Mr. E. O. EXCELL:

After a careful examination of thirteen (13) leading new Sunday-school Music Books, the committee of the M. E. Sunday-school has finally selected your "Gospel in Song" as the best. The special feature of combining songs suitable for Sunday-school, Prayer and Social Meetings (in which it certainly EXCELLS) gave it a sure victory.

Yours truly,

A. M. BROBST, CHORISTER,

M. E. Church, Knoxville, Iowa.

From the Elizabeth, Pa., Herald, August 27th, 1886:—"The Alleghany Quartette, of Pittsburgh, as usual, did the singing at the Bentleysville camp-meeting this year, and as usual, did it well. The book from which they sang chiefly was the new one just out called 'EXCELL'S ANTHEMS,' by E. O. Excell, of Chicago, the popular author, publisher and singer. It is a splendid collection, in our opinion excelling anything our musical friend has heretofore produced."
