

WATERLOO NEWS RECORD

C. F. THIELE—New Director W.M.S. Band.

The new Director of the Waterloo Musical Society Band is Mr. C. F. Thiele of Unionville, N.J., he having taken charge of the latter part of the band and in this short period the band boys and the Executive have gotten behind their new instructor with a vim and an enthusiasm that has been the bands fortune for some years. Being a musician of high standard and possessing the ability to instill into his band the very best of music making, the results varied and interesting, besides increasing their efficiency the result will be better musicians and better education musically to the youth living in the twin city.

Prof. Thiele was born in New York City and at the age of nine years he began his musical career. He entered the New York Conservatory of Music then quite young and on graduating from the conservatory went to Germany where he studied for over a year at Leipzig. Taking a special course in piano he spent considerable time on orchestral work having conducted many fine orchestras of his own. While proficient on many instruments he selected the cornet as his particular instrument.

Amateur bands has been his hobby and many bands of high standard to say in the United States owe their existence to his untiring efforts and ability as a conductor. Prof. Thiele did not only confine himself to the teaching of men for only a few years ago he organized in the city of Rumford Maine a girls band of 50 pieces which proved one of the finest organizations in the United States. Throughout the United States another organization which created enthusiasm wherever it appeared was the Gutsenberg Boys Band organized and conducted by Prof. Thiele.

Although travelling extensively throughout the states he found time to produce many coffee operas including "The Duet", "The Doctor", and many others. Throughout the coming season our music lovers will have the pleasure of hearing selections of the professors own compositions he having written and had published many excellent numbers.

Prof. Thiele has taken up his residence in town and his wife and daughter have received a hearty welcome from our citizens.

Mrs. Thiele who is a cornet soloist and reader and her daughter an accomplished saxophonist and clarinetist have also had wide experience in the music line and music lovers will await with interest their first public appearance.

Waterloo citizens welcome Prof. Thiele and his family to Waterloo. It is a good town to live in sociability being one of its outstanding features. The community is a music loving one and the Executive of the Band are to be congratulated on securing a musician of Prof. Thiele's accomplishments.

RECORD CROWD AT PARK CONCERT

MORE THAN 2500 PEOPLE ATTEND CONCERT IN PARK

Outside of a holiday night on the annual Tattoo night, the largest crowd had ever attended a band concert in the park were in attendance last night and they had the pleasure of hearing a musical program that was varied enough to please the most critical.

From the opening number until the strains of God Save the King had been wafted through the park, the audience never for a moment lost interest. There was music of the classic masters intermingled with the popular and lighter numbers that pleased each and everyone. The ever popular overture from Martha by Flotow with its bright and cheerful effects was given a fine interpretation and the Choccolate Soldier Selection with its tuneful air was a real pleasing number.

Perhaps one of the most catchy little numbers that caught the crowds' fancy was the Ghost Dance.

It was a good number and will be requested from time to time. Prof. Thiele gave each section of the band a chance to shine as a soloist and although My Old Kentucky Home has been given in town before last night was the first time it was given a thorough rendition. Each soloist or group of soloists excelled and well merited the applause they received. The cornet solo, "Inflammation" by Mr. Sandrin, while difficult, was well rendered and he was forced to respond to encores.

So well were the different numbers received that the audience was not satisfied with one encore but on several occasions a double encore was demanded and heartily responded to.

This is only Prof. Thiele's second public appearance in Waterloo, but if what we have heard is any criterion of what is to come during the season, the record will be broken on more than one occasion.

There was only one objectionable feature last night and that was the noise occasioned by children who would persist in kicking up a racket near the bandstand.

It was very annoying especially when the band were playing a soft passage. We noticed the gatekeepers were kind-hearted enough to let them slip in free of charge, but, unless they conduct themselves better in future means will have to be enforced to have this nuisance stopped.

The crowd numbered over 2500, there being more than 150 cars parked on the driveways.

THE WEEKLY MARKET

GROUNDS TOO SOFT

Owing to the heavy rains of yesterday and the day before the grounds were too soft to allow autos to park inside the bicycle track and consequently the concert of last evening could not be held there it being necessary to use the stand near the lake.

The portable stand was all ready to be erected inside the athletic grounds but at the last moment the committee deemed it advisable not to hold the concert there as the many autos would have seriously damaged the baseball diamond. However, the committee hope to be able to hold the next park concert in the athletic grounds where thousands can be accommodated.

Mr. Allan Shantz, Victoria street arrived home from overseas this morning and was accorded a hearty welcome by the reception committee friends and relatives.

Miss Florence Dennis of Detroit is spending several days with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Robinson and family of Cleveland, Ohio who have been visiting friends in town, for several days returned home this morning.

Hearst on 8-Hour Day Dominion Matter

PROMISES ONLY LEGISLATION TO IMPLEMENT FEDERAL LEGISLATION, WHICH MIGHT BE PASSED.

TORONTO, June 6.—In replying to the labor union deputations, chiefly from the metal trades, that waited on him to-day relative to enacting legislation to make the eight-hour day and collective bargaining recognized and compulsory, so far as it benefited industrial workers, Premier Hearst said:—

"It is generally admitted that legislation affecting hours of work or rates of wages or imposing any conditions that might possibly have a tendency to increase the cost of production, should be national, and in fact, international, rather than provincial or local. For Ontario to pass laws imposing conditions on manufacturers that might have the tendency to increase the cost of production, that did not exist, for instance, in the province of Quebec or the province of Manitoba might have a tendency to cause manufacturers to remove from this province to the province of Quebec or the province of Manitoba, and have a general tendency to divert capital and industries to the last named provinces. Legislation, therefore of the character in question to be in the highest degree equitable and effective, should, so far as possible, be uniform, not only throughout each country, but generally throughout the world.

"I note that the position is now taken at Ottawa that it is not within the power of the Dominion Parliament to pass legislation of the character in question. The law officers of this Government do not agree with this view, and are very firmly of the opinion that the Dominion Parliament has power to enact such legislation. It is difficult for me to come to the conclusion that the framers of the British North America Act intended that the provinces should have exclusive jurisdiction in matters so vitally affecting trade and commerce and the general welfare and prosperity of the Dominion, as hours of labor, rates of wages, methods of bargaining between employers and employees and other similar matters.

"It seems to me proper to point out that some years ago a Department of Labor was established at Ottawa and an Act passed relating to the settlement of industrial disputes. This was done, so far as I am aware, without reference to the provinces or to the powers vested in them by the Government of the Dominion at that time recognized, I believe, properly, its responsibility in connection with industrial disputes and other labor questions generally. Responsibility in that regard must necessarily continue to rest with the Government."

WILL IMPLEMENT LEGISLATION.

"If the Dominion Parliament will pass legislation giving effect to the findings of the Peace Conference with reference to labor, and any other legislation on this subject that the facts disclosed by the Royal Commission, or otherwise, may demand, and there is any question as to the authority of the Dominion Parliament to pass such legislation, this Government will undertake to introduce at the next session of the Legislature and promote the passage of any legislation that may be thought necessary or proper on the part of the province to implement the findings of the Peace Conference and put its validity beyond doubt."

New Minister of Agriculture

SUCCESSOR TO HON. MR. CRAWFORD TO BE CHOSEN

Ottawa, June 6.—The announcement of the retirement of Hon. T. A. C. Crawford from the office of Minister of Agriculture which was made in the House of Commons to-day by Sir Robert Borden occasioned little surprise.

A new Minister of Agriculture will have to be chosen by Sir Robert Borden, and it is said the selection may be made during the coming week. The Prime Minister need not, it is suggested, go outside the membership of the Commons to find a suitable incumbent for the office.

Current rumor here goes to the effect that Hon. F. B. Cawell, who is Mr. Crawford's closest ally, is his colleagues on the budget proposal, and that, while he would not resign his portfolio, he would take the extraordinary step of resigning the policy laid down by Sir Thomas White. The Minister of Public Works set this rumor at rest to-night. "I am not going to criticize the budget," he said, "but to support it, of course. The Union Government was formed for the period of the war and demobilization, and no man in it has to support any principle whatever. While, of course, I shall support this budget, I reserve full liberty to express my views regarding the future, fiscal policy to be adopted when demobilization is completed and the purposes for which the Government was formed are consummated."

Mr. Cawell's retirement, of course, embarrasses the Western Ministers and members. A certain number of the latter will doubtless follow him in his objections to the budget. All the Western members are awaiting the customary expression of opinion from their constituents and for the holding of a meeting for consultation among themselves. The great majority of Western Unionists, however, it seems apparent, desire to support the Government. They realize and believe the people of the West will realize also the necessity for maintaining stability in Canada at the present time, and the great financial burden which the country has to shoulder. The Opposition occupies a peculiar position. Many of its members are not at all anxious to welcome to their ranks the Liberals who threw in their lot with the Government in 1917. Many of the Opposition members, moreover, are protectionists. It is suggested, therefore, that the Opposition may simply introduce two amendments, one expressing regret that a more substantial increase in the British preference has not been introduced, and the other reduction of the cost of living has not been made by means of tariff changes.

Changes May be Made on Treaty

GERMANY MAY JOIN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Paris, June 6.—Expectations in British circles, shared by the French, is that the conference rejoinder to the German right to economic consideration toward the end of next week, an that the Germans will be allowed several days in which to deliberate on their final answer.

Although unanimity has not yet been reached by the Big Four as to their full reply, developments in the Silesian problem coincide with predictions in these despatches so that a plebiscite will be permitted in Northern Silesia, and in the section of East Prussia located over by the treaty to Poland, and the Silesian German right to economic consideration in respect to the product of the mines will be recognized although Germany will have no share in exploiting the mines.

These changes in the treaty are urged as in harmony with the general principle of acknowledgment of ethnic and historical rights. It is said in French circles that the crisis that had been threatened in the conference has been avoided and that complete unity exists on all matters of importance. The French view is that consideration of the German counter-proposals should be guided, not by what Germany may think of this or that concession or whether such concession will induce her to sign, but by the undoubted right of the conference to impose conditions it considers just and necessary.

There is a report that Count Brockdorff has been cabled as to whether certain modifications would induce him to sign. The French position to any such procedure, on the ground that it would play into the hands of the Germans and weaken the position of the conference.

The Big Four have not definitely settled the precise change to be made in the reparations, but it has been practically decided to impose a fixed sum. The help to be required of Germany in the reconstruction of the devastated regions of Belgium and Northern France is a matter still under discussion by the expert commissions.

Germany may be admitted to League of Nations at once.

Winnipeg Taking Steps Against Reds

PARADES DECLARED ILLEGAL

Winnipeg, June 6.—Acting upon reports that the radical element involved in the Winnipeg general strike was threatening to launch a campaign of terrorism, the Winnipeg city government to-day decided to increase its special constable force to three thousand men, mostly returned soldiers. One thousand constables have been sworn in, it was announced.

Several thousand returned soldiers, opposed to the strike, held their second meeting to-day and threats were openly made that unless certain of the strike leaders were taken in custody to-day that action was impending to deal with revolution and Bolshevism that I did not tell you all," said General Ketchen. He received a tremendous ovation.

Mayor Gray also spoke. In a formal proclamation, published this morning, Mayor Charles F. Gray ordered the stoppage of all parades and forbade the congregation of crowds on the city streets.

Mayor Gray said, in stopping parades, he acted in the interest of law and order, and with the hope of preventing bloodshed. It is understood the mayor learned that a clash between parades of strikers and of returned soldiers was considered inevitable.

Officials at the City Hall and executives of the Winnipeg Citizens' Committee commented upon the action of the strikers in sending a national call for men prominently identified with the One Big Union movement to come to Winnipeg.

"Scores of men have come to my office and hundreds have told various city officials that they are anxious to return to work, but that they fear the wrath of the 'big five,'" said Mayor Gray. "Men with tears in their eyes, at bread and milk plants told me they wanted to stay on the job but that they were afraid."

This announcement was authorized by the citizens' committee of one thousand.

"The national call for help by the local labor leaders seems to be the beginning of the end. Following the collapse of various general strikes in different provinces, and the failure to precipitate strikes in a number of cities, it seems quite plain that the Winnipeg agitators realize the fate of their 'One Big Union' movement."

Mrs. Avilla Noel, Haut Lameque, N. B. writes:—"I can highly recommend Baby's Own Tablets as they have worked wonders in the case of my baby. I always keep them in the house and would not feel safe without them." What Mrs. Noel says concerning Baby's Own Tablets is just what thousands of other mothers say and feel. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and stomach, colic, indigestion and a host of the other minor ailments of little ones. The Tablets are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or narcotics or any of the other drugs so harmful to the welfare of the baby. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Returned soldier constables were on duty to-day for the first time since the strike began May 15, squads of street cleaners were in action. Newspapers again were sold in the business district. Deliveries of bread were made with the protection of constables, and milk was sold at municipal stations in the city schools.

Shortly after the soldier's meeting adjourned, strikers and strike sympathizers began a parade in the business district, in defiance of the proclamation of Mayor Gray. Strike leaders declared his proclamation was illegal. The parade started in the direction of the City Hall, where scores of returned soldiers were registering as special constables.

The parade proceeded to within a block of the City Hall. Here, policeman formed a line across the street, and halted the demonstrations. The strikers then sent a delegation to the City Hall to ask Mayor Gray, if their parade might not continue. Gray said, "No." The marchers then disbanded. There was no trouble.

The city's constable force was increased to-day by a unit of more than 100 mounted men all veterans Canadian cavalrymen. This unit will be commanded by Captain D.M. Dunwoodie, who won the distinguished service medal while in France.
