NEW YORK ITEMS.

The following items of news were telegraphed from New York yesterday:

Over thirty horses have so far died on Staten Island alone.

Henry Clews has taken injudicious steps for five libel suits against the Tribune.

A Baltimore special says that not a single vehicle was seen on the streets yesterday.

Almost the usual number of horses are on the streets this morning, though many of them are badly running at the nose.

Only four car lines were running in the city yesterday. All have suffered in Brooklyn. A dummy engine is to be put on the Bleecker street line to day.

Last night Frederick Silva, of Marshall street, Brooklyn, struck Patrick Brady over the head with a gun barrel, smashing his skull for insulting his (Silva's) wife.

There was not so great mortality yesterday as on Saturday, but many deaths from the disease began to show in Brooklyn. There were new and alarming symptoms attended by swellings of the legs, discharges of blood from nose and alarated throat. Twenty deaths are reported.

John Harley, sentenced in May, 1870, in Brooklyn for robbery, and Geo. Thompson sentenced last September in New York for five years for burglary, escaped from Sing Sing during Saturday night. Both are desperate notorious characters. The entire police and detective force here are on the alert for them.

NOTES AND NEWS.

A servant girl wants to know if the 'overland route' is a vegetable anything like rutabaga or Yellow Aberdeen.

Victoria C. Woodhall and Tennis C. Clifton have been granted one more of the male rights they demand for women—they were arrested on a charge of libel.

The Mail calls attention to the fact that the amount of Canadian gold being used in gold coin, goes down three millions since last June. This item remained undisturbed, except by increases, at about thirteen millions, from September, 1871, to May last; since then it has gradually fallen to the average it maintained in 1870, which was the first year of the enormous proportion to be recently assumed. Up to 1870, the banks were accumulating funds rapidly in a far higher ratio than the demand for aid in the inflation of gigantic commercial bubbles in seasons of general confidence, and then ceasing to blow the moment difficulties present themselves. Our monetary institutions should not join a conspiracy for floating a great mercantile speculation, and then abandon their fellow conspirators in the hour of danger. Months ago the best informed mercantile men in St. John informed us that the banks, or some of them, had aided in promoting and carrying on an enormous mercantile speculation, into which many innocent parties had accidentally drifted, deceived as to the soundness of the transaction by the apparent confidence reposed in the operators by the Banks, and that if the Banks shut down on the speculators, as then seemed probable, the commercial standing of the city would be injured, and many legitimate traders ruined. The Banks are, in a great measure, responsible for the ruin that has been wrought to some and the distress that has overtaken others, and they are selfishly looking to nothing but the keeping up of their dividends and stock premiums.

The L. C. R. R. Opening.

The public have been rather anxiously looking for an announcement giving the programme of a celebration on the occasion of the opening of the Intercolonial to Halifax. This subject was treated by our correspondent, X, some days ago, and is the burden of many inquiries that have been addressed to us. It now seems quite probable that nothing will be done, as there appears to be no one to pay the bills, and no good and sufficient reason for glorifying any one in particular. If the road could have been opened just before the elections we should have seen one of the grandest demonstrations ever witnessed on a railway; but that was not possible of accomplishment. Now the Ministers are holding daily Cabinet meetings in Ottawa, and are not foolish enough to waste time and money when no elections are to be influenced. The merchants of St. John are hard up for money, and feel no very great elation because Halifax has got railway connection with the rest of the continent. Why should they? We can't speak authoritatively for Halifax, but presume that the public-spirited sons of that great city are saving their money for the purpose of getting up a tremendous reception for the Governor General when he goes there to live next summer. They

MURDER AND VENGEANCE.

A WOMAN KICKED NEARLY TO DEATH—HER SON STABS THE VILLAIN WITH A BUTCHER KNIFE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.

John Radley, a notorious ruffian, who has for years been a terror to the well-to-do inhabitants of the Seventh ward, while in a state of gross intoxication, went into the grocery store of John McTierney, 291 Cherry street, about eleven o'clock Thursday night, and became engaged in an altercation with Mrs. McTierney, kicked her in the stomach, causing her to give premature birth to a child, and was in turn stabbed in the breast with a large butcher knife in the hands of John McTierney, a son of the injured woman.

Radley, who lives at No. 3 Pellam street, staggered into the store and demanded of Mrs. McTierney, who was behind the counter, some goods. These she refused to give him, knowing he had no money with which to pay for them. Radley became greatly excited at being refused the desired article, and after hearing innumerable imprecations upon the woman ran behind the counter, and dealt her several murderous blows with his fist, and finally kicked her as above stated. The poor woman, who had been pregnant four or five months, broke away from the ruffian and rushed screaming with pain and terror, into a back room, where sat her son reading an evening paper. Radley followed her, and on entering the door, was met by her son, who seized a knife and plunged it into the villain's breast. Radley at once rushed into the street, where he was found bleeding profusely by the police.

Returning to his mother, who had thrown herself on a lounge, John and her suffering great pain and on the point of fainting. He propped water and bathed her face, which she did not immediately consent to a physician. On returning he found two officers in the store, and had a few minutes conversation with them. He said he was a respectable man, and his mother gave birth to a child, and his condition is now so critical that the physician has removed to Bellevue Hospital, where his injuries were pronounced to be of a very serious and not dangerous nature. Yesterday morning the son was taken to the Essex Market, and committed to the custody of the police. During the day a reporter conversed with him. He is a mere lad of eighteen, appears exceedingly nervous, and is evidently suffering the community in which he lives, and has about him none of the rowdy or vulgar lawless character of the street. He is a very serious and intelligent man, and has a few minutes conversation with him. THE LAST FAREWELL.

Prof. Stone positively takes leave of St. John to-night. The price of admission to the entertainment is only twenty-five cents, and several valuable presents will be given the lucky ones.

A Lively Imagination.

Mr. John I. Wilson may or may not be a novelist, but he was certainly gifted by the Creator with imaginative faculties of the highest order if the apparition of a man with a pistol at a woman's head, robbing her of her watch, seen by him on Sunday night, was nothing but two young women coaxing their intoxicated brother into the house, as the Telegraph states. We leave the matter to be discussed by Mr. Wilson and the Telegraph.

Advertisements in the DAILY TRIBUNE.

The News of the Week.

The WEEKLY TRIBUNE, published this morning, contains full accounts of the burglaries and other events in St. John, and of the crimes, casualties, political and commercial events of the world, and editorial articles upon the various subjects of present interest. Subscription price: One Dollar a year.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Complimentary benefits to Professor Stone, Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th.

Subscribe for the DAILY TRIBUNE, and have it delivered at your residence every afternoon.

Pianofortes and Organs.

We would invite the attention of our readers desirous of procuring a good musical instrument to call at the Music Store of Messrs. Landry & McCarty, 41 King street, where they will always find a large and varied stock of first-class pianofortes and organs at the most reasonable prices.

The "News" Little Joke.

The News has a fine sense of humor, and regards the narrow escape of Mr. Rhy from drowning as a joke. We are glad to see Mr. Rhy on the street again, and know that he has quite recovered from the shock.

The Circulation of the DAILY TRIBUNE is rapidly increasing.

Snow on the Saint Charles.

Our Border correspondent writes: The first snow of the season made its appearance on Saturday evening, when it snowed one quarter of an inch. The nights are very cold.

The new paper, the St. Stephen Journal is expected to make its appearance on Tuesday.

Cordwood.

There is a fair supply of cordwood at the Slip, at from $6.50 to $7 per cord. The scarcity of cartage, however, prevents many from laying in their winter supply, and detains the schooners much longer than ordinary times. The horses are beginning to show their appearance on the streets again, and it is therefore quite probable that in the course of a few days cartage rates will be brought down to their usual standard.

Caring a Hippopotamus Horse Almost Instantly.

A country horse that had been suffering from the distemper was driven into the city last evening and put up, by its owner, at the Fountain House. Shortly after taking a feed of oats it was seized with violent cramps, and suffered great agony. Blistering and various other remedies were applied, but without relief. This morning, after a consultation between Drs. Greene and Bunting it was deemed advisable to kill the animal, which was done by bleeding, and the poor beast was quickly relieved from suffering by his humane attendants.

Apples by Auction.

A large quantity of apples in barrels were disposed of by Mr. W. A. Lockhart on the Market Square to day, at from $1.40 to $1.80.

Freely Open.

The doors of Mr. Amos Patterson's store, on the South Wharf, were found open early this morning, by Sergeant Dobson, having been forced from the hinges. Nothing is missed from the store.

Coal.

There is a large supply of coal in the market, and vessels continue to arrive with further supplies. Several new coalheaps have been established and others enlarged since last winter, so that there is every prospect of an abundance until the spring.

The Wheeler and Wilson Machine.

We notice that Messrs. S. B. Scott & Co., of Montreal, have opened a branch office in the Academy of Music building in this city, for the sale of new improved Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Machines, and as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns they are now opening out an immense stock of these justly popular machines. We understand this company (the Wheeler and Wilson) are now manufacturing between five and six hundred sewing machines daily; that they have sold between seven and eight hundred thousand; and that notwithstanding their large production the popularity of this machine is so great that the manufacturers are continually nearly twenty thousand behind their orders. We advise our readers to make an early call upon this establishment. It

The DAILY TRIBUNE is not excited as a daily advertising medium.

$25 in Gold, a beautiful Gold Watch, and Two Barrels of Flour will constitute the grand presents at Prof. Stone's farewell concert on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th.

The "Gold Hunter."

We have received the following information that given in our telegraphic columns in reference to the schooner "Gold Hunter":

ROCKLAND, ME., Nov. 4.

The schooner "Gold Hunter," Captain McNaughton, from St. John, N. B., for New Haven with lumber and other cargo, was on Saturday in distress. Three days previously the mate was knocked overboard by jibing of the main boom in a storm, and while endeavoring to rescue him Captain McNaughton was caught by the rope and sustained a severe compound fracture of the leg two inches above the ankle. On arrival here prompt surgical attendance was secured, but it is possible that amputation may be necessary. The mate was rescued having received some severe bruises but no serious injury.

Prof. Stone will give his last farewell concert under the distinguished patronage of his friends in particular, and the public generally, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th.

The Wind-Scout Fleet Arriving.

The large fleet of vessels bound for this port and detained by the north easterly gale which has prevailed during the past week, are beginning to put in an appearance. Eight, consisting of 1 ship, 5 bark, and 2 brigantines, arrived at the wharf this morning, and a large number of others are hourly expected.

The Chief of Cracksmen Caught.

Capt. Irving, of the New York detective force, made an arrest at Blackmeck, N. J., Thursday, the subject of which deserves a place in the annals of skillful and successful thieves. Gustave F. Kindt, a Belgian, reached New York with a youthful French wife twelve years ago, and being an excellent watchmaker, obtained employment with Wheeler, Parsons & Co., in Franklin square. In 1867 their sale was robbed of $12,000 worth of jewelry, and no trace of the thief could be obtained, as Mr. Wheeler was the only man who had the combination. The firm then built a factory in Brooklyn, and in 1869 they were again robbed of $23,000 in jewelry, and, as before, no clue could be obtained to the guilty party. Two detectives were then employed, under pretence of being watchmen in the factory, and engaged to keep an eye on the employes. Kindt soon unfolded to one of them a proposition to rob the safe, and the detective seemingly fell in with the plan. Kindt proposed to the firm to board up a stairway near the safe, in

The "News" Little Joke.

The News has a fine sense of humor, and regards the narrow escape of Mr. Rhy from drowning as a joke. We are glad to see Mr. Rhy on the street again, and know that he has quite recovered from the shock.

The Circulation of the DAILY TRIBUNE is rapidly increasing.

Snow on the Saint Charles.

Our Border correspondent writes: The first snow of the season made its appearance on Saturday evening, when it snowed one quarter of an inch. The nights are very cold.

The new paper, the St. Stephen Journal is expected to make its appearance on Tuesday.

Cordwood.

There is a fair supply of cordwood at the Slip, at from $6.50 to $7 per cord. The scarcity of cartage, however, prevents many from laying in their winter supply, and detains the schooners much longer than ordinary times. The horses are beginning to show their appearance on the streets again, and it is therefore quite probable that in the course of a few days cartage rates will be brought down to their usual standard.

Caring a Hippopotamus Horse Almost Instantly.

A country horse that had been suffering from the distemper was driven into the city last evening and put up, by its owner, at the Fountain House. Shortly after taking a feed of oats it was seized with violent cramps, and suffered great agony. Blistering and various other remedies were applied, but without relief. This morning, after a consultation between Drs. Greene and Bunting it was deemed advisable to kill the animal, which was done by bleeding, and the poor beast was quickly relieved from suffering by his humane attendants.
