularly wise nor praiseworthy. Indeed, it is sometimes the reverse."
"Thus a young man called on a young lady one spring morning very early. He had his automobile along. He wanted to give the young lady a morning spin through the country."
"A little girl, the young lady's niece, answered the bell."
"Is your aunt in?" said the young man.

"Yes, sir," said the little girl. "That's good. Where is she?" he went on.
"She's upstairs," said the little girl, "in her nightgown, looking over the balcony."

GOES ONE BETTER.
Out on the veranda of a little Kentucky hotel several "colonels" were sipping mint juleps and telling yarns about the weather.
"When Ah was in the mountains," said a lanky old gentleman, "it began to rain one afternoon, and before the shower was over the fish all over the ground. Bass, trout, and carp fell right out of the clouds, sah."

Then an old gentleman who was rather corpulent placed his glass on the table and said:—
"Cunnel, that thah was a pretty good yarn, but it don't tech the experience I had forty miles south of Frankfort. Why, sah, it began to rain thah one day and fish came down by the ton. But that isn't the strangest of it. A hundahd stomp arose, the lightning struck the field, and the fish just as nice as if they were fried in youah own kitchen, and—"
But the other "colonels" fled.

ALBERT CO. SCOTT ACT CASE CONTINUED
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—A compromise of two cents an hour increase was offered by the railroads was rejected today by the committee representing the Switchmen's Union all over the country. The men are holding out for the original demands submitted a month ago calling for a minimum wage of forty-two cents an hour for firemen, thirty-eight cents for helpers and an eight hour day. In spite of failure of negotiations, both sides expressed the belief tonight that there would be no strike. The railroads are willing to make reasonable concessions, they say, in the way of increased wages, but they will not consider the question of reducing working hours at this time.

LOT OF THEM.
Robinson—You're a farmer, are you? Well, farming is a noble profession. It's all right to call it a profession, isn't it?
Thomson—Yes, thousands of men profess to be farmers who don't know the first principles.
ABOUT THE SAME.
"Have the detectives got any clue yet?" inquired the reporter.
"I don't know," said the woman who had been robbed. "My husband says they have got a hypothesis. That's about the same thing, isn't it?"

TO RESUME INQUEST AT BUCKINGHAM

(Special to the Sun.)
BUCKINGHAM, Que., Oct. 25.—Coroner McMahon arrived this morning and at once instructed Bailiff Daniel Roy to summon eight English and eight French jurymen for the Belanger and Theriault inquests, which will be conducted jointly.
No jurymen who served on the Warner inquest or who was on the dismissed jury will be summoned again. An important new witness, Coroner Rodrigue, who was seen in a buggy with rifles, will be summoned. Enough men have been secured by the McLaren Company to start another circular saw. The gang is sixty strong, but contains not more than one or two of the strikers.

BRIEF DESPATCHES
PARIS, Oct. 26.—In view of the situation in Morocco the French government has decided to send a warship to Tangiers.
TANGIER, Morocco, Oct. 26.—Owing to the disturbed state of the country the American minister, Mr. Gungaher, and Dr. Rosen, the German minister, are remaining at Fez. Some of the foreign diplomats are demanding the dismissal of Mohammed El Torro, the representative of the Sultan, on the ground that he is old, incapable and a revolutionary.

MADRID, Oct. 26.—In view of the alarming reports from Morocco the Spanish government has decided to hold several cruises ready for despatch to the west coast for the protection of Spanish subjects.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 26.—A systematic search for victims was begun today in the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City, Kas., which was burned yesterday. Eight persons were still unaccounted for this morning. At the hospital two of the injured were in a serious condition, but it is believed all the others will recover. The loss of life is attributed in part to the lack of fire fighting apparatus.

MITAU, Courland, Oct. 25.—A man named Sprague, once a prominent revolutionary leader in the Baltic provinces, was killed here yesterday while on his way to America, because he had betrayed his party. He had just recovered from a wound inflicted on him by revolutionaries.

KIEV, European Russia, Oct. 26.—Lieut. Konovaleff, an artillery officer, has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment at hard labor for having bombs in his possession.

A Ballad of Broken Ties
By WILLIAM F. KIRK
(From Life in the Metropolis.)
Where the gauntlet beamed so brightly on Manhattan's broad expanse
A man and wife were fighting like Nelson and Joe Gann.
"Take back that wedding ring!" she said, and thrust it in his face;
"I'm going back to mother, notwithstanding the disgrace."
The husband shook and shuddered like a cat-lain in a storm,
But never quit a minute as the argument waxed warm.
"I thought," said he, "I'd beat the second race as sure as life,"
And then this withering retort came from his darling wife:
CHORUS:
"I've done the family washing ever since we two was wed,
You've plodded from the race track with a slow and weary tread;
Now take this tip from me, my love, and don't talk back nor fuss:
From this time on a laundry is the one best bet for us!"

THE stubborn husband answered, though he knew her words were true:
"Unless you iron your shirtwaists, I can never dwell with you."
The wife threw back her golden head and said: "Farewell, dear heart.
The consensus of opinion is that two fond souls must part."
She journeyed back to Binghamton, the place her folks did dwell,
And lives there to this very day, so far as I can tell.
He kept on picking horses till he finished up dead broke,
And now he often thinks about the words his Lulu spoke:

CHORUS:
"I've done the family washing,"
Yes.
