BUSINESS OF THE HOUSEWEEKLY STATEMENT

Hon. Herb Gray (Windsor West): Mr. Speaker, before the House moves back to the opposition day motion, I would like to ask the government House leader to give us a statement of the business that will be dealt with by the House when we come back.

Second, I would like to ask the government House leader if he and his colleagues would be willing to agree to have the House sit until four o'clock instead of three o'clock. We already have to sit a longer period of time to make up for the statements with respect to Remembrance Day. We have had some time taken up by the vote. In view of the co-operation we have extended in not asking for a second vote, I am wondering if we could have the indulgence of the House in that regard.

The reason I ask this is that there are a number of members who would like to express their views on the subject matter of the opposition day motion.

Hon. Doug Lewis (Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada): Mr. Speaker, if I could address the last item first. Yes, the government would be prepared to have the House sit until four o'clock today in order to allow for full debate on this matter.

I would like to advise the House that when we return on Monday, November 20, we will commence debate on Bill C-28. Further to the notice given on October 17 of this year, I give another notice, pursuant to Standing Order 57 that at the next sitting of the House, immediately before the reading of Orders of the Day for resuming debate on the motion of the Minister of Finance for second reading and reference to a legislative committee of Bill C-28, an Act to amend the Income Tax Act, the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements and Federal Post-Secondary Education and Health Contributions Act, the Old Age Security Act, the Public Utilities Income Tax Transfer Act, the War Veterans Allowance Act and a related Act, and any amendment thereto in any other Acts, I shall propose a motion that the debate thereon not be further adjourned.

Some Hon. Members: Shame!

Mr. Lewis: On Tuesday, November 21, we will continue debate on Bill C-43, the abortion legislation. We will also continue debate on Bill C-43 on Wednesday, November 22.
