SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

A bitter feud has existed between Colonel Arthur Stanley and his cousin, Judge Lamar Stanley. The feud has been engendered in family jealousy over an heirloom, the diamond from the sky, that was found in a fallen meteor by an adventurer ancestor. Also, the succession to the Stanley earldom in England may come to an American Stanley. When a daughter is born to Colonel Stanley of the eldest branch of the Stanleys in America and the mother of the child dies at its birth, the chagrined colonel buys a newborn gypsy boy and substitutes him as heir. Three years later the gypsy mother, having had no part in this bargain, steals the colonel's little daughter, being reared in secret, and leaves her own son undetected as the heir. The gypsy mother has also obtained possession of the diamond from the sky and a document containing the secret of the false heir. She rears the little girl, Esther Stanley, as her own and grows to love her. When Esther is grown a beautiful young girl, Hagar, now gypsy queen, returns to Virginia with her. She has a wild plan that Dr. Lee, the late Colonel Stanley's old friend, may now adopt Esther, as originally intended. Her hope also is that her son, the supposed Arthur Stanley, may fall in love with Esther, and thus the innocent girl may become by marriage what she is by birth—mistress of Stanley hall. Dr. Lee consents that her son, the supposed Arthur Stanley, is a profligate and not worthy of Esther, but Hagar hopes for the best and with her people departs. Arthur Stanley does fall in love with Esther and so does his boon companion, Blair Stanley, the cousin who would be the rightful male heir of Stanley were the Stanley secret known. In stealing the diamond Blair causes the death of the doctor. Outside is Arthur, remaining Esther, Blair, escaping, insidiously infers to Arthur that he has left Esther's room. Arthur forces him to fight a duel in which Arthur is victor and tumbles Blair into an open grave. He searches Blair and takes the diamond from the sky. Blair is only stunned and tries, with the aid of his mother, to place the blame for the murder of Dr. Lee upon Arthur. The sheriff attempts to take Arthur, but after a thrilling drive in a high powered motor-car Arthur eludes his pursuers and is thrown into the river after an smashup. His body is seen floating down the river. Arthur is revived by Hagar, who reveals his identity and upbraids him. Needing money, he pawns the diamond in Richmond. Blair is in Richmond, riotously, and he, too, is forced to visit the pawnshop. After explanations the two agree to stand by each other. At a ball, to which Blair has invited Arthur and which a supposed New York society belle is the guest of honor, they are stung to find the diamond on the breast of the New York visitor. She is an adventuress who has borrowed the diamond for the evening. Hagar attends the ball as fortune teller, accompanied by Luke Lovell. While Hagar is telling the "belle's" fortune the diamond is snatched from her breast.

CHAPTER IX.
"For the Sake of a False Friend."

HAGAR'S hands almost touched the diamond from the sky as she clutched at it over the shoulder of Vivian Marston as it disappeared through the velvet window curtains clinched in a strong, dark fist.

As for Vivian Marston, she caught her breath with a great gulping sob, and then she shrieked in wild alarm and pain, for the hands that had so mysteriously thrust her neck and snatched from her breast the great glowing jewel had been "no gentle ones."

In an instant the ballroom was in an uproar, and a frightened flunky had run at the first wild report there had been a jewel robbery to the front doorway and had blown three loud, frightful quavering blasts upon a police whistle.

Outside the Randolph mansion Luke Lovell was scuffling through the darkness with the diamond from the sky.

Canada Could Raise
Army of 1,000,000

Australian Cadet Leader Outlines Scheme Whereby This Can Be Done.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Lieutenant J. J. Simons, director of the Australian Cadets, addressed the Canadian club at King's Cafe at noon yesterday. Describing the Australian training he said Canada could add 1,000,000 trained soldiers to the Empire's forces if the same system were adopted here.

THE MILITARY SYSTEM.

In Australia every male from twelve to twenty-six years of age plays some part in the military system which when it reaches fruition will have no less than 600,000 trained and equipped men. Referring to this system the speaker said: "Our warlike preparations must not be construed in such a way as to make it appear we are a militaristic nation. We are not. We are profound believers in the doctrine of 'Peace on earth and goodwill to men.' We like to express in a motto that sentiment of peace, and hang it up in every room, but we also believe in placing a rifle just above the words, because there are many people who don't understand the English people, but the rifle speaks with a tongue which needs no interpreter."

AUSTRALIA'S GOOD POINTS.

"How many citizens of the British Empire realize the wonderful expansiveness of the Australian continent so often mis-named an island?" asked Lieut. Simons. "In that immense area set down in the southern seas there is room to place the whole of the United States and still leave 600 square miles of territory for the real estate men to gamble with. Australia is the last whole continent where there is an opportunity to build up a race on all-British lines. Think of it. In that tremendous area of about three million square miles, there is not a single international barrier, no racial line scars the surface of the continent. There is no bilingual problem. We know one tongue only, that of Mother England."

St. JEAN DE MATHA, Jan. 27th, 1914.
"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been made well by 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered so much that at last I would not dare to eat for I received samples of 'Fruit-a-tives' and after taking them I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was well. I quickly regained my lost weight—and now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am fully recovered, thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives.'

Ford Co. Appeals to Toronto Council

Wants Reversal of Controllers' Ban on Ford Car—300 Employees in Khaki.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The Board of Control's recent order that no Ford motor-cars are to be purchased by the city has aroused the resentment of the Canadian Ford Co., and every member of the City Council has received a circular letter in which a plea for fair play is made.

The Ford Co. of Canada states that 300 of its employees are fighting at the front, and its staffs have given liberally to patriotic funds. It hopes for a reversal of the controllers' decision.

It is pointed out that the Ford Motor Co. of Canada is controlled and managed by Canadians, 75 per cent. of the stock being owned in Canada, and employs 3,000 men, of whom 95 per cent. are Canadian. The Toronto branch, it says, employs 17 men and proposes to employ that many more at an early date. The minimum wage paid in Toronto is $4 for eight hours.

Appended to the letter are clippings from newspaper interviews with Henry Ford in regard to his remarks re the allied loan.

It was reported at a medical congress at Dallas, Tex., that deaths in the United States from cancer were now 80,000 a year.
