FEEDING MARKET TOPPING CATTLE

About the close of November George N. Runkle of McDonough county, Ill., was on the Chicago market with a string of cattle of his own feeding which made a great sales record. One bunch of thirty-seven head, averaging 1,527 pounds, brought $11 per 100 pounds, top price by 25 cents that day and the highest ever paid on the open market for branded cattle. Their gross price was nearly $168 per head.

The remainder of the shipment numbered eighty-six head, averaged 1,388 pounds and sold at $10.00, or within 15 cents per 100 pounds of the best price any other man's cattle made that day. Their gross price was a little Breeders and feeders of Galloway cattle declare they are early maturing, easy feeding animals, with plenty of vitality to stand crowding for market when the time comes. They are able rustlers, hardy of constitution and have a thick mossy coat that enables them to withstand sudden changes of weather. Without horns, they are gentle and easy to keep. Their feed is manufactured into the finest flavored beef, with a preponderance of the choice cuts. As a machine for manufacturing farm roughage into meat they have few equals and no superiors.

gy roads, a mighty big task indeed. During winter the cattle had all the shock corn and ear corn they would clean up, and from May on they were given all the ear corn they wanted. I do not take my cattle off the pasture in the winter nor early spring. They get used to the new grass as it springs up, and I believe this prevents them from scouring on new grass."

Quantity of Silage For a Cow.

A cow weighing 1,000 pounds will consume on an average about thirty pounds of corn silage daily. Fifteen pounds may be fed in the morning and fifteen pounds in the evening. The allowance may be increased or decreased in proportion to the cow's weight and individual needs. Some cows weighing a thousand pounds require more silage than others of the same weight. It is well to feed regularly, and it does not make much difference when the cows are fed provided they are fed regularly. As a rule, we believe it better to feed silage immediately after milking in the morning rather than before. If care is not exercised there is some danger of the silage tainting the milk when fed at the time of milking.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Selecting Feeder Steers.

While the butcher desires fineness of bone and high quality in all parts so that there shall be little waste on the block, it is not desirable to have this go to extremes. A steer with too much refinement, as indicated by a light bone and frail head and a small paunch, will not be able to stand the strain of heavy feeding and then finish out with the great weight that is desired. No one point is considered more important in selecting feeder steers than the width and straightness of the back, with the accompanying well sprung rib. It is an index to the feeding quality and points to the ability to put on meat in the expensive cuts.

Regularity

of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Salts and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping. Use Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Thunder In Various Regions.

Java is said to be the region of the globe where it thunders oftenest, having thunderstorms ninety-seven days in the year. After it are Sumatra, with eighty-six days; Hindustan, with fifty-six; Borneo, with fifty-four; the Gold Coast, with fifty-two; and Rio de Janeiro, with fifty-one. In Europe Italy occupies the first place, with thirty-eight days of thunder, while France and southern Russia have sixteen days. Great Britain and Switzerland have each seven days, and Norway has four. Thunder is rare in Cairo, being heard only three days in the year, and extremely rare in northern Turkestan and the polar regions.

Leibnitz and the Alchemists.

Leibnitz, one of the great men of literature, who died in 1716, wished to join a society of alchemists who were prosecuting a search for the philosopher's stone. He compiled a letter from the writings of the most celebrated alchemists and sent it to the society. The letter consisted of the most obscure terms he could find, and he himself, he said, did not understand a word of it. Afraid to be thought ignorant, the society invited him to its meetings and made him secretary.

A POWER OF ITS OWN.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has a subtle power of its own that other oils cannot pretend to, though there are many pretenders. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

better than $147 per head. Mr. Runkle's cattle were all steers, branded westerns, grade Shorthorns, and went on eastern shipping account—to Boston and New York. They were originally from New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming, having been raised on the ranges of those states.

The cattle were bought as feeders through a live stock commission firm at Denver late in January, 1912, at $6.15 to $6.55 per 100 pounds, freight paid to the river, averaging around 1,000 pounds. When they arrived at Mr. Runkle's feed lots, Feb. 1, they averaged about 900 pounds. The difference in weight at Denver and at the feed yards reflected the shrinkage en route from market to home.

"When I received the cattle at home," stated Mr. Runkle, "I put them on a good blue grass pasture and in addition fed them a little ear corn in order to get them used to eating grain. It must be remembered that these cattle were strictly range grass cattle—had never tasted either corn or hay while on the range. When snow covered the grass I fed them shock corn, continuing the ear corn, this constituting their ration until May 1. By that time new grass took the place of the shock corn. From then until time of marketing blue grass pasture and ear corn were their only flesh getting rations. They would have made bigger gains had they had cotseed cake, but in order to get it I would have had to haul it fifteen miles over mud-

HOW TO RESIST

Chronic Coughs and Colds.

Strong, vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; it's only when the system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your strength again?

Mrs. Olivia Parham, of East Durham, N. C., says: "I took Vinol for a chronic cough which had lasted two years, and the cough not only disappeared, but it built up my strength as well."

The reason Vinol is so efficacious in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood-building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run-down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say.
