

The destruction of the house fly is a public duty. Almost every American State Board of Health is carrying on a crusade against him. His filthy origin and habits, and the fact that his body is generally laden with disease-producing germs, makes him one of the greatest enemies of the human race.

If the housekeepers of Canada will

HEATING AND SANITARY ENGINEERS DISCUSS ADVANCED METHODS OF THEIR VOCATION

They Talk of the Value of Legitimate Advertising; Mueller, of Illinois, Addresses Convention; Industrial Display Attracts Attention

FOLLOWING two days of inactivity, including a week-end trip to Banff, the delegates to the seventeenth annual convention of the Canadian Society of Domestic Heating and Sanitary Engineers assembled at the Arts building in Victoria park yesterday morning and began the serious work of the convention.

The reports of the committees on resolutions and credentials were returned and accepted without debate. President Walsh made a short address outlining the work ahead of the convention and a discussion of business affairs was commenced. The value of legitimate advertising was discussed at length and the value of a number of new mechanical innovations also considered.

Adolph Mueller, president of the H. Mueller Manufacturing company, of Decatur, Ill., addressed the delegates on the "Business Methods of Conducting a Sanitary and Heating Business."

Mr. Mueller's address was clean-cut and to the point and contained several pertinent suggestions. He explained in detail the business end of the industry, and impressed his hearers with his thorough knowledge of conditions.

The industrial display was the centre of attraction yesterday. Two floors were crowded with exhibits and there was a large delegation of demonstrators on hand to assist in explaining the intricacies of the different mechanisms.

Today there will be a number of athletic contests to be participated in by the delegates. There will also be a wild west show, including roping, broncho busting, and other contests distinct of western life.

President J. H. Kinney, of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating engineers will deliver an address at the Majestic theatre at five o'clock. His subject will be "Heating and Ventilation."

There will be a baseball game in the early evening and bowling later.

CURSING BRITISH GOVERNMENT, M.P. LEAVES HOUSE; SAYS HE WON'T SIT WHILE OTHERS STARVE

London, July 22.—Cursing the British government for its refusal to intervene in the dockworkers' strike, Jas. O'Grady walked out of the house today, swearing that he would not keep his seat among the lawbreakers while women and children starved to death.

O'Grady had been asking Premier Asquith what the administration proposed as a settlement of the strike situation and had received a reply that further efforts by the government were impossible.

"This is a damned scandal," he cried, tearing up his notes and scattering them broadcast with furious gestures. Before the speaker could call him to order he had left the chamber.

O'Grady is a Labor member for Leeds East since 1906. He was born in 1866 at Bristol and took up Socialism and municipal work in 1890. He lives at Clapham Common.

PREMIER BORDEN PLAYS S TO NATIONALISTS IN SPEECH AT BANQUET TO MINISTERS

London, July 22.—Five hundred people, including several of London's merchant princes, attended the banquet of the House of Commons to honor the Canadian minister, Mr. Borden, on his departure for Canada. The speaker of the house, Mr. Borden, delivered a speech in which he played S to the nationalists.

Two great races in Canada, the French and British, were working side by side in the task of developing the vast country. He would like to hear testimony—which perhaps was not necessary—to the fact that his Majesty had no more devoted subjects in the dominion than in this of French descent.

The two races were conscious of the responsibility and the greatness of the heritage imposed upon them in the dominions, and were endowed with a sense of unity and responsibility equal to the maintenance of the great empire.

Mr. Borden said he was keenly alive to the importance of the steamship line and cable communication.

Lord Emmott confessed that parliament was not as objective a machine as it had been in the past. He suggested they should have an imperial parliament devoted to imperial affairs and smaller parliaments devoted to local affairs. If they had an imperial parliament it would open the door to the co-operation of the dominions.

CITY ENGINEER CHIEF IS IN FAVOR OF JUDICIAL INQUIRY

Thinks Probe Witnesses Should be Put on Oath and Rebuttal Opportunities Given

Says He Will Sit Tight Until He is Forced to Relinquish His Office

A judicial investigation of the paving situation in Calgary is favored by City Engineer J. T. Child who believes that through that method the street of the city would be improved.

Alderman Minchin brought up the resolution providing for the change in administration, and H. E. Lambert asked permission to address the council. He urged that the question be laid over for two weeks to permit citizens interested in the parks to make up a case.

Mr. Minchin was restless and delay and was backed up by Alderman Minchin.

Solicitor Moffat pointed out that the board to the city commissioners. The resolution for the placing of parks affairs in the commissioners' hands will be taken up next session.

"So far as I can find out," declared Alderman Minchin, "the only member of the parks board that I have been able to find in existence is Mr. Marr."

The worst feature about this system is that the parks board is not a permanent body. It is a committee which is set aside for a year. The greatest evil is its attempt to construct boulevards, which is a work that should be done by local improvement.

While the superintendent is a first class man technically, I claim that he has no ability to look after those kind of things and to spend the people's money.

"If the parks board members are not active," suggested Solicitor Moffat, "why don't you dismiss them and put in some who are?"

STRENUOUS EFFORT TO BE MADE TO STOP BURNS-RICKARD BOUT

Big Deputation of Ministers Urge Saskatoon Council to Take Action

Council Sides with and Passes the Matter Up to Police Commissioners

Promoters Say Will Hold Fight Outside the City Limits if Necessary

Saskatoon, Sask., July 22.—A deputation one hundred strong, headed by ministers and composed largely of prominent church members in the city, came down on the city council tonight with a petition that some steps be taken to stop the Burns-Rickard bout.

The suggestion was made that a resolution be passed by the council against the bout, but it was pointed out that the council had no power to pass such a resolution; having, in fact, licensed the arena where the bout will be held for a year.

A resolution was then moved, with due consideration of the criminal code and its provisions, that the question of the boxing bout advertised to be held in this city in August be referred to the police commissioners to have it stopped if possible.

This was passed without a dissenting vote. Thus the council passes the matter over to the commissioners and the sheriff, but it is believed that there has been no violation thus far of the law permitting boxing exhibitions, and there is much speculation as to what steps will be taken.

The promoters claim they have in no way violated the law and that if the commission tries to stop the fight an arena will be at once built just outside the city limits.

For the deputation the Rev. W. C. Clark and the Rev. A. W. McIntosh argued that a bout for the heavy-weight championship of Canada was more than a boxing exhibition.

Early Closing Dies.

As forecasted in The Morning Albertan, the council took no action last night on the proposed early closing bill, following a report from City Solicitor D. S. Moffat to the effect that there were not the sufficient two-thirds signatures on the petition to carry the question to a vote of the people.

Solicitor Moffat said that the original petition for the submission of the bill was 230 signatures and was accompanied by an affidavit setting forth that it was believed that the bill would be passed by the council.

WE MUST HAVE AMPLE MARGIN OF STRENGTH INSTANTLY READY KEYNOTE OF WINSTON CHURCHILL'S SPEECH

Asquith compliments Canada. In the course of his speech Asquith, premier, referred to the visit of his Canadian colleagues.

"I believe that the co-operation which has already begun in council, will be continued in the future. I desire to make an acknowledgment to Mr. Borden and his colleagues, not only for the part which they have taken in the deliberations, but for the knowledge which they have made of our knowledge of the matter."

"Whatever the announcement of Mr. Borden may be," he said, "I am sure that it will be adequate to the dignity and patriotism of Canada and that we will all receive it with the utmost gratitude as an acknowledgment of the part which we have taken in the deliberations."

Referring to the Rt. Hon. R. B. Lord, prime minister of Canada, who was in the gallery, Mr. Churchill said that the effort of the Canadian ministers, but declared that no announcement of naval policy would be made until Mr. Borden and the other ministers who had been in conference with the admiralty, had returned to Ottawa and consulted their colleagues.

"It has been," he said, "a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only a source of comfort and encouragement during the last few weeks to have by our side the prime minister and other members of the empire on the part of the dominions, the duty of making such responses as appeal to be heard in the deliberations of the empire's policy, and such as this are not only
