PRIVY COUNCH APPEALS

There is a movement on foot in certain quarters in this country to discontinue the practice of carrying appeals from the Supreme Court of Canada to the Privy Council, the motive underlying it being that such a practice is not in accordance with the principle of Canadian attempt to destroy American commercian continue, which is agreed that it derogatory to the status of Canada as a mation that the final court of appeal should be part of the judicial system of another country, and that if Canadian legal problems, it is not likely that judges are not sufficiently able jurists to be trusted to deal with Canadian legal problems, it is not likely that judges are not sufficiently able in the privy Council appears to be overlooked by those who are desirous of changing the present practice. Appeals to the Privy Council appears to be overlooked by those who are desirous of changing the present practice. Appeals to the Privy Council are simply the development of the practice of ciden times when a disappointed littigant in the Courts carried his petition for justice to the Soversign in person

"Why, of course!" replied the young lady on the witness stand,

"What sult was it?"

"It was a blue sult with a white collar and white cuffs and white buttons all the way down the back," replied the young lady,

No matter wat peeples diffrent likes and dislikes are, everybody injoys having money. Peeple that have a lot of money wish they had more and peeple that ony have a little are glad they havent got less. This proves there is allways something they havent got less. This proves there is allways something to be ambitious about.

If you have a hole lot of money sutch as a million dollers you dont appreciate it as mutch as you would it you dident, have hardly eny, sutch as 2 cents and a collar button, but most peeple would drather have a lot without appreciating it than have hardly eny and appreciate a lot, the result being that the peeple without hardly eny do all the appreciation. This proves that everything has to be done no matter who does it.

The main cheef ways of getting money are finding it, werking for it and having somebody remember you in their will. It is more facilities to find money than wai it is to werk for it, and peeple think they are greater if they find a dirac than wat they are if they werk for 5 dollers. Nobody hardly ever remembers you in their will, the main cheef reason being because they haff to die ferst and they wont if they can help it.

The leest injoyable thing to do with money is lose it. No matter how mutch you hate to spend money, you would allways rather spend it than lose it. This proves every cloud has a silver lining.

You can never tell wich paeple have the most mor by watching them wawk along, because somebody mite have all their pockits full of hundred doller bills without making a sound wile somebody elts mite sound like a millionair jest on ac-
