GEN. NOGI HERO OF THE HOUR

Rushed Up the Port Arthur Veterans by Forced Marches, Hurled Them Upon Enemy's Right Flank.

St. Petersburg, Monday, March 6, :25 a.m.-The fate of Gen. Kuropatkin and his army hangs in the balance oday, depending on the result of the fighting almost in the outskirts of Mukden. According to latest reports this morning, the fighting went well 216 Dundas street, London, Ont. or the Russians, who beat back the vave that threatened to roll over Mukien as it had over the fortifications of ********* Port Arthur, but nothing is known as what is going on beyond the line of breakers — whether part of General Nogi's force is in full career for Tie or whether the Japanese have staked all in a cast against Mukden. The imminence of the peril of the west wing has withdrawn attention from the operations on the center and left, where the fighting has been extremely heavy, and on the left especially, where the Japanese gains are sufficiently great to cause apprehension to themselves. Military critics here point out facturers in the world. that the Japanese have put themselves in a critical position by the extreme extension of their lines, laying themselves, as they did at Liao Yang, open to the possibility of a most effective counter stroke, and probable defeat, if Jeneral Kuropatkin should be able to aunch a column against a weak link n the chain. In other respects the Coocoocoocoocoocoocoocoo situation also resembles that at Liao Yang, the Japanese making a costly 'demonstration" to hold the Russians in their fortifications on the center. and throwing away the lives of thousans in order to give the flanking force an opportunity to administer a telling blow. A feature of all accounts of the fighting reaching St. Petersburg is the mphasis laid on the awful carnage. There is reference after reference to dead piled high on the ground, over which an attack was delivered, strewing breastworks almost hiding abatis from sight, and even being used by the Japanese to construct hasty entrenchments. The Russian losses in both flanks are conceded to be enormous but it is claimed that the defenders of center suffered comparatively little by the Japanese bombardment and beating off the Japanese attack. The attacks delivered by General Nogi's soldiers were marvelous, in view of the forced marches which they made for six days. They entered the Canadian Head Parlors, 256 Yonge street, Toronto. J. H. Bailey, foreign those of them who were taken prisonthose of them who were taken prisoners dropped to the ground utterly exhausted and hardly able to speak. They had not eaten for two days, which accounts for their utter fatigue. General Kuropatkin's line of comnunications has not been touched, though it is in extreme jeopardy. His right flank is bent so sharply back that it may necessitate the abandon-

This lends ation has somewhat improved. The council was called to discuss the retirement of Tie Pass, but the action of the Japanese has made a successful retreat far more difficult than at Liao Yang, where but one flank was rolled back. A flood of dispatches came through Sunday, but they were mostly old referring to the fighing on the left flank and General Linevitch's losses, which have been already described.
