Kitchener's Men
Prove Their Mettle

The most interesting news of the week is the baptism of fire of a portion of Kitchener's Army. Major Cliveux, writing to the Matin, says these British volunteers made a historic entry into the firing line, winning the battle in which they were engaged. The Secretary of the Colonies says the situation between Armentieres and La Bassée was materially altered by the success at Neuve Chapelle, where the Fourth and the Indian Corps advanced three quarters of a mile on a four thousand yards front, and trenches and taking over 700 prisoners. In the counter-attacks the Germans were repulsed and more prisoners taken. General French speaks of the movement as a successful initiative and that the losses incurred by our men were not great. It is most pleasing and satisfactory intelligence to learn that Kitchener's new soldiers are living up to the reputation established by the highly trained and efficient soldiers of the First Expeditionary Army sent to France. They were in the Kaiser's eyes but a contemptible little army, which the Germans could and would walk over. But they soon showed that they were better man for man, battalion for battalion and brigade for brigade, than the soldiers of the Kaiser could put up against them. They were trained, organized and equipped as a result of the experience gained by Kitchener's officers in Egypt, Southern and South Africa, and they soon proved their mettle. They soon belied the anticipations of the German critics who avowed they would be unable to stand up before continental armies. The same military authorities said that Kitchener's hastily raised and quickly trained troops, which had been enlisted after the outbreak of the war would fall like chaff before the German armies. Kitchener however, bided his time. Kept on steadily training them, and refused to allow them to go to the front before he considered them ready, fully equipped and well supported with all supplies and service corps, and now we have before us an example of what can be done by a Kitchener corps. We may rest assured that this corps is but a sample of the rest of the Kitchener army and before many months have elapsed, it is by no means improbable that a far different complexion will be put on the face of the Western front. But the fighting will likely be heavy and heavy casualties must be expected.

A Conspicuous Success

We are asked by His Excellency the Governor to say that he learns that it is reported about town that the British Army has sustained a reverse in France and that he is aware of the facts. He desires, however, to say that he has no such information, nor does he believe that any such reverse has occurred. On the contrary he considers that the British army have won a conspicuous success at Neuve Chapelle and knows no reason for supposing that there has been any set-back whatever.

Boys Charged with Series of Thefts.

Detectives Byrne and Tobin arrested under warrant last night two boys named Hollett and Cox, belonging to the East End, aged 17 and 15 years, respectively, on suspicion of complicity with a number of thefts that occurred recently. Today they appeared before Judge Knight, charged with the following larcenies:—(1) 1 pair of rubbers, the property of B. Murray; (2) $4.00 from the office of Hynes & Co., Jan. 24th; (3) $5 from Hynes & Co. on Feb. 1st; (4) $7.50 from Hynes and Co. on Feb. 11th; (5) 75 cents and a quantity of tobacco and cigarettes from the office of Stabb & Co., on March 1st; (6) $20; and also 20 packages of cigarettes, property of T. J. Edens, on March 2nd; (7) quantity of lead pipe, the property of Percie Johnson, on Jan. 10th; and (8) an overcoat, revolver and glass cutter, owned by Jas. Crotty. Accused were only asked to plead to the first charge. They answered guilty and were remanded till Monday ending enquiry by the police.

Terra Nova Making Good Progress

Messrs. Bowring Bros., Ltd., have received a wireless message from Capt. Wm. Bartlett, etc., stating that the s.s. Terra Nova passed Cape Ray at seven o'clock this morning on her way to the Gulf. The Terra Nova made excellent progress since her previous report here and certainly "but it all over" the Viking, Erik and Diana, which ships were in her company up to yesterday morning. A wireless from the Viking was received last night. Then the steamer was 20 miles N.E. of Cape Race. The Terra Nova cleared from Bay Bulls, and therefore will not call at Channel.

LOSS OF THE BAYANO.
LONDON, To-day.
In a statement of the disaster, the Admiralty says:—On the 11th of March wreckage of the Bayano and bodies were discovered under circumstances which point to her having been sunk by an enemy torpedo. Eight officers and eighteen men were rescued. It is feared the remainder of the crew were lost. The captain of the Belfast steamer, Castle Reagh, reports passing on Thursday morning a quantity of wreckage and dead bodies floating with life belts. He attempted to search for possible survivors but was prevented by the appearance of an enemy submarine, which gave chase for twenty minutes. The Bayano was 3,500 tons, and was 416 feet long. The Belfast correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Bayano was torpedoed on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock off Corewall Point, Wigtownshire, Scotland, that nearly 200 lives were lost as the cruiser sank immediately. The vessel had a crew of about 216 men. Wigtownshire is the south-westernmost county of Scotland and lies in the North Channel which leads into the Irish Sea from the Atlantic. Eighteen survivors of the Bayano were rescued by the Belfast steamer, Balmerino. They were afloat on a raft. Another steamer picked up one of the Bayano's life boats which was adrift and also two of her rafts. The survivors landed at Ayr.

COTTON STEAMER SUNK.
GALVESTON, To-day.
The British steamer Indian City from Gveston for Havre has been sunk, according to a cablegram received here by her agents, with a cargo of cotton. The cablegram came from Liverpool.

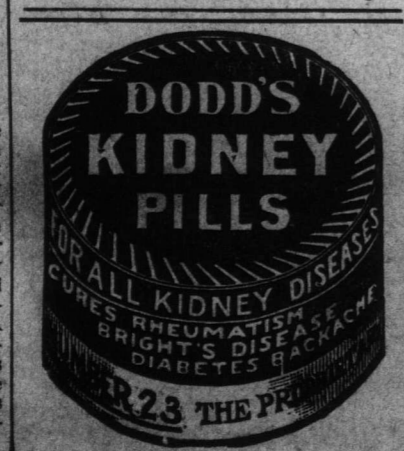

FRENCH STEAMER SUNK.
BUENOS AYRES, To-day.
The British steamer Churchill arrived at Pernambuco with a crew of 145 passengers from the French steamer Guadelope, sunk near the island of Fernando de Noronha in the South Atlantic by the German auxiliary cruiser, Kron Prinz William. The Guadelope is from Buenos Ayres for Bordeaux.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.
March 12.—Attack made by the British yesterday resulted in the capture of 2,500 metres of trenches in front of Neuve Chapelle and of the near-by villages. The British troops advanced in the direction of the front as far as Mill of Pierre and towards the south to the frontier of Dubiez Wood, that is a distance of about two kilometres beyond Neuve Chapelle. The German artillery fired but a few cannon shots. On the rest of the front there is nothing to add to yesterday's communiqué. The British conducted operations on several points of front. An English flotilla succeeded in bombarding Westende. On the Ypres section we have repulsed two attacks from the Germans. In the region of Neuve Chapelle the British Army repulsed counter attacks. The losses of the enemy was considerable. In Champagne we have last night made important progress west of Perthes les Hurius, in the Wood where we took footing five days ago.

THE GERMAN REVERSE.
LONDON, To-day.
An Express' despatch from the Belgian frontier says: Germans in Belgium admit of the seriousness of their reverse at the hands of the British in the region of Lebassee. The despatch to that district yesterday of additional infantry, just arrived from Germany, it is estimated amounts to three divisions and shows it is their intention to accept defeat without further sacrifices. More howitzers also have been sent to the front from the artillery park at Ghent, and the entire area from Knocke to Westende is full of infantry awaiting orders to attempt to overwhelm the Allies below the Great Dune by an avalanche of troops. The Germans are trying in every way possible to prevent details of the Lebassee reverse reaching Holland and through civilians, three of whom were shot last night at various frontier posts while trying to cross with messages. German fears of a landing of the enemy's troops north of Ostend is again apparent as they are massing several divisions around Bruges. It appears to be accepted as conclusive by the Germans that the Allies will invade Flanders between Knocke and Ostend, and some of their best troops are held in readiness to repel such a movement.

BEFORE EASTER.
PARIS, To-day.
Admiral Carden, commanding the British fleet operating against the Dardanelles, has expressed the opinion ion that the Allies will be able to hammer their way through the Straits before Easter, according to an Athens despatch to the Journal.

DRESDEN SINKS BARK.
VALPARAISO, To-day.
The crew of the British bark Conway Castle, sunk by the German cruiser Dresden off Correl, a seaport of Chili, on her way to Liverpool with a cargo of barley, was landed here yesterday by the Peruvian ship Larion. The sinking of the Conway Castle is the first exploit of the Dresden reported since the naval battle of Falkland Island, in which she took part.

600,000 BRITISH TROOPS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, To-day.
The two greatest armies ever gathered together in any war in the world's history is now facing each other in the western theatre of war. A steady stream of British troops has been pouring into France all the week and French reservists, who have been under training for the past three months, are now being moved to the front. It is estimated that there are 600,000 British soldiers upon French soil at the present time. The important task of holding the Germans back from the coast has fallen to the British, whose lines extend from a point north of Ypres in Belgium to Arras. This line forms a barrier through which the Germans would have to cut before they could reach Calais, Dunkirk or Boulogne. The British in the north are conducting a strong offensive movement, and it is evident that they hope to force the Germans to evacuate Lille by exerting vigorous pressure against the German line near Armentieres and Labasse. Activity is increasing in Belgium, east of Louvain, on the north sea coast the Belgians have driven the Germans from the field. A fierce artillery duel is in progress all along the line in Belgium. Near Middlekerke the Germans have placed several 42 centimetre guns, it is reported, in order to destroy the locks of the canal near Pallingbrug, so that the country in that region can be flooded.

BORN.

This morning to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Soper, a son, March 13th, 1915.

NOTABLE
RECORD.

One short year ago the name of MIANUS was unknown to more than 25 fishermen in Newfoundland. Since then hundreds of Mianus Oil Engines have been purchased by our fishermen, everyone of whom testify to their reliability, economy and guaranteed rated horse power.

To-day the one ambition of thousands of fishermen is to possess a Mianus Oil Engine.

The fishermen of Petty Harbor are as progressive and independent as any in the Island; and they are familiar with all makes of engines on this market.

In February of last year we sold the first Mianus in Petty Harbor, and before the close of the fishing season 23 Mianus Oil Engines had been purchased by the men of that Harbor.

For the coming Season we have orders for a large number for Spring delivery.

Here is what the Petty Harbor fishermen say of MIANUS:—

"We, the undersigned wish to say that we have used Mianus Kerosene Engines during the past Summer, and we found them to be far recommend them to fishermen wanting a this Harbor. They are good power and we car superior to any of the other makes used in reliable and economical Kerosene Engine."

Nearly all the leading Merchants supplied Mianus Oil Engines to their fishermen last year, which resulted to their mutual advantage.

If you intend purchasing an engine through a Merchant this year, insist on getting a Mianus Oil Engine, it will benefit him as well as you. Your Merchant may recommend another make of engine, but you know there is no other just as good as MIANUS.

The fisherman who buys an engine without first investigating the advantages of Mianus, must have money to burn.

The cost of operating some of the so-called Kerosene engines is so great that it amounts to what should be the profit on an average voyage.

The cost of operating a Mianus Oil Engine is so little, the poorest fisherman cannot afford to buy any other make.

Mianus Oil Engines are built specially to operate on low grade Kerosene, and are guaranteed to do so or your money back. That is the way we back up our claims.

Our travellers are thoroughly competent engine experts, and can undertake any installation from the smallest fishing boat to the largest Schooner, and their services are at your disposal.

Success to Our Hardy Sealers.

This morning the five steel ships, or better known locally as the "dreadnoughts" of our sealing fleet, sailed for the northern icefields in quest of the whitecoats. The names of the ships were the Floriel, Capt. Abram Kean; Nascope, Capt. George Barbour; Beothic, Capt. Wm. Winsor; Bellaventure, Capt. C. Cross; Adventure, Capt. Jacob Kean, and on board of each of which were 270 men, or an aggregate of 1,350 men, exclusive of the masters.
The hour of sailing, as permitted by law, is eight o'clock but long before this thousands of people, young and old, rich and poor, assembled at every vantage point along the waterfront to bid farewell to our hardy sealers who were embarking on their hazardous voyage to the frozen north. A regrettable feature was the prevalence of the thick fog which enveloped the port and which detracted much from the scene. A noticeable matter also was the absence of the footings of siren whistles and no bunting was displayed. In fact there was nothing whatever to indicate the departure of our hardy sealers, like the old custom beyond the cheering of crews and the waving of handkerchiefs from the shore.
Precisely as the clock struck eight the five ships started out through the harbour quietly in the order mentioned. The Telegram takes this occasion in extending to one and all God speed, a safe return and big trips of seals.
