NO PEACE WITH GERMANY. LONDON, To-day.

Premier Asquith stated in the Con ns vesterday in answer to a que tion that there was nothing in the recent statement made by Von Bethmann-Hollweg, German Imperial Chancellor, that indicated Germany Imperial was prepared to consider terms of peace which would safeguard the in-terests of the Entente Allies and the future peace of Europe. The Premier said he did not think he could usefully add anything to the speech made last week by Sir Edward Grey. Sir Arthur Markham's question was apparently designed to finally set at rest any suggestion that the Entente Allies were prepared to accept intervention. In putting the question ha referred to the fact in the German reply to the latest American Note, it was pointed out that Germany twice announced her readiness to make pe He then asked whether the Allies were prepared to avail themselves of the good offices of a neutral state in order to communicate to the German Government the definite terms on which they would be willing to make peace, provided the German Government was prepared to make it the same way and at the same time a communication to the Allies of the definite terms on which Germany was willing to make peace. The Premier's reply

CHURCHILL'S CRITICISM.

LONDON, To-day. Languages, by that term Churchill referred to the statement of King George to the nation issued on signing the Military Service Bill last week that no less than 5,041,000 men had been raised voluntarily. After careful examination Churchill said he had me to the conclusion there were 1, 700,000 of these men unaccounted for. He desired to know what had become of them. Believing this to be a fit subject for investigation, he suggested a small committee of members of the House be appointed to look into this matter and report at a secret session if necessary. Churchill criti-cized the army administration in sev-eral respects but defended Kitchener warmly. He complained that the supply of rifles was inadequate, with the result that the British were holding and fighting a smaller number of opposing troops than the resources of the nation would justify. Broadly speaking, he asserted, half the total strength of the British army was at home, for every six men taken for war service only one effective infantry rifle was placed over the parapet at

LOCATED ENEMY.

LONDON, To-day. The British invasion of German East Africa has been carried further into the interior. One of the Pritish columns is now confronted with a German army which has taken up strong defensive positions. The 'following mander, reports our column which was advancing down Banagni River has reached the south end of Egare my near Nikocheni, occupying strong trenched position on a narrow neck between the mountains and river.

KITCHENER WILL RECEIVE

Toward the end of this long debate in which a number of members cri-ticized the conduct of the war, Tennant replying to a suggestion that members of the Commons ought to have an opportunity for questioning Kitchener without conveying to the enemy, said Kitchener always was willing to receive any individual member or deputation of members to con vey to him suggestions for the effec-tive conduct of the war. He added the War Minister would be glad to see critics at the War Office on Friday where they would then have the right

The Italian War Office admits the evacuation of positions in Monte Pritand Puntacordin on Asiego Plateau. In the Lake region, south of Dvinsk, the Russian front is again the scene of heavy bombardments, probably the prelude to more infantry fighting. Farther south in the Volhynian front along the Bessarabian border there is increased activity by Teutons and Russians. Petrograd reports the capture of a Russian position on the region of Diarbekr, but says the Russians in a counter attack ejected the invaders. The Casements.

An Irishwoman who knew Sir Rog er Casement in his youth, has com nunicated to The Daily Mail these particulars of his family and of his character when a boy:

"The Casements were a very wellknown County Antrim family with several branches. The grandfather was Mr. Roger Casement, a land agent and well-to-do man of property. The whole family have always been Protestants, staunch members of Or-

Arms, the principal hotel of Ballythe building of a house without the permission of the Municipal Council.
