

measure which involved not only a repeal of the act of 1829, but a revival of the whole penal code, and then upon that mighty substratum he built a superstructure of such microscopic dimensions as produced only ridicule and contempt. It may be well to say that the authority of Rome is a spiritual authority. I don't call that a spiritual authority which acts on the tender consciences of infant girls (loud cheers,) and the superstitious fears of the death-bed, for the purpose of robbing heirs and relations. (Loud and continued cheering.) Still less do I consider it to be an authority essential to the free exercise of religion to prohibit acts in themselves legal, or enjoin acts in themselves legal, or enjoin acts if not illegal, at all events in violation of the express and awful penalties which the Roman Catholic Church holds over and has power to exercise over the minds of those of its persuasion. I say, then, the majority upon that principle was not unimportant. But, I say further, that I consider it the duty of Parliament, and I trust I shall consider it my duty, while I do not press for a more extensive application of measures than those which the Government themselves have thought fit to institute, in the first instance to take care in Parliament, so far as I can, that that which the Government professes to check, we really shall give them the power to check. (Cheers.) I certainly shall not be satisfied if I do not see that that which the Government professes to make effectual shall be really and substantially effectual.—(Cheers.) I have said that I look with anxiety to the present state of this country. I look also with anxiety to the future; but the degree to which that anxiety may be removed depends upon you in your places in Parliament; it depends upon you in your respective neighbourhoods throughout this country; it depends upon the constituencies of this country, and in their hands, whenever a general election shall come—and all the signs of the times show that that election cannot be far distant—(hear, hear)—in their hands will be the destinies of this country for good or for evil for a length of time which it is impossible to predict. (Hear.) My belief is, that if the great constitutional party should prevail—if they should be strong enough to administer the affairs of the country by a steady maintenance of our institutions in Church and State, by maintaining the Protestant establishment, by maintaining the great branches of industry in this country, by watching to see in what direction relief may be safely and beneficially afforded to the interests struggling with difficulties not of their own creation, I believe that going steadfastly forward in the path of well-considered improvement, by offering steady, firm and determined opposition to revolutionary changes, by which it is now surrounded, and we may have the happiness and satisfaction of seeing, under a Conservative Administration, increased stability given to the throne, increased security to our Protestant establishments and national institutions, and increased happiness to all those various classes which, in the aggregate, form the different members of the great body politic, of this country. (Loud and prolonged cheering.)

ALTHOUGH this Society has mainly in view the intention of enabling members of the Church of England to contribute, by the payment of small periodical sums, towards either the endowment of a Church of England University, (in accordance with the recommendation of His Lordship the Bishop in his recent Pastoral Letter,) or the building and endowment of Churches, Parsonage Houses, and School Houses, in connexion with the Church of England—the Society nevertheless does not contemplate restricting its operations to those objects only. On the contrary, like other Building Societies, the advantages of the Church of England and Metropolitan Building Society will be fully open to all parties, without distinction, who may choose to take Stock therein, either for investment—the acquisition of freehold or leasehold estate—the removal of incumbrances or liabilities upon property—or the privilege of borrowing the amount of their shares in advance, upon furnishing approved mortgage security. VAYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA and CONSUMPTION. The uniform success which has attended the use of this preparation—its salutary effect—its power to relieve and cure affections of the Lungs, have gained for it a celebrity equalled by no other medicine. We offer it to the afflicted with entire confidence in its virtues, and the full belief that it will subdue and remove the severest attacks of disease upon the throat and Lungs. These results, as they become publicly known, very naturally attract the attention of medical men and philanthropists everywhere. What is their opinion of CHERRY PECTORAL may be seen in the following:— VALENTINE MOTT, M. D. Prof. Surgery Med. College, New York, says:—"It gives me pleasure to certify the value and efficacy of Ayer's CHERRY PECTORAL, which I consider peculiarly adapted to cure diseases of the Throat and Lungs."

THE RIGHT REV. LORD BISHOP FIELD writes in a letter to his friend, who was fast sinking under an affection of the Lungs:—"Try the CHERRY PECTORAL, if any medicine can give you relief, with the blessing of God that will." CHIEF JUSTICE EUSTIS, of Louisiana, writes "That a young daughter of his was cured of several severe attacks of Croup by the 'CHERRY PECTORAL'" Let the relieved sufferer speak for himself.— Hartford, Jan. 26, 1847. Dr. J. C. Ayer—Dear Sir,—Having been rescued from a painful and dangerous disease by your medicine, gratitude prompts me to send you this acknowledgment, not only in justice to you, but for the information of others in like affliction. A slight cold upon the lungs, neglected at first, became so severe that spitting of blood, a violent cough and profuse night sweats followed and fastened upon me. I became emaciated, could not sleep, was distressed by my cough, and a pain through my chest and in short had all the alarming symptoms of quick consumption. No medicine seemed at all to reach my case, until I providentially tried your CHERRY PECTORAL, which soon relieved and now has cured me. Yours with respect, E. A. STEWART, Albany, N.Y., April 17, 1848.

Dr. Ayer, Lowell—Dear Sir,—I have for years been afflicted with Asthma in the worst form; so that I have been obliged to sleep in my chair for a larger part of the time, being unable to breathe on my bed. I had tried a great many medicines, to no purpose, until my physician prescribed, as an experiment, your CHERRY PECTORAL. At first it appeared to make me worse, but in less than a week I began to experience the most gratifying relief from its use; and now, in four weeks, the disease is entirely removed. I can sleep on my bed with comfort, and enjoy a state of health which I had never expected to enjoy. GEORGE S. FARRANT, Sold by Lyman & Kneeshaw, Toronto; Hamilton and Kneeshaw, Hamilton; Wm. Lyman & Co., Montreal, Agents for the Canada. March 4th, 1851. 32-3m
