THE SCHOONER.

Where the Fore and After Beats the Square Rigger.

The ability of the schooner to meet the requirements of present day conditions, while the square riggers have been found wanting, can be readily understood when we take into consideration the numerous advantages possessed by the fore and aft rig that are essential to the ideal carrier.

Operating expense, that prime factor in all transportation problems, is here reduced to a minimum, for there is no motive power so cheap as the free winds of heaven and no other craft so well adapted to utilize and control this force. The sails are of handy form and can be readily handled from the deck by a handful of men or with steam power if desired. The schooner can sail several points nearer the eye of the wind than a square rigger is able to do.

Built on the old clipper model, they sail like witches and owing to their peculiar construction can be readily loaded and discharged. They require but little ballast and having no heavy top hamper can, if necessary to the trade, take on immense deck loads. In the lumber traffic of the Pacific northwest we find these vessels leaving port with huge deck loads towering ten to fifteen feet above the rail. Occasionally they get caught in a blow and have to sacrifice a portion of the deck load, but where one meets such a mishap dozens reach their destinations safely and land their cargoes intact.—James G. McCurdy in Outing Magazine.

A GAME OF POKER.

It Was an Object Lesson on Playing Cards With Strangers.

A card sharp well known to the stewards of the great ocean liners was a passenger on a recent trip across. He received a line at Queenstown, which had the effect of keeping him out of the large games in the smoking room. He contented himself with penmanship and bridge at 25 cents a hundred points. On the evening before landing one of his bridge party, none of whom knew that he was a professional with a bad record, proposed changing the game to poker. "It's bad practice," said the card sharp, "to play poker with strangers. There's too much risk, but it's all right in this case." The others said there was no risk if a man had good sense and kept his eyes open. The deal fell to the professional, and when cards had been drawn by each man he said: "Now I'll show you how much you know. Mr. A, you have the winning hand. Mr. B, your three queens look good, but what show have they against Mr. C's four fives? And what good are they against A's four kings? Does it tally?"

It did, and A said, "Well, it's my pot."

"I was afraid that might happen, so I dealt myself a straight flush," he showed it, arose from his chair and said: "Give the steward what I put in. This was an object lesson—don't play poker with strangers."

The Barbecue.

The word "barbecue" is derived from the Spanish word "barbacoa" and is a native Haitian term for a wooden framework supporting meat or fish to be smoked or dried over a fire. In its popular sense it means a large social or political entertainment in the open air at which sheep or oxen are roasted whole and all the feasting is on a most liberal scale. Georgia is probably the native home of the barbecue and is called the Barbecue State. Who prepared the first barbecue is unknown. Deer, bear and other game constituted the meat roasted in the barbecues of fifty years ago.

The Butcher's Smock.

The butcher's smock was blue. It looked much neater than the white smocks of his friends, all smeared with dried blood. "Every butcher," said the man, "ought to wear a blue smock. Why? Because dry blood won't show on it. Dry blood turns bluish, and on a smock of this color it is invisible. I am descended from a long line of butchers, and from father to son the word has been passed down always to wear, for neatness' sake, a smock of blue."

Cautions.

To cut bread into discs before frying, if it is to be used as croutons, is not the most approved method. When done in this way it becomes very hard and indigestible. The bread should rather be cut into thin slices and then stamped out in circles a little larger than a quarter or cut into squares of about the same size or in oblongs two inches long and over one-half inch thick. These tossed into hot lard and taken out almost instantly, in the frying basket are the most palatable.

Queen Marriages.

In southern India marriage with inanimate objects is not altogether unknown. A man who has lost two wives and wishes to marry another will go through a formal marriage ceremony with a plantain tree, which is afterward cut down. This stands for the third marriage, which is considered inauspicious, and the man feels free to make a fourth marriage with a third woman.

The Modern Version.

"I want my boy to be able to earn his own living."

"To earn it, Mr. Merger?"

"Well, to get it."

Hypocrisy is the necessary burden of villainy.—Dr. Johnson.

Right Breathing Cures Catarrh

Simple Way to Kill Catarrhal Germs in Nose, Throat and Lungs.

If you cut your finger, you don't attempt to heal it by swallowing a pill or a dose of medicine. It is just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the nose and throat with pills and stomach dosing, for catarrh is a local disease, and needs special local healing treatment.

The only natural and common sense method known for the cure of catarrhal troubles is Hy-o-mei. It is breathed through an ingenious pocket inhaler, so that its medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells of the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, soothing the irritated mucous membranes, and restoring a healthy condition.

If you suffer from catarrhal troubles, such as offensive breath, running of mucus, frequent sneezing, husky voice, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, loss of strength, spasmodic coughing, or a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest, you should begin to use Hy-o-mei at once. It will destroy all disease germs in the nose, throat and lungs, and provide the blood with additional ozone.

The complete Hy-o-mei outfit with inhaler costs but $1.00. So strong is C. H. Gunn & Co.'s faith in the power of Hy-o-mei to cure all catarrhal troubles, that with every dollar outfit they give an iron-clad guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

THE "ALL-RED" ROUTE.

Lloyd-George May Have Promised More Than He Can Deliver.

London, June 29.—(C. A. P.)—Referring to Sir Wilfrid Laurier's scheme of an "all-red" route to Australia through Canada, The Yorkshire Post says this was the subject on which Lloyd-George was pressed very hard by the colonial Premier, and it may be found that in the end he conceded more than his colleagues in the Government will be disposed to endorse. At any rate he has aroused the suspicion of some of the Radical economists. Concluding, The Yorkshire Post says it is doubtful whether his recent experiments in subsidies have been beneficial to the country. The fruit dealer recently protested that the subsidy paid Sir Alfred Jones is decidedly injurious to his trade.

CASH FORGED CHEQUES.

Revolutionists Said to Have Hit Two Banks Hard.

Harbin, June 29.—A revolutionist, dressed as an officer of the Frontier Guard, drew $30,000 from the Russo-Chinese Bank on a forged cheque yesterday and escaped.

Vladivostok, June 29.—The Russo-Chinese Bank paid out $50,000 on a forged cheque yesterday. The man to whom the payment was made escaped.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing hope to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ of the prize ring as well as in life. We protect our heads, throats, chest and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect your health in our most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. E. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Will be sent free, paper-bound, for 31 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. "See Dr. Pierce as above."

TEA TABLE TRIMMINGS.

Little Dainties to Pique the Appetite at Afternoon Affairs.

Since the custom of taking afternoon tea is not only well established in this country, but now in danger of becoming an untimely feast, it is astonishing to note the numerous little dainties and extra trimmings which are being served to pique and delight the appetite. It is no longer merely a cup of tea and a slice of thin bread and butter that may be expected between 4 and 5:30 o'clock. Jam has been added to the list and often hot Scotch scones and English muffins. Beside the tea table proper there stands usually a sort of rack table, pyramidal in shape and having three shelves, one above the other and round like plates. Each one is covered with attractive china holding some fascinating biscuit or cake. Jam of one or two kinds is suggested in between them, and after the hostess has ascertained which jam and biscuit her guest prefers she spreads it for him herself before passing it on a small plate. This little attention appears very gracious.

Among the biscuits those of "health food" reputation are often found and the jam is spread over them to add to their somewhat questionable tastiness. Other hostesses have fine, small, flat wafers of whole wheat covered with chocolate in their own kitchens before serving. They are then above reproach to pass with tea. The biscuit is digestible, the chocolate tasty and nourishing. Biscuits covered with cheese, on the contrary, while highly agreeable to the taste, are avoided by those hypercareful about their diet.

Strawberry jam is undoubtedly the favorite for spreading on English muffins. Blackberry jam or guava is chosen to spread on the health food biscuits, especially those made of graham or whole wheat. Scotch scones are spread only through the middle with fresh butter. These scones are very similar to old fashioned soda biscuits and are invariably served hot. In size they are little larger than a quarter of a dollar. The number that some people can make disappear is therefore readily contemplated.

Wafer toast finds a place at afternoon tea. In making it the bread is cut as thin as possible, and it is then toasted until extremely crisp. It is eaten dry or with jam, but it is never buttered.

When cake appears at afternoon tea, the fashion rages for a rich pound cake showing through it many large raisins. Europeans invariably refer to it as "American plum cake" and regard it as a specialty of this country. In entertaining foreigners, therefore, it is perhaps the most acceptable cake to offer.

A Seasonable Dish.

Veal or beef is roasted in a pot, and when dish is boiled asparagus is arranged on the same platter, a garnish.

of hard boiled eggs being placed on the vegetable. The sauce can be plain butter, seasoned with a little vinegar, pepper and salt, or a tartare one.

How One Girl Rests.

"The first thing I do when I get home from the office is to change all my clothing," said the business girl.

"I know it takes time, but it pays. It not only saves wear on the office skirt and shoes, which amounts to a great deal, for there is no quicker way to get a skirt shapeless and shabby than to lounge around in it at home, but I do it even more for the rest it gives me."

"If you have never made a practice of it, you cannot guess what a rest it is to put on other shoes, to slip into another blouse and collar and skirt."

"When I have bathed my face and done this, I feel like another person. Even if I don't get a chance to lie down before dinner I am refreshed."

"And my office dress and shoes, all carefully brushed and ready for morning, are also the better for this extra rest."

Advice to New Homemakers.

Do not furnish your house fully until you have lived in it awhile.

Buy at first only such furniture as you need for comfort. When you are settled, you can study the needs of each part of the house, and after you have fully determined what you want buy it when you see an advantageous chance.

Never decide hastily upon a piece of furniture. Purchase furniture for the future as much as for the present. It is true fashion changes in furniture from year to year, but it is only people of large means who can follow a fashion of this kind.

Plain, elegant styles are the sort that wear best and give the best satisfaction in the end, even though they are a trifle more expensive at first.

Pearls in Fashion.

Some time ago fashion decreed that the finger that was adorned with a ruby should not have its beauty further enhanced by a ring of diamonds, that turquoise should not mingle with emeralds and so on. Now, however, there is a new law, and the hand that carried one pearl ring must wear no other rings than those of pearls, says the Cosmo Corner.

According to the robe that is worn, the hands show a blaze of diamonds or soft toned pearls, all quite unrelieved and showing as little as possible of their gold or silver setting.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

DIRECT DRAFT DAMPER

There is no dust nuisance in connection with the Sunshine.

Because the Sunshine is fitted with a dust flue (see illustration).

When you rock down the ashes (no back-breaking shaking with the Sunshine) what dust arises is drawn from the ash-pan up the dust-flue, then across the fire-pot to the smoke-pipe, as shown in illustration, where it immediately ascends to the outer air.

Only two things to remember in connection with this operation—open both the dust and direct draft dampers.

Sunshine is just the cleanest, simplest, easiest managed, greatest labor saving furnace that you can buy.
