it's your world.

These countries have a lot in common. Every one is no place for you if all you have to offer is lofty ideals. These are countries that need realists-people who are ready to get down to work. And come down to earth. Literally. Don't kid yourself . . with this outfit will mean slugging it out through a tough, demanding job. That's the only way you'll fill the needs of these countries. And who knows, maybe you'll have a few of your own filled. What is CUSO? It's a national agency created to develop and promote overseas service opportunities for Canadians. It arranges for the placement of qualified men and women in countries that request their services. If you're sent to a country it's because they've asked for you. Or someone like you. How does CUSO work? Abroad, it works through different international agencies who all assist in the placement of personnel. In Canada it works through local co-ordinating committees, located in most universities, but serving the whole community. What kind of people are needed? People with something to offer. People with things like knowing how to teach mathematics or grow wheat, how to clean a wound or build a bridge. These countries need people who are adaptable and mature. People with initiative. People who can earn respect, and give it. Think about it for a minute. You'll know what you have to offer. What is the selection procedure like? Tough. Because we don't believe in sending underdeveloped people to underdeveloped countries. Preliminary screening is carried out, where possible, by local committees. CUSO then nominates candidates to governments and agencies requesting personnel, who make the final selection. CUSO also makes arrangements for preparatory and orientation courses. How do you apply? Complete two copies of the personal information form which you can get from local CUSO representatives at any Canadian university, or from Executive Secretary of CUSO, 75 Albert St., Ottawa.

UN assembly debates war, population

The United Nations Model General Assembly was held last weekend on campus, with members from the University of Saskatch-ewan, UAC, United College (Winnipeg), and the U of A participat-

Two resolutions, concerning Vietnam and population, were de bated and passed with substantial majorities.

The first resolution, introduced by Sweden, dealt with the war in Vietnam. The resolution advocated an immediate cease-fire, an appointed truce commission, and negotiation of a permanent truce, with provision for withdrawal of all foreign troops.

There were several viewpoints on the war. The USSR took the view that since the war is a war of national liberation, the only way to achieve peace is by implementing the Geneva agreements. The Canadian delegation felt the war is not a domestic problem, but subversion is the key cause of strife.

The delegation proposed an amendment, putting the Truce Commission under United Nations The proposal was acauspices.

The resolution on population was introduced by India, the world's second most populous nation. The resolution was rather nebulous in its proposals, as part of it read "... every nation as it deems fit institutes a program of population control, which may include dis-semination of birth control information and contraceptives to the populace . .

The resolution was passed 21-5.
