Rossley's Theatres
The names for the contest at our East End Theatre are pouring in, and singers, dancers and acrobats, as well as reciters and comedians intend trying for the prizes on Friday night. Be in time. Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Brown in entire new act. These talented artistes have delighted thousands and the very best in the business. There is in active preparation what is known in England as Potted Pantomime when Mr. Jack Rossley, his talented wife and charming daughter Bonnie, Miss Madge Locke and Mrs. Rossley's trained pantomime girls will appear. All new costumes, and Miss Locke is now busy rehearsing the girls. The Crinoline Girls in early Victorian costumes, and orchestra accompaniments under the leadership of Mr. A. Crocker will also be special features.
"Ours" in the West End
Crowded to the doors was the favorite place of amusement last night. The pictures are always of the best and the two little singers were loudly applauded. Tonight they will be heard in new song, "I am on my way to Dublin Bay." Don't miss this show, always good at the clean, cosy, well managed little house in the West End.

At the Nickel
"His First Case" to be produced at the Nickel to-day—in the mid-west bill—is a most thrilling two part detective story, and is delightfully portrayed. The music at the Nickel is very pleasing, and adds to the superior attractions of the place for, after all, a high class orchestra promotes a nickel show to a high standard.

A SUDDEN REMINDER of your negligence in securing a fire insurance policy may come in the shape of a fire at any time.
THE SOONER YOU INSURE the better for you. You know it, and this is only to remind you that the knowledge will do you no good unless you act upon it. Let us write you a policy to-day and have it over. You'll feel better and sleep easier.

The Eagle Arrives With 10,000 Seals
Bowring's sealing steamer Eagle, Capt. E. Bishop, arrived at 10 o'clock last night, hailing for 10,000 prime harp seals. As has been already reported, the steamer was among the seals for days, but unable to work them on account of ice conditions. When she got clear, the crew killed about 15,000 seals, but about one-third were not recovered. While hunting for old seals a wireless from the Bloodhound asked for assistance, and the day following she was taken in tow and brought to land. Ever since then the Eagle has been trying to get home and had to abandon towing the Bloodhound, taking the latter's crew to Cambro where she reached on Sunday last. On Tuesday afternoon the Eagle left Westleyville and steamed through very heavy ice on the way in. Capt. Bishop and crew are all well after their long trip.

At the Crescent
The Crescent was the great attraction last afternoon and night hundreds of people visiting the show to hear Delmonico—the man with the "double voice"—sing that excellent song "Back to the Carolina you love" and which was loudly applauded. Why not visit the Crescent and judge for your self if the show is not really up to any praise bestowed.

The Curse of Greed
A most magnificent production, perfection itself even to the smallest and most minute detail entitled, "The Curse of Greed" will be shown at the Casino Theatre commencing to-night and remaining for the balance of the week. This is one of the finest works yet turned out by the famous Melles Company. The leading role is played by a youth "Little Adrian" and he is undoubtedly a past-master in his art. The other parts are in thoroughly capable hands. Excitement is intense from the beginning and it is kept up throughout.

The story is that of a spendthrift nobleman with little principle and less conscience, who is in league with a grasping money-lender who schemes to relieve Adrian's mother of her vast fortune. They ship the boy away to sea in order to get rid of him, but an old sailor on hearing the boy's troubles, rescues him and brings him home safely in time to rescue his mother who is being tied for his own murder. This is a very thrilling story.

Roll of Honor
The name of Gordon V. Boone, has now to be added to the Roll of Honor who have fallen at the post of duty in defence of King and Empire.
An official telegram to his brother Alexander at Millertown tells the story of Gordon's falling in the desperate fighting of last Saturday.
Gordon Boone was the son of the late Samuel J. Boone of Queen's Rd. and had a distinguished career at Bishop Field College, being Captain of the school when he left, foremost in college work and popular in athletic circles. He will be remembered as representing the "Feldians" in all their athletic pursuits, being invariably selected to represent the city in cricket and football.
He was one of Newfoundland's first sons to respond to the call, having enlisted at Peterboro, Ontario, last August, sailing with the Artillery Corps of the first Canadian Contingent, and serving in that corps dutifully to the last, and showing his devotion to the Empire by the voluntary sacrifice of a bright young life that others might live. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lays down his life for his friend.

The foregoing deals only with officers and men of the First Newfoundland Regiment and their dependants. With regard to the Naval Reserve, the Committee recommends that pensions or allowances made by the Admiralty to officers and members of the Newfoundland Naval Reserve, or their dependants should be supplemented by the colony, so as to put them on the same footing as officers and men of the Newfoundland Regiment.
In opening the meeting His Excellency referred to the advancement of Capt. Franklin and Macpherson and their work in connection with the local contingent, also to Capt. Ayre who had given splendid service, and to the fact that 177 men, were now under drill and fully capable of upholding the splendid record of our men, established at Edinburgh and Fort George.
The reports of the Reserve Force Committee, submitted by J. A. Cliff, K.C., and in which he referred to the good work of the Regiment at Edinburgh; of the Rifle Committee by Capt. Kennie, dealing with the excellent progress of the volunteers in marksmanship; of the Recruiting Committee by Hon. W. C. Job in which he mentioned the number of Naval Reservists was still 97 short of the desired number, of the Finance Committee, by Hon. M. F. Howley and of the Patriotic Fund Committee by E. A. Hon. J. Harvey and Mr. Piccott, Minister of Marine spoke in favour of the resolutions and Hon. P. T. A patient for the General Hospital named Petipas came along from Whitbourne by last night's train. Some few days ago the man whilst chopping wood got a splinter in his arm from which blood poisoning has developed.
Several of the unemployed in the city are leaving by this evening's express for Glace Bay and Sydney Mines, where there is said to be labor offering.
Information to hand intimates that numerous applicants are seeking entrance into the General Hospital and some are suffering demanding immediate attendance. The Institution is filled up at the present time, every bed being occupied, yet some scheme should be devised whereby those whose cases look for immediate aid should be treated.
The boys of the class which meets on Sunday mornings in Gower St. Sunday School are forwarding five dollars to the London Times Fund towards the purchase of an aeroplane for the Army. The first class on Empire Day and contributions will be acknowledged in the Weekly Times.
