MARRIAGE A FAILURE IN THESE TWO CASES

Mrs. Brophy's Husband Does Not Support Her

And Mrs. Patrick Mahoney Does Not Act So as to Keep Her Man on Good Terms With Her.

For two or three days Mrs. William Brophy has been at the police court to give evidence that her husband has deserted her and their infant child, but without a defendant there can be no case, and as the police have been unable to see Brophy the matter stands until such time as he is located. Mrs. Brophy said this morning that her husband was good to her until he began to drink and then she and the child were neglected. He left her just before Christmas and promised that he would pay for the support of their child, but he has failed to live up to this agreement so she wishes the court to punish him in some manner.

Mrs. Brophy is a woman of good appearance and says that while she does not desire to live with her husband again she thinks he should at least pay for the support of their little child. For a considerable time before Magistrate Ritchie opened the police court this morning there sat in one of the chairs a young woman with an infant in arms. Both were crying and the woman seemed to feel her position keenly. She was Mrs. Patrick Mahoney, of St. James street, and according to her husband she has not been treated right by her husband. Last night she telephoned to the central station and asked that a policeman be sent to her house. Policeman Joseph Scott responded to the call and Mrs. Mahoney informed him that she was left with a year old baby and that they had no food except a crust of bread. She had no money to purchase anything. Her husband earned regular wages and she wished to get a share. The policeman advised the woman to lay information against her husband at the police court and for that reason she was in court this morning. The woman and child were tidy and clean looking and after a wait of some time the mother was advised to go and see Secretary Wetmore of the Alms House and S. P. C. A.

Mr. Wetmore says that the woman never called on him but a friend telephoned to him that she was too much overcome to go to his office. Mr. Wetmore says that he has made enquiries and finds that Mr. Mahoney is employed on the Government steamer "Lansdowne" and is well able to support his wife and child and is quite willing to do so, but that the entire fault lies with the woman.

Mrs. C. H. Hall, of the Associated Charities, says that Mrs. Mahoney has been complaining and asking aid for some time past, and on enquiry she learns that Mr. Mahoney is able and willing to care for his wife and child. Mrs. Hall has visited the home and says it is a comfortable one and the trouble all lies between the man and wife and it is believed that the woman is not prudent.

ODDFELLOWS PLAN A BIG GATHERING

Grand Master and Other Officers to Visit the City About the Middle of February.

St. John Oddfellows intend having a great celebration about the middle of February. Although the programme has not yet been finally arranged, it has been decided that a mass meeting will be held in the Carleton hall on the evening of February 12th, to be followed by a dinner.

The gathering is being arranged because of the fact that Grand Master Smith L. Walker, of Turro, Fairbairn, H. L. Hart, of Halifax, and President of the Rebekah Assembly, Miss Grace Hebb, of Lunenburg, will be here for two or three days. Other details of the programme will be arranged later. It is the intention of the different lodges of Oddfellows in the city, or at least, of some of them, to arrange for the presentation at the meeting on the 12th of veterans' jewels to all who are entitled to them. As there are in St. John quite a large number of men who have been connected with different lodges for upwards of twenty-five years, it is anticipated that this presentation will be a most interesting affair.

FUNERALS.

Dr. Sprague conducted the burial service and interment was in Fernhill. The pall-bearers were: C. H. Peters, G. L. Purdy, A. L. Dodge, A. H. Campbell, Geo. H. V. Belyea and Geo. Boyd.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen A. McRoberts took place at 2.30 this afternoon from her late residence, Crown street. Rev. A. A. Graham officiated and interment was in Fernhill.

FIRE ON WELLINGTON ROW.

About noon today the occupants of No. 34 Wellington Row sent in a still alarm on account of the smell of smoke. No. 3 Hose, No. 1 Chemical, No. 2 Hose and the Salvage Corps responded. The lower floor is occupied by Dr. Sidney Emerson while the upper portion of the house is occupied by Mrs. McGivern. It was found that fire had started between the McGivern hall floor and the Emerson ceiling. The fire was caused by an overheated stove pipe in the downstairs apartment and was put out with a bucket of water, but not before a section of the floor had been torn up.

PRETTY BANGOR ROMANCE.

Announcement of Marriage of Young Couple in This City Coming as a Surprise to Their Friends.

(Bangor Commercial.) A very pretty little romance has come to light in Bangor during the last week by the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. R. Lyne Hodgins of their marriage which occurred last July in St. John, N. B. Mrs. Hodgins was Miss Clara M. Adams and is one of the most popular members of Bangor's younger social set. She graduated from the High School in the class of 1894 and the romance which culminated in their marriage began while she and Mr. Hodgins were in school. Mr. Hodgins entered the University of Maine in the class of 1900. He was very popular in college and last fall was a star member of the varsity football eleven, playing at fullback in most of the games. The young people kept their marriage a secret until within the last few weeks, when a few of their intimate friends were let into the secret. Mr. and Mrs. Hodgins have received the hearty congratulations and good wishes of an unusually large circle of friends. Mr. Hodgins has left college to accept a position in the office of the Great Northern Paper Co., at Millinocket, and they will leave Bangor soon to take up their residence in that town.
