MONORS FROM PRIESTS AND PEOPLE— WHAT PAKENHAM'S WORTHY PASTOR HAS DONE IN HIS PRIESTLY LIFE,

WHAT PAKEMHAM'S WORTHY PASTOR HAS DONE IN HIS PRIESTLY LIPE.
Tuesday, June 10th, 1890, was for the people of Pakenham parish, and for all who know the esteemed and worthy pastor, a day which will be engraved on the imperishable tablets of memory. At an early hour in the morning carriages well filled with devoted friends and admirers of the reverend gentleman commenced coming in from all directions, while the usually quiet little village was alive (at the gilding of the eastern horizon) with people who slowly wended their way in the direction of St. Peter Celestin church, where the be calebrated in a manner worthy of the thrice-happy occasion. The weather was most delightful, as if nature (now clothed in har fairest garments, and bearing the smalle and impress of Heaven itself) whend to vie with those who were most zealous in their efforts to make the celebration a grand success. The sun shone in purett radiance upon the joyous gathering of clergy and laity, and the odors of flowers and foliage (refreshed by recent plantiful rains) imparted to the clear and inviting atmosphere a delictious parfume which added still more to the happiness of the occasion.

At 10° clock Grand Mass was celebrated by the pastor; Rev. Father Rougies, of Renfrew, being deason, Rev. Father Chalse, of Amprior, sub deacon, and master of ceremonies. The choir rendered with fine effect the Mass of the Second Tone, besides beausiful hymns appropriate to the occasion. At the end of the Mass Rev. Father Dow dail, of Mount St. Patrick, preached on the day and its lessons. He said he could well speak of the great work of Father Lavan at Pakenham, for he himself for what the had done to see and the pinness, spiritual and temporal. The rev. preacher paid a very handsome tribute to the Rev. Father Lavan, thanking him in his own name and in the name of the parish of Pakenham.

The life of Father Lavan has been one stant devotion to the salve of constant devotion to the salvation of souls—holding the adults to the faith, and training the young to love and practice religion. His Silver Jubilee was a feast of great joy to priests and people, and all will join in the fervent hope that he will live to celebrate in the vineyard of Christ his Golden Jubilee.

Her voice is a high soprano and she gave evidence of great abilities in the valse from 'Romeo and Juilet,' by Gounod, and later two beautiful songs. All were heartily encored and songs. Halifax Recorder, June 7.

Among the Haligonians abroad who have come into prominence lately is Miss Lens Devine. As announced by me some months ago she returned to her home in San Francisco after spending four years in Italy studying music and developing a rich, sweet voice. She practiced under the great Maestro, Lamperti, and has sung in all the capitals of Europe under royal patronage. She made her debut in San Francisco last January, supported by Alfred Wilkie, the well-known tenor, and others. Her selections were Gounod's Halifax Recorder, June 7. She also rendered with Mr. Wilkie a duet, "Una Notta a Venezia." In San Francisco Daily Report says:

At subsequent concerts, "Lena Doria," for that is the fair Haligonian's professional name, was most enthusiastically received. She is a niece of Mr. Devine, of Hessia & Divine.

THE PEOPLE OF ST. JOSEPH'S, DOURO, CELEBRATE HIS SILVER JUBILEE.

CELEBRATE HIS SILVER JUBILEE.

The picule in connection with St. Joseph's, Douro, was held on Tuesday, June 3rd. The most interesting feature of it was the people's celebration of Father Dan. O'Connell's Silver Jubilee. The proceedings began by the choir of St. Joseph's, Douro, rendering in truly admirable style, "Vivat in asternum pestor bonus." (May our dear pastor live forever in the realms of blies.) Then, out of respect to the Emerald Isle, Father Dan. O'Connell's place of birth, one of the little boys of the parish came forward and recited the following beautiful poem, so often read and admired by the Irish and their decendants:

Adien! the snowy said

Adieu! the snowy sai: Swells her bosom to the gale And our barque from Innistail Bounds away. While we gaze upon thy shore, That we never shall see more, And the blinding tears flow o'er, We pray!

Mayourneen! be thou long
In peace the queen of song—
In battle proud and strong
As the sea!

Be saints thine offspring still True heroes guard each hill And harps by every rill Sound free,

Tho' round her Indian bowers
The hand of Nature showers
The brightest blooming flowers
Of our sphere Yet not the richest rose In an alien clime that blows Like the briar at home that grows Is so dear!

Though glowing breasts may be In soft vales beyond the sea; Yet ever grah-ma cree, Shall I wall.

For the heart of love I leave, In the dreary hours of eve, On the stormy shore to grieve-Innisfail;

But memory e'er the deep. On her dewy'wing shall sweep, When in midnight hours I weep, O er thy wrong

And bring me steeped in tears, The dead flowers of other years, And waft unto my ears, Home's songs. When I slumber in the gloom Of a name ess foreign tomb, By a distant ocean's boom, Innisfail!

Around thy Emerald shore May the clasping sea adore And each wave in thunder roar "All hail!"

And when the final sigh Shall bear my soul on nigh And on chainless wing I fly Through the blu

Earth's latest thought shall be, As I soar above the sea— Green Erin, dear, to thee— Adieu!

The next stage of the proceedings was that the Rev. Father Kellty, Father Dan's successor, came forward and said: Father Dan, at the request of the men, women, and children of St. Joseph's, Douro, allow me to recite a few lines from "Tae Priest of Perth," penned by your illustrious countryman, the late lamented D'Arcy McGee. The men, women, and children of St. Joseph's, Douro, say, and I say too, that you are a chip of the old block and that every word of it applies to yourself:

"A golden Priest, of the good old school, Fearless, and prompt, to lead and rule; Freed or every taint of pride, But ready, aye ready, to chide or guide; Tenderly binding the bruised heart, Sparing no sin its penal smart; His will was as the granite rock the provier meneiogh is flock; But never licben or wild-flower grew On rocky ground, more fair to view; Laying the outlines deep and broad Of an infant church, he daily trod.

His path in the visible signt of God."

In the next place came forward the Reeve of the township, Mr. Moloney, the ex-Reeve, Mr. Moher, Councillor Walsh and Mr. Leahy, an old gentleman who for forty years has acted as Treasurer of the township. The Reeve spoke as follows:

"Dear Father Dan—Allow us, the Committee of St. Joseph's, Douro, to present you, in the name of the people of this parish, with the accompanying set of Breviaries. We present it to you as a slight token of the love and esteem in which you are so deservedly held by the men, women and children of St. Joseph's, Douro. For twenty-four years you labored well and faithfully in our midst. Needless for me to say that your memory shall ever be green in our hearts. Genuine Soggarth Aroon that you are, we glory in the fact that you christened most of us and married many amongst us. May you live to celebrate your fiftieth anniversary. Many here to day in all human probability will not be here then, but our children, God willing, will be here and your memory still shall be green in the parish. In the same way that children are pleased with any mark of love or esteem shown their father, so also were we not only pleased but delighted when some time ago we read in the Catholic Recond that His Lordship the Most Rev. Dr. O'Connor, our beloved and revered chief pastor, presented you with a beautiful set of silver-cruets. We were not, however, surprised, because we knew that your ecclesiastical superiors always loved and esteemed you. On the same lines it was also a real pleasure for us when we read in the same Catholic Broom that the absentious experience. In the next place came forward the always loved and esteemed you. On the same lines it was also a real pleasure for us when we read in the same CATHOLIC RECORD that your brother priests had presented you with a magnificent silver chalice. We were not surprised at this either, knowing as we did that your brother priests always loved and esteemed you."

"Men, women and children of Saint cation.

Joseph's, Douro, words are inadequate to express the feelings that well up in my heart on this supreme occasion. You were always good to me, but, living as I now do in another parish, I did not dream that you would go out of your way to emphasize in this kindly manner your remembrance of me. Accept my most sincere thanks for your beautiful present. It pleases me more than a little to receive this token of your love and esteem in the presence of my dearest friend on earth, Vicar-General Browne. He and I have together walked up and now together we are walking down the hill of life. Not far behind us in the struggle for existence is my dear friend and successor, Father Kellty, your present pastor. May he live long in your midst! Peculiarly gratifying to me is the presence here to day of the young manneod of our own diocese, in the person of the Rev. Chancellor Rudkins. May God give him health and strength to accomplish his allotted task! Gratifying also to me is the presence here to day of the childhood of this diocese, in the person of our dear young friend, Father Whibbe. He was baptized in this parish only a very short time before my arrival among you. You were kind enough to allude to the love and exteem in which your humble servant is held by the illustrious Bishop of the diocese, and by his brother priests. Pray for me, that I may be worthy of any love or exteem shown me by the Bishop or the priests of the diocese. Now one word more: I love the people of Ennismore, among whom my lot is cast at present, but loved in an especial degree, and never forgotten while life endures, shall be the people among whom I labored for nearly a quarter of a century—the good sathful people of St Joseph's, Douro. God bless you all."

At this juncture three cheers were called for Father Dan. That the people

At this juncture three cheers were salled for Father Dan. That the people made the welkin ring goes without saying. Father Kellty concluded the promade the welkin ring goes without saying. Father Keilty concluded the proceedings by saying: "Father Dan, many a fine penance in your time you gave the people of this parish. Now, so as to even up things, the people of St. Joseph's, Douro, wish me to say that they impose upon you a life long penance, viz, that every day, when reading your new set of Breviaries, you remember your old friends the people of St. Joseph's, Douro." The orchestra here performed with thrilling effect "Auld Lang Syne," and thus ended the celebration of Father Dan. O'Connell's Silver Jubilee. May he live to celebrate his Golden Jubilee! So say we all. Fiat, Fiat.

LETTER FROM ARTHUR.

CETTER FROM ARTHUR.

On Trinity Sunday over one thousand people gathered in St. John's church to assist at the first Mass of Rev. Father Haley. It was a solemn High Mass, Father Maloney being descon and Father Doherty, the esteemed pastor, sub descon. Father Haley is a native of Arthur, and, naturally, the many friends of his youth were more than pleased to see that the aim of his life had been attained. Oa beholding this good young priest immolating for the first time the spoties Lamb of God, the hearts of those present were overflowing with joy. And when his sweet volce burst forth in the solemn notes of the preface he captivated the ears and hearts of all. At the end of Mass Father Maloney spoke briefly on the dignity of the Caristian priesthood and on its unity. He showed how in the new law there was but one priest and one sacrifice. In conclusion he described the jys and sorrows in the life of a priest. Father Haley studied in St. Jerome's, Berlin, and St. Michael's, Toronto. Afterwards he entered the Grand Seminary, Montreal, where he spent four years in the study of philosophy and theology. Success always attended his afforts. On Saturday, 31st of May, he was raised to the priesthood by Bishop Dowling, in St. Mary's Cathedral, Hamilton. His many good qualities are the admiration of all, particularly his firmness of purpose, his candor and sincerity. He will certainly be a bright ornament to the diocese of Hamilton. Knowing his worth, Bishop Dowling has appointed him to one of the most important, curacles in the diocese, that of St. Patrick's, Hamilton. His numerous friends here wish him many years of health and strength to complete the career so well wish him many years of health and strength to complete the career so well begun.

Among the guests were Mr. Parnell and other colleagues of the bridgeroom in the House of Commons. John Dillon acted as groomsman. An immense crowd as groomsman. SALISBURY AND BALFOUR IN TROUBLE.

London, June 12.—Everything points to the certainty that the Conservative caucus at the Carlton Club to-day ended caucus at the Carlton Club to day ended in a row. various stages of parliamentary advance ment not only the Cabinet but the unofficial leaders of the Tory party, as well as the voting contingent of the Ministry in the House of Commons, have for some time past been divided in opinion, while the pressure of the constituencies upon their representatives, also variously directed, has increased. To-day's caucus, it was asserted by the dictators of the Ministerial policy, would restore harmony, but the bitter discussion which characterized the conference and the failure of the meeting to reach any definite conclusion denotes a widening of breach to the extent of threatening hopeless division in the ranks of the party on pending bills. It is announced to-night that another caucus will shortly be convened when a further attempt will be made to subdue the refractory element, but the determined attitude of the Cabinet minority and their adherents gives very little encouragement to the majority that their efforts will be successful. In addition to the Parliamentary rebellion against the headstrong policy of the Ministerial leaders in regard to pending bills, the Government had a very serious difficulty to confront in dealing with the defiant postal and police employees, and all politicians agree that the case requires delicate handling. The wisdom of Postmater-General Raikes in reducing the wages of fifty postmen by 5s. a week and suspending one hundred and fifty more for attending a meeting of the new union of postoffice employees is seriously questioned.
