SENATE GIVES JOHN BARLEYCORN ANOTHER LEASE FOR BUSINESS

Knocks Out Order-in-Council of Government With Respect to Intoxicating Liquor

OTTAWA, June 19.—John Barleycorn dies hard. After taking the count in the House of Commons, he has been given a new lease of life in the Senate. Which, being interpreted, means that the upper chamber of the Canadian Parliament this afternoon refused to make prohibition effective until the signing of peace and for 12 months thereafter.

By a vote of thirty-four to twenty-four the Senate decided that orders-in-council prohibiting the importation, manufacture and transportation of intoxicating liquor shall terminate upon the signing of peace.

This motion was taken upon an amendment introduced by Senator De Veber of Alberta, to strike out the words providing for an extension of the prohibition period for 12 months after termination of the war.

The Senate did not divide on party lines, many Government Senators helping to carry the amendment moved by Liberal Senator De Veber, and as the chairman declared the amendment carried, the Opposition Senator asked, "Will the Government resign?"

The decision of the Senate caused great excitement in the corridors, the news travelling like wildfire.

He was met at the G.T.R. station as he stepped off the train by Mayor and Mrs. Wilson and Aldermen Smith, Dekers, Kiefer Hill, Nash and McDowell and City Clerk Fay. They extended a welcome home on behalf of the municipality.

Several other citizens were also present including Major Ivan and Mrs. F. King, Mr. F. King, Mr. F. King, Mrs. W. Leonard, Mrs. R. A. Stinson, Mrs. W. Douglas, and others.

Dr. King accompanied his son over from Toronto. The General was brought up to the home at Church St. by the Mayor and Council.

ARRIVAL NOT GENERALLY KNOWN

Owing to the fact that it was Wednesday afternoon and few knew that the General was coming no large demonstration could be arranged but quite a large number got over never tired and gave him a greeting.

Of fine large stature and strong build the General looks every inch a soldier and an officer. He wears two distinguished service decorations on his breast won for splendid services during the war.

The Brig.-General left St. Catharines in 1914 as major in command of the 10th Field battery. He possessed unusual military talent and rose rapidly in rank until he won the coveted office of Brigadier General. He won the Distinguished Service Order decoration and was given a C.M.G.

Gen. King was accompanied on his return by his little girl.

DUTCH USE SEAWEED AS FOOD FOR CATTLE

Investigations of seaweed with reference to the possibility of using certain species as food for cattle have recently been carried on at the Royal Agricultural Station for the control of cattle food at Wageningen Holland. The general conclusion reached is that, in the absence of other roughages, seaweeds may be fed to cattle, when the sodium chloride has been sufficiently removed. In Ireland, Scotland and the Faroe Islands dried seaweed is used as a winter feed for cattle and horses. In southern Sweden it is fed to swine. In Germany, during the war, special instructions were issued concerning the gathering and preparation of seaweed for use as fodder. The weed was to be spread out so that the rain could wash out the sodium chloride; then dried and baled in a press.

Flynn Reports More Violence May be Seen Soon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Further bomb outrages are expected by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who says every precaution was being taken by police throughout the country to forestall the radicals.

All the recent bomb outrages have been connected, Mr. Flynn says, and were inspired by a purely domestic element, which virtually has been identified.

Mr. Flynn could not say when the next bomb outrages might be undertaken. Some officials of the department of justice, however, expect the next movement by the radicals to be made on Independence day.

DAYLIGHT SAVING MEETS ITS DOOM

Senate and House Vote to Terminate Operation of Law—Farmers Against It

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Doom of the daylight saving, inaugurated as a war measure, was pronounced by Congress, both senate and house adopting by overwhelming votes measures to terminate operations of the law when the period of summer time ends next October 26.

Members of both senate and house in advocating repeal of the law enacted March 19, last year, said they were guided largely by wishes of farmers and laboring men, who oppose the advanced working hours during the spring and summer season.

Opponents of the repeal legislation declared the extra hour of daylight was a boon to city dwellers, and asserted that others easily could adjust their affairs to conform to the advanced clock schedule.

Wallpapered Himself Up to Escape Draft

Young Farmer from Spooky Hollow Becomes a Hidden Jewell

TORONTO, June 19.—Inspector McClellan, of the Dominion Police, has had many queer stories to tell about young service dodgers, but the one he had to tell yesterday was a regular Jewell—a Leslie Jewell. When the inspector wrote "hills" to his narrative, Magistrate Cohen applauded by clapping on a fine of five hundred dollars and costs of one year.

Jewell is a husky young farmer from Spooky Hollow, Chateaufortville, Norfolk County, and aptly enough, Jewell had been described as a bear whose fat was cast before his father's swine. He had long been suspected of hiding from the order to report for duty, and successfully dodged his obligations until his home was searched from cellar to roof. The house has sixteen rooms and during the search the officers found a bedroom door tightly locked.

"You can't go in there," said someone, with a show of embarrassment. "A young lady is in bed."

"Then," answered the investigators, with Chesterfieldian politeness, "kindly ask the lady to put on her clothes and come out."

After waiting in a nearby room, the searchers began to think the fair one was either making an exceptionally beautiful coiffure, or putting on many more clothes than most young ladies wear. Wearing of waiting, the men knocked, jiggled the door knob, then shouted, "Heave ho, in she goes."

Instead of seeing things not intended for the eye of man, they found nothing but the furnishings of wood and crockery peculiar to a bedroom. They even looked under the bed, but saw there nothing but what might be expected. Then they tapped the walls, and at one point were rewarded by a hollow sound. For see, the scene was laid in Spooky Hollow. After more spookey tapping, they decided to tear off the wallpaper. Behind the wall covering they found an cupboard door, and inside the cupboard, which was very small, they discovered the missing Jewell, red, confused and perspiring.

Yesterday the hidden treasure appeared before Magistrate Cohen, pleaded guilty to a charge of disobeying an order to report for duty, and was promptly assessed five hundred dollars and costs, or one year at Barwash.

Nothing Known About the Huns

What They Propose to Do, Will Respect to Peace Treaty is a Matter of Speculation.

LONDON, June 19.—Nothing official has yet become known as to what action the German government will take with regard to the peace treaty. A Weimar document has been placed before the national assembly's peace commission and is being studied carefully.

Unofficial reports are that there is great dissatisfaction on the part of the members of the German cabinet and high German officials over what are considered the extremely hard terms asked of Germany. It is asserted that a large majority of the members of the cabinet are opposed to signing the treaty, but are fearful of a reign of Bolshevism and consequent chaos in the country should they decline to meet the wishes of the Allies.

German newspapers, commenting on the situation, take a dark view of the final outcome, whether German sign or not. Those who oppose signing fear their pessimism runs to the extent of expecting a resumption of hostilities on Monday on the part of the Allies if the armistice is permitted automatically to end.

While there is nowhere any indication that if circumstances compel the Allied troops to advance farther into Germany there necessarily will be fighting, the American, British and French troops will be prepared for an eventuality. It is supposed if a further invasion becomes necessary that troops will march into Germany in battle formation, in readiness for anything the Germans have to offer.

Fire Them All is Request of Veterans

ENTIRE FAMILY OFFER THEIR LIVES

PARIS, June 19.—Thirteen sons killed on the field of battle, three discharged with grave injuries, one is wounded four different times, the other and one daughter summarily shot by the Germans for going to Lille to celebrate the centennial anniversary of a relative, and another daughter killed by a German shell at Dunkirk, is the record of the family of M. M. Vanhee had thirty six children, twenty two sons and fourteen daughters, all of whom were living when the war broke out. One of his sons was shot by Pope Pius X. He returned to France to fight, and was wounded in each of four different engagements. One of the sons lost both legs, another returned from the front blind and deaf and another underwent the trepanning operation.

THREE YEARS IN PEN

TORONTO, June 19.—Despite the plea of his counsel, J. Walter Curry, K.C., for leniency, Judge Morson imposed a sentence of three years in the penitentiary on Nelson Steel Gotshall who had pleaded guilty to the theft of eleven thousand dollars from Grace Motors Limited, by whom he had been employed as manager for eleven months at a salary of one thousand dollars per month.

Mr. Greer, who described the prisoner as a man of more than average business ability, explained that he had become financially entangled, and misappropriated the books.

Mr. Curry asked for a term at the Jail Farm, but the county crown attorney urged that during the past year more than a score had been sent to the penitentiary for similar offences, and that no exception could be made in this case.

Use Airplane to Look For Ferry

LONDON, Ont., June 19.—An airplane search of Lake Erie's bottom for 25 miles off Rondeau, will be made in quest of the last Marquette and Bessemer car ferry, which disappeared while bound for Colneport to Port Stanley in a December gale in 1910.

Lieut. James Ringland of Toronto who has been in London for several days with his Curtiss airplane, has been engaged by the Steven Company to assist tugs that concern has had dragging the lake. He flew to Port Stanley today and made a lake reconnaissance which caused him to believe that in clear weather a flyer could look into the water to a considerable depth.

CIVILIAN CONTROL IS IN SUPPLEMENTARY TREATY

PARIS, June 19.—The omission of a provision for an allied Civilian Commission to control the administration on the left bank of the Rhine from the revised treaty, it is explained, was due to the fact that this is considered as a supplementary convention between Germany and the allied and associated powers. It was not necessary, therefore, to include it in the treaty.
